

Guidelines for Grants through The S.C. Conference Board of Global Ministries

Belin Trust

The Belin Trust is administered through the CBGM. The purpose of the fund is to provide seed money for new missions or new programs within current missions in the South Carolina United Methodist Conference. Applicants must show how this is a mission of the church and describe the plan for future funding. Funds are to be given through the district superintendent when they are ready to be used. After notification of grant, funds must be requested and used within one year. Funds not requested and used within one year will be returned to the corpus of the Trust. Applications are considered at the CBGM meetings in the spring and fall. To be considered in spring, applications must be received by the previous Jan. 15. To be considered in fall, applications must be received by the previous July 15.

Hunger Funds

Hunger applications are being received and considered at the 2017 fall meeting of the CBGM.

Church Extension Partnership Funds
