FOY LARUE COOK

September 19, 1944 – November 11, 2009

F. LaRue Cook, the son of James Foy and Frances Motts Cook, was born in Pacolet Mills, S.C., September 19, 1944. He was born at home and the doctor did not think he would survive the night. He was placed in a box by the heater. The next morning when he was still alive the doctor told his parents to take him to the hospital where he stayed until his esophagus finished forming.

He began working with the Spartanburg Herald-Journal newspaper right out of high school. LaRue won the 1st place S.C. Associated Press Award in 1972 for Spot News Photography and 2nd place in 1974. In 1971 a photo taken by him of a cloud formation that looked like President Richard Nixon was signed by the President and sent back to LaRue with his best wishes. He photographed many notables including Rev. Billy Graham, President Richard Nixon, Jim Nabors, Joanne Woodward, Lash LaRue, Dr. Joyce Brothers, etc. His 14-year photo-journalist career ended when the Lord called him into service.

He graduated in 1976 from Spartanburg Methodist College, 1979 from Francis Marion College with a BS and 1982 from Candler School of Theology with a Masters of Divinity.

He began serving churches in 1977. His first appointment was Coward Charge followed by: Lebanon-Mt. Bethel; Folly Beach; Epting Memorial; Bethel (Iva); St. Andrews Parish; Red Bank; Zoar and Grover. Then God answered his prayers and sent him his help-mate, Sharon, in 2000. The two of them then lovingly served St. John (Sumter), Cherokee Place (Charleston) and Lebanon (Eastover).

He served in many capacities. He was a SC High School League Basketball official for 10 years. His denominational service included: Advocate Board of Trustees; District Committee of Ordained Ministry; District Committee on Superintendentcy; District Board of Church Location and Building; District Board of Congregational Development; Counseling Elder and Supervising Pastor; District Committee on Disaster and United Methodist Relief Center in Charleston.

He is survived by his wife (soul-mate) Sharon Houser Cook; son, Dustin Cook; daughters, Angie C. Warren and Christy C. Schools and step-son, Alex M. Weeks. He has five grandchildren. He is, also, survived by his mother, Frances Cook Seay and sister, Marlene C. Banks.

LaRue was buried in the cemetery at the last church he served (Lebanon-Eastover) with sand from Folly Beach. His favorite hymn was played during his service, "Drop Kick Me Jesus through the Goalposts of Life" thanks to his best friend, Reverend Kim Strong.

HERBERT V. L. FOGLE

August 22, 1949 – September 15, 2009

The Reverend Herbert Fogle was born on August 22, 1949 in Rowesville, South Carolina to the late Adolph and Julia Calloway Fogle. On September 15, 2009 he departed this life at his residence. He accepted Christ as his personal Savior and was a member of Prospect United Methodist Church. He was educated at Bethune - Bowman School in Bowman, SC, graduated from Claflin University in Orangeburg, SC with a Bachelor of Science Degree and received his Master's of Divinity from Gammon Theological Seminary (Interdenominational Theological Center) in Atlanta, GA. He was a faithful member of the Kappa Delta Sigma Chapter of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Incorporated.

Rev. Fogle's journey into ministry began at Prospect United Methodist Church in Rowesville, SC as a faithful member of the congregation called into ministry to serve God by preaching the word of God to all mankind and he continued to grow stronger as he itinerated throughout the South Carolina Conference. He served the following United Methodist Churches: Centenary-Silas from 1977-1978, Cheraw Parish from 1978 -1979, Joshua-Mt. Holly Charge from 1979-1991, Easley Chapel - John Wesley from 1991-1993, Lynchburg from 1993-1998, Mechanicsville from 1998-2007 and his last appointment was Bennettsville Circuit. In 1978 at the South Carolina Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church we were blessed to have Rev. Fogle be accepted and ordained as an Elder in Full Connection. Reverend Fogle provided 14 years of dedicated service at two appointments in Lee County. While serving these charges he served on numerous boards including First Steps Partnership Board, Santee Regional Council Governments, Wateree Mental Health Board and Lee County Red Cross Board. He also did volunteer work at Lee High School and was involved in many community activities in Lee County. Reverend Fogle also served faithfully on committees within the conference: Ethnic Local Church Concerns Committee, The African American Task Force, Church and Society Committee, Granville Hicks Leadership Academy and President of Black Methodist for Church Renewal.

Reverend Fogle was a people person. After church service, young children would come to him because they wanted to be in his presence. He also reached out to people in need. Several years ago, a teenager lost his mother and father within six months. Rev. Fogle got to know the youngster well and one morning at 4:30 am he received a call from the youngster's family member saying he was trying to commit suicide. Rev. Fogle rushed to his house and spent several hours with the youngster. It is unknown what he said to him, but we ended up going to a graduation instead of a funeral, all because of Rev. Fogle. His involvement did not stop there, the young man is presently enrolled in college and Rev. Fogle helped him financially.

At the time of his passing, he was serving in the Bennettsville/Cheraw Cooperative Ministry and was the pastor of three churches in the Bennettsville Circuit. Rev. Fogle has preached the word for 35 years.

Rev. Fogle was a man that spread joy through his smile, his laugh and his continuous zest for life. He dedicated his life to serving God and others. Whenever you met Rev. Fogle he always had an encouraging word to help you on your journey. He was a man of character and integrity that spread the Word of God everywhere he went and showed it in his actions. Rev. Fogle loved to dance before the Lord like David as we witnessed at our Annual South Carolina Conference. He danced along with the young people in their tie died t-shirts to bring glory and honor to God. The love he showed for people was evident in the way he talked to them and how he proceeded to do various tasks within the conference and among his fellow clergy members. We will always remember Rev. Fogle as a pastor that encouraged us to preach the love of God to our congregations and love them through everything. We will miss the sharp dressed man that always had a smile on his face. He carried his cross, ran the race and because of Jesus Christ he is a conqueror.

Those remaining to cherish his memories: Lenburg Fogle (Helen) of New York, Georgia Taylor (Larry) of Oklahoma, Lavern Lee of Bowman, SC, Washe Furman Fogle of Orangeburg, SC, Gloria Corley of Columbia, SC, and Stanley Fogle of Orangeburg, SC; one sister-in-law, Helen Fogle of Charlotte, NC; two special friends, Letha Mae Gaddy and Herbert Boykins; and a host of nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

"Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Matthew 11:28

March 5, 1943 – September 17, 2009

Billy Gene Osborne was born Thursday, March 5, 1943. He was the oldest of three children. His parents were Bill and Georgia Osborne of Fort Mill, South Carolina. Billy's father served in the Army during World War II and did not see his son until the age of two.

Billy was stricken with polio at the age of five. He was in an iron lung for months in Spartanburg, South Carolina. His parents were told that he would never walk again. By the grace of God and therapy, he overcame his physical disability. Billy was a fighter.

Billy graduated from Fort Mill High School. He went to barber school and became the owner of the Fort Mill Barber Shop.

In 1961 he met and fell in love with Jane Perry Rodgers of Indian Land. They married on June 23, 1963. Billy and Jane have two sons, Dennis of Chandler, Oklahoma and Roger of Charleston, South Carolina. There are two loving grandchildren, Hannah Joye and Stephen William of Oklahoma.

At the age of 30, Billy Gene Osborne answered his calling to the ministry. He was guided by the leadership, encouragement and support of his pastor the Rev. Gen F. Couch and his wife, Nina. Billy attended Wofford College while in his first appointment at Beaumont United Methodist Church in Spartanburg. With God calling, he was on his way to a four church charge in Mullins, South Carolina. He then attended Francis Marion College and Emory University in the summer.

He served all of his congregations fully, faithfully and was committed to preaching the Gospel. He loved those members and attended to all of their needs. Billy was a preacher but also a pastor and a minister. Jane, his wife and love of his life, was by his side and attended all church duties with him... sometimes hearing three or four sermons a Sunday.

Billy took a disability leave in 2005, although he had several medical problems, Billy still shared the gift of God's love and life.

As time passed, Billy was barely able to move about the house, he was taking photographs of nature and designing cards to send to people for their birthdays and illness,

Still gravely ill, he prayed that God would continue to use him. He wasn't sure why God was leaving him on earth, but continued to seek God's will for his life.

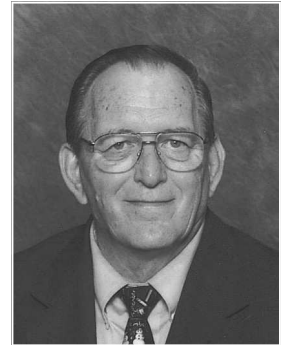

Two weeks before God called him, Billy had the privilege to do a recommitment service of a young man who drove three hours from the lower part of the state to have Billy reaffirm his baptism.

God called Billy to his heavenly home on September 17, 2009.

Services were conducted September 20, 2009 at Hopewell United Methodist Church in Lancaster, by Rev. Steve Patterson, Rev. Sara White and Rev. Scott Middleton. Burial was at Belair United Methodist Church in Indian Land.

Billy is missed by his wife, Jane of 46 years, his two sons, his daughter-in-law, his grandchildren and his many friends.

LEONARD PORTER ANDERSON, JR.

August 26, 1925 – September 28, 2009

Rev. L. Porter Anderson, Jr. passed away peacefully on Monday, September 28, 2009 from injuries sustained in a motor vehicle accident on September 22nd.

He was born on August 26th, 1925 in Wonsong, Korea to missionary parents, L. Porter Anderson, Sr. and Florrie Betts Anderson. The family moved to Rock Hill, SC when World War II was threatening in 1940. He finished Rock Hill High school in 1942 and attended Clemson College for one year.

He then enlisted in the U.S. Navy and served from 1943-1946. During his service, he was assigned positions in the Philippines and Japan and attained the rank of ensign. One of his proudest lifetime accomplishments and one he loved to reminisce about was how he and a fellow Navy friend hiked to the top of Mt. Fuji and back down - all in one day!

He received his B.A. from Duke University in 1948 and his Master of Divinity from Emory University/Candler School of Theology in 1952 and was ordained as a Methodist minister in 1953.

Married to the love of his life, Jean Madelin Campbell of Walterboro, SC on August 25, 1950, Rev. Anderson went on to serve many churches in South Carolina. These included Bethany, James Island;

Lexington; St. John's, Denny Terrace/Columbia; Belvedere; Triune, Greenville; Woodland, Rock Hill; and, finally, Bethel, Columbia.

He entered pastoral counseling training 1982-84 and worked at Trenholm Road UMC's Pastoral Counseling center from 1984-1990.

Porter and his beloved Jean enjoyed many years of world travel together and he served as chaplain on numerous cruises for Holland America through the years. They were able to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on a cruise and had 51 wonderful years together before Jean passed away in September 2001 after a long battle with cancer. He never got over her loss and missed her every day of the past 8 years. He moved from their home in Forest Acres/Columbia into Still Hopes Episcopal Retirement Center in October, 2005.

He was a past president and active member of the Forest Acres Rotary Club. He was also a 24-year volunteer at Harvest Hope Food Bank, a trustee for the Greenwood Methodist Home from 1977-82, a trustee for Spartanburg Methodist College from 1966-75 and served on many other committees and boards.

He loved his family very much and is survived by two grandchildren - Drew Rankin and Meredith Rankin. Drew is a senior at Clemson University and Meredith is a junior at Furman University. His daughter, Beth Anderson Bridges, is a nurse in Columbia, SC and his son, Porter Anderson, III is a consultant in Copenhagen, Denmark.

We remember fondly Dad's wonderful laugh and affinity for joke telling. He was a passionate campaigner for human rights and always saw the goodness in people. Everyone who met him loved him and he was the kindest, most compassionate person ever. We miss him terribly but we are so grateful to God that he didn't suffer and that he is now happy again with mother in Heaven

KENNETH WILSON BEDENBAUGH, SR.

October 19, 1917 – August 15, 2009

Kenneth was born in Lodge, SC. He was the son of the late Rev. William Thomas and Annie Rowell Bedenbaugh. Both his father and his step-father, the late Rev. Irving Frye, were United Methodist ministers. From them, he learned by precept and example how to be an exemplary United Methodist minister. He was educated at Brevard, Wofford, Duke, and Harvard. He and his wife, Susie, were the parents of four children: Suzanne, Sylvia, Kenneth Jr., and Sandra.

Much of his youth was spent on the South Carolina coast. He spent several years working for Capt. Oliver at Oliver's Lodge during the summer. During this time, Kenneth developed a great love for the coastal regions of South Carolina. Some of his children's fondest memories were trips to the beach to learn fishing and crabbing and a deep love for a place that was so dear to his heart.

When World War II became a reality, Kenneth joined the Army. He served as a Chaplain in Germany. Following the war, he, with his wife and two children, returned to Germany to serve during the Occupation. Upon receiving notice that his father was dying, he returned to South Carolina in time to visit with him before he died. His father said to him, "I have been waiting for you, Son."

Following his father's death, Kenneth began his ministerial career in South Carolina. He and his family were loved by every congregation they served and it was a united family service. Every church and congregation became stronger while he was there. He was loved and respected everywhere he served.

After retiring from the ministry and from the Army Reserves as a full Colonel, he and his wife settled in the community of Shiloh where they lived until Hugo came through and destroyed everything they had. After much soul searching, they decided not to rebuild. Instead, they moved to the Blue Ridge area in upstate SC to live near their daughter, Sylvia, and her husband Bailey Hendley. He and his wife became active members of Few's Chapel UMC. He was called the "Bishop," and the love and respect he felt there was a source of joy during his declining years.

He loved to travel, and with his daughter and her family, he and his wife toured the West and Alaska, every summer picking a new place to explore. He had a love for all things Duke and particularly Duke Basketball. "March Madness" brought him much happiness and consternation as he watched Duke Basketball. One of the highlights of his life was a 45 minute conversation with Coach "K" about everything Duke—from basketball to the history of the university.

Before his retirement, he had performed wedding ceremonies for his children and had baptized his grandchildren. After his retirement, he performed weddings for his grandchildren and baptized his great-grandchildren. He held those babies with such reverence and awe! The last baptism two months before his death was for his namesake, Ian Kenneth Bowser. To watch him and his grandson-in-law walk down the aisle at Francis Asbury UMC to present Ian Kenneth to the congregation will be a lasting, joyous memory for all who were fortunate enough to be a part of his last official act as a United Methodist minister.

Kenneth left behind a legacy of profound faith. He left behind innumerable lives that he touched with his wisdom and spirituality. He left behind a house that bears his name, "Bedenbaugh's House." This name was given to the Hendley home where he spent his last years by a three year-old great-grandson who adored him. He left behind a family blessed by his presence and his love.

WALLA BROWN, JR.

August 10, 1946 – November 27, 2009

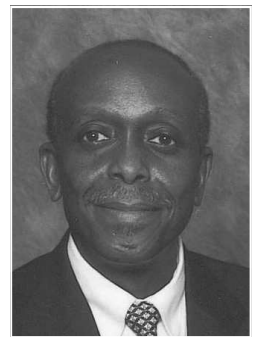

The Reverend Walla Brown, Jr., a son of the late Walla Brown, Sr. and the late Christana Wilson Brown, was born on August 10, 1946 in Williamsburg County, South Carolina. He departed this earthly life on Friday, November 27, 2009 after an extended illness. Walla was a member of St. John United Methodist Church, where he served in many capacities including Minister of Music.

Walter, as he was affectionally called by his mother and sisters, received his formal education in Florence County School District #3. He was a 1964 graduate of Carver High School, Lake City, South Carolina. Upon graduating from Carver, Walter furthered his education at Allen University in Columbia, South Carolina where he majored in music.

After leaving Allen University, Walla was faced with the task of tending to the family farm land. For many years Walla juggled family, farm and work. As Walla and Lois started their family of two, Kelvin and Yvette, he was also farming and working as a supervisor for many years at A.B. Dick, Lake City, SC, AVX Corporation, Myrtle Beach, SC, then later at Coleman Company, Lake City, SC.

In 1999, Reverend Brown's life was beginning to blossom as he was called into the ministry. While working on his theological studies at Duke Divinity School in Durham, North Carolina, he became the pastor of two churches on the Hartsville District, Kelly Bell and Sandy Bluff. After two years, he became a full time pastor and was appointed to the St. Stephen Parish (Jehovah, Sumter Chapel and Zion). In 2007, while serving New Light United Methodist Church (a merger of Sumter Chapel and Zion in 2005) and after being diagnosed with Alzheimer's, "Rev" moved back home and began worshipping at his home church, St. John, where he assisted the incoming pastor faithfully until his health declined.

Those left to cherish fond memories are: his loving and devoted wife of forty-one years, Deloris Rhinehart Brown, a son, Kelvin G. Brown, a daughter, Yvette (Chauncey) Brown-Alford; a daughter, Patty G. (Dale) Plowden; and a grandson that he reared as his own; Kelvin Antwon Brown; a mother-in-law, Ms. Eliza Rhinehart; five sisters: Lula Brown, Louvenia Brown, Catherine Dukes, Eliza Spurling, and Marie (Elias) Lee; four sisters-in-law: Ella Brown, Patricia A. Jackson, Beverly Elam and Georgia R. Rhinehart; an additional brother-in-law: James (Mollie) Rhinehart; additional grandchildren: Keyanna A. Brown, Binkquetta N. Brown, Kelvin R. Brown, Zirriah K. Brown, Brittany P. Graham and Dalisha M. Plowden; two aunts: Lillian Wilson and Luella Wilson.

He was preceded in death by a brother, Marion Brown, a sister, Drucilla DuRant and a nephew, Dwayne Black. Walla loved singing and ministering through music. He showed his love by directing various choirs, at his home church as well as area churches. He will always be known for the Male Chorus that he established at St. John.

MELVIN EDWARD CALVERT
April 2, 1928 – December 12, 2009

Melvin was the first of four children born to his parents Fannie and Sid Calvert at Inman South Carolina. Two brothers preceded him in death; his sister, Margie C. Knighton lives in Augusta, Georgia. Survivors also include a daughter Jean Calvert of Greenville, SC, a son Robert (Bob) and a daughter Lynn Halpin, both of Easley, SC.

In 1950 he was called into active duty in the US Army where he served with the Army Corps of Engineers. He was wounded in battle in Korea. He was discharged as a Sergeant at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

In 1952 Melvin returned home to Inman and enrolled in college. He worked in the textile mill on the 3-11 pm shift while attending college, training to become an Industrial Engineer.

From 1956 to 1968 he worked as an industrial engineer for Milliken, Burlington Industries, Reeves Brothers, and J.P. Stevens Co. During those years, he taught Sunday School in the churches he attended...all the while, according to his own testimony, feeling the need to follow God's call into the ministry. The final tug that brought him into the ministry were the sermons of Martin Luther King, Jr., sermons that Melvin listened to on the radio as he drove from one work site to another.

Melvin's record of service includes Brandon, Sandy Springs, Spartanburg-St. Luke, Columbia - Green Street, Greenville-St. Paul, church of the Good Shepherd, Trinity, Wayne-Oak Grove and Greeleyville charges.

After retirement, Melvin and his wife Floride, who, in 1935, was his first-grade classmate, settled in their beloved area of Inman.

According to Melvin, his most coveted single professional experience was his involvement, in 1988, by invitation to lead the Aldersgate United Methodist Church, at Inman Mills, his home, throughout a week-long series of services celebrating the 250th anniversary of Wesley's Aldersgate experience.

WILLIAM DELANO COOPER
June 7, 1949 – October 8, 2009

Billy was born June 7, 1949, son of D. N. Holt, Jr. (stepfather) and Arrie Hughes Holt. In 1973 he married Brenda Stewart of North Charleston. He is survived by his son, William Benjamin (Benji) of Hanahan, his mother, two brothers, and two sisters.

Billy's parenthood was shared by his grandparents, Isaac and Daisy Hughes, of Charleston Heights, where he was spoiled by his three aunts, who were more like sisters.

One of his aunts married Reverend James Chadwick Davis. When Billy was seven years old and Faye and Chad were courting, Billy asked his soon to be Uncle Chad if it was "against the rules to drive a nail through a frog." Chad's answer was: "I don't think the frog would like it very much." This was an early indication of Billy's desire to know what God's rules were.

His friend in ministry, Rev. Terry Martin, relates that when they roomed together in seminary, one of his fond memories was to come into the kitchen area amidst the smell of bacon cooking. Billy would be sitting on the sofa smoking his pipe, drinking coffee, looking out the window embracing a new day, listening to a country music radio station he had discovered. The hit song of one day was, "You light up my life." They had conversations about Christ being the one who lit up their lives. Terry further adds: "I have never known a more dedicated minister nor a more faithful pastor than Billy Cooper."

Another friend in ministry and also a roommate in seminary was Rev. James R. Davis. James told of how Billy accepted and loved people. He had a deep concern for the souls of humanity. There are many examples of how Billy assisted those in need, both spiritually and physically. He had a unique sense about people whereby he could feel their hurt and pain and share with them. James tells of how at one time Billy knew he was down and needed spiritual guidance. Billy encouraged Jim to attend a week with him at Mepkin Abbey with the monks, studying scripture in that beautiful setting on the Cooper River. One moment they would be laughing, one moment crying, but James left that place a changed person. James also remembers times when, for lack of money, they were invited to spend vacation time with Billy and Brenda.

Billy was active in the Rotary and Lions Clubs, Hospice, and served as chaplain for the police departments in Hampton and Andrews carrying out his commitment to people through these organizations.

He had a vibrant sense of humor. When very young he frightened his mother nearly to death with a plastic snake. Others testify to his sense of humor throughout his life.

Billy truly loved the Methodist church, and especially enjoyed going to camp meetings and meetings at Lake Junaluska with youth groups.

Throughout his life, Billy enjoyed time at Bonneau on the lake. At one time, he owned a home there.

The final word is from his son, Benji, who said: "He had an uncanny knack for listening as I felt the need to tell him everything that was happening in my day to day life. These qualities, among others, will stay with me in the years to come as I grow older and keep him within my heart and thoughts throughout the coming years."

THOMAS NEAL CROUCH
May 27, 1931 - July 8, 2009

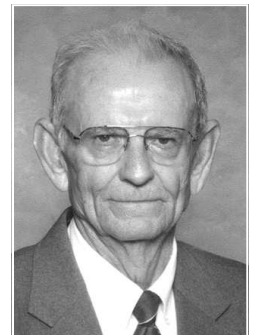

Thomas Neal Crouch was born in Saluda County, SC to the late Mark Kirksey Crouch and Jo Ruth Crouch. He was educated in Saluda County Schools before marrying Dorothy L. Jones. Thomas and Dorothy were the parents of one child who died at age 13.

Prior to answering the call to the gospel ministry, Thomas worked in textiles and as a carpenter while serving in his local church, Gassaway UMC. After his call Thomas continued his education at Florence-Darlington Tech and completed a five-year course of study at Duke University.

Reverend Crouch served churches in the following areas: Mt. Vernon, Kingstree, Lamar Circuit, McBee and Cheraw before retiring in 1999.

During his retirement he enjoyed working in his home church, Gassaway UMC, in various capacities while often serving as a supply pastor in numerous local churches. He also took pleasure in working on small carpentry projects for friends and neighbors. Thomas was a man of good character and will be missed by many.

His wife, Dorothy J. Crouch, survives him.

ROBERT C. "BOB" FAULKNER
October 9, 1929 – August 13, 2009

NATHAN ALFRED MCCLENNON

March 12, 1925 – December 10, 2009

Reverend Nathan Alfred McClennon: A Priceless Treasure

I have been privileged with knowing Nathan Alfred McClennon from the day I was born. What an honor it is now to once again share reflections of his life.

His childhood days were spent in St. Stephen along with his parents and six siblings. Being the oldest child, he faced the challenges of setting an example-being a positive role model. This challenge he accepted well and it became the anthem of his life.

He received his education in the public schools of St. Stephen. He then continued his education at Morris College Extension, Sumter, SC; Gammon Theological Seminary, Atlanta, GA; and Duke University, Durham, NC.

In 1946, he married Ethel Lee Warren of Saint Stephen, SC. During their marriage, they were blessed with six children-three sons and three daughters- each of whom are all successful Christian adults. His wife preceded him in death after over 40 years of blissful marriage.

He was called into the ministry in 1948 and served as a local preacher while also working at Westvaco in Charleston, SC. He was assigned his first church, Saint Paul United Methodist in Saint Stephen, SC in 1955.

Then, in 1962 he received his first appointment from the South Carolina Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church to serve as pastor of the Brookgreen Charge in Murrells Inlet, SC. These churches were Brown Chapel, Heaven Gate and Saint James United Methodist. For eleven years, he faithfully conducted worship services both morning and evening in order to accommodate the work schedule of his parishioners.

He was appointed to serve as pastor of the Walterboro Charge in Walterboro, SC in June of 1973 at Wesley, Cumberland and Isaiah United Methodist churches. He built up these congregations both physically and spiritually by putting first their needs over any of his personal gains.

In December 1988, he married Carrie Coulter of Orangeburg. They retired together from Walterboro. Even after his retirement from the ministry, he never failed to answer the call of his life's work. He volunteered as a driver for the South Carolina Department of Social Services from 1995 to 1999 transporting patients to medical appointments while also ministering to their spiritual needs.

Although he retired from pastoring, he continued to serve wherever he was needed. He ministered to congregations in Allendale, SC; Mount Pleasant, SC; John's Island; Ladson, SC; Sumter, SC; Nesmith, SC and his home church in Saint Stephen just to name a few.

Personally speaking on behalf of my sisters and brothers, we were truly blessed to have Nathan Alfred McClennon as our father. He shaped our lives and made us the strong, independent adults we are today. He loved his children and grandchildren deeply. And we love him more than words could ever express.

I was blessed with the privilege of being there for my father both day and night during the progression of his illness. We grew closer and had the opportunity to share memories of our family's past as well as his hope for us in the future. Priceless: I would not exchange those moments for anything in this world.

The lessons taught from our parents through daily living have given us a legacy that we will treasure forever. His guidance was the substance that gives a family strength for generations to come. He spent his life being there for others -- always willing to lend a helping hand to anyone in need. His family was happy to share him. When you have someone this wonderful, it would have been selfish to keep him all to ourselves.

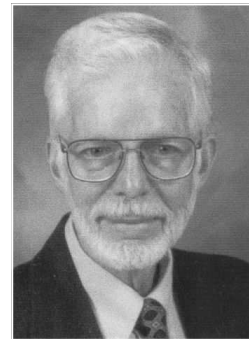

We love you Daddy and were blessed to have you as our father and as our hero. Thank you for the love, encouragement, support and for just being YOU!

HARRIS HARTWELL PARKER, JR.

October 12, 1925 – January 27, 2010

Harris Hartwell Parker, Jr. was born October 12, 1925 in Florence, South Carolina to Harris Hartwell and Martha Elizabeth Thomas Parker. He married Susan Culclasure on June 12, 1958. Martha Susanne Parker (deceased) was born in 1966 and Harris Hartwell Parker, III in 1971. Harris died January 27, 2010 with family and friends at his side.

He received a Bachelor of Divinity from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary (1950) after graduating from Wofford College. His life's plan was to become a minister so he accepted a position as assistant to the pastor of a Baptist Church in Mobile, Alabama. Harris taught in an extension program of an Alabama college. It was there he discovered that he loved to learn and he loved to teach which passions led him to Candler School of Theology at Emory University for a Masters Degree in theology. He received his Doctorate of Education Degree from Columbia University in New York in 1962.

Harris started teaching in the Religion Department at Columbia College in 1952. He said about Columbia College students "....being with them is the major benefit of my teaching. I look forward to every class...."

For over fifty years Harris taught courses in biblical interpretation, Christian ethics, Christian education, world religions and death studies. He developed the Center for Contractual Studies, serving as Director (1975-1989).

Harris, as the R. Wright Spears Professor of Religion, was twice named the "Outstanding Faculty Member". He was the recipient of the Columbia College Medallion, its highest award, the Omicron Delta Faculty Member of the year and the Francis Asbury Award.

Harris once served part time as associate minister of Washington Street Methodist Church and as Christian Education consultant at College Place United Methodist Church. Throughout his life he taught Sunday school, preached, led workshops and seminars.

From 1992-1996 Harris chaired the Board of Church and Society of the South Carolina Conference of the United Methodist Church. When the 1866 (African American) Conference and the 1785 (white) conference met to approve the merger of the two conferences, Harris wrote "A Prayer for Union" which was read by Eben Taylor at the close of the conference in 1972. It was published on the cover of the South Carolina Methodist Advocate on February 3, 1972.

Harris served as statewide chair of Alston Wilkes Society and played a visible role in the 1960's civil rights movement. He was involved in his children's schools in leadership roles as well as community boards and professional organizations.

Harris authored two books and a manuscript which convey his faith, values, commitments, caring spirit for all persons, and desire to be a peacemaker.

Daily Reflection on Life, Death and Destiny is a devotional book dedicated to his family and is for religious "seekers" searching for meaning and purpose in life.

The Ravanel of Barbados: A Journey is a historical novel dedicated to his students and is a testament of how one person's brave actions can begin to turn the wheels of change.

"Cradle Markings: Growing Up in the Pre-Civil Rights South 1925-1952" is a compilation of autobiographical essays that describe the environment and experiences "....from which we derive our purpose and sense of life's meaning."

Harris Hartwell Parker, Jr. planned his celebration of life service and Micah 6:8 was one of the scriptures that set the tone of the service:

"....and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy and to walk humbly with God?"

JAMES HERNDON SHEPHERD

May 14, 1915 – January 9, 2010

The Reverend James Herndon Shepherd was born May 14, 1915 in Inman, Virginia to the late John and Mollie Meadows Shepherd. Rev Shepherd passed away January 9, 2010. He was 94 years old. He was married to Alma Combs for 70 years. They have five children, Freddie of Patrick, SC, Edward of Wrens, GA, Gerald of Hartsville, SC, Joyce Miles of Pageland, SC, and Elaine Smith of Spartanburg, SC. He accepted God's call into the ministry in 1947. The Shepherd's first appointment was in the Holston Conference of Virginia and consisted of ten churches. This was an overwhelming assignment for this young couple; however with God's amazing love, their faith, commitment and perseverance they accepted the challenge.

In 1954 the Shepherds moved to Wagner, SC. Rev. Shepherd served in Trio, Norway, Bethlehem/Hartsville, Pageland-Zion-Zoar/Pageland, Pleasant Grove-Mt Olivet/Cheraw, Beaumont/Spartanburg, Kelton/Jonesville, Bogansville/Union – all in South Carolina.

Rev. Shepherd's passion was his ministry. He was dedicated to serving the Lord and preaching Jesus Christ. The dedication to his calling is evidenced when church members weren't present in their pews on Sunday morning. The next morning found Rev. Shepherd in contact with those church members. Rev. Shepherd's biggest regret in his service as minister was the lack of means to support his family financially and the unnecessary neglect of his family which came with the ministry.

In 1980 Herndon and Alma retired to Orangeburg County, SC. Fishing was a great love of His. Planting a vegetable garden and growing the most beautiful flowers was also a passion. He loved to cook and some say his food was better than trained chefs. With failing health they moved to Pageland to be close to three of their children. He still was asked to preach on occasion. His church attendance eventually became impossible due to macular degeneration and loss of hearing. For as much as he could, he spent time reading his Bible and the Methodist literature. At bedtime he would recite the words of his favorite hymn "Great is Thy Faithfulness."

Rev. Shepherd discovered characteristics of true greatness: 1) To seek God's approval rather than the approval of people. 2) commitment to one's vocation. 3) A straightforward insistence on Truth and Integrity. Rev. Shepherd knew a secret that all of us need to take more seriously. He knew that having God's approval comes not so much as the result of human effort or merit but mainly as a gift from God's grace.

Those of us who knew Rev. Shepherd would agree—he was a prince of a man, the kind of man this world needs more of.

In the last few years Rev. Shepherd felt he was in the way, he couldn't hear, he couldn't see, he felt helpless. In his prayers he would pray that he was anxiously waiting for the Lord to take him in His Arms. January 9th the Lord answered his prayers.

September 14, 1932 – February 20, 2010

We sing in our hymn book, "I want to be like Jesus, in my heart." Dorothy Wilson Knight lived those words in her life as she stood beside her husband, Rev. Norman Lee Knight, during their thirty year ministry. She served as his personal secretary.

After Jesus came her family. She loved her husband, her children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren with a love that knew no end. She had to be sure that if there was anything in their lives to make them easier, she and Norman would see that it was done. They gave of their love and resources with no limits.

Among her many talents, she loved crocheting. She made many afghans for her family and friends that gave her great pleasure in giving.

If you were to say, "I want to walk where Jesus walked;" you could have walked beside Dot and you would have been very close.

She was raised in Orangeburg by wonderful Christian parents with a sister and three brothers. This gave her the foundation for the faith that undergirded her life; a faith that never wavered through the good and bad times that life brought. ELEANOR "ELLIE" LITTS
September 12, 1931 – June 5, 2009

*He has shown you, O man what is good: And what does the Lord require of you but to do justly,
To love Mercy, And to walk humbly with your God? Micah 6:8*

This is the life verse of my mother. The life she lived characterized these requirements given to all of us through His word in the Book of Micah. Servitude and humility are lessons we can learn from Ellie. She was always about the Lord's business and was focused on things above and not on things of this earth. God used Ellie as a voice to protect the unborn, prison ministries, Meals on Wheels, Foster Care, and the list just keeps going.

Ellie was married for over fifty years to the late Reverend Raymond Litts and they had the privilege of serving our Lord at Kings Chapel UMC (Ware Shoals), Sharon UMC (Joanna), and Hopewell UMC (Kinards). She was the mother of seven children. Louise Murray, Roberta Mayer, Hollis Litts, Raymond Litts, Marjorie Pines, Mark Litts, and Matthew Litts. She was also blessed with seven grandsons and one granddaughter.

Unconditional love is what Ellie had for God, her family and her fellow man. That doctrine that she installed in everyone who was fortunate to know her, is truly a blessing indeed. I am grateful for the examples we have from Ellie's life to aid each of us on our own journeys of serving, honoring and glorifying God.

RUBY SEIGLER McCLELLAN
April 3, 1917 - October 19, 2009

My mother, Ruby Seigler McClellan was born April 3, 1917, in Round O, South Carolina. She was a twin daughter of John B. and Viola Beech Seigler. Her twin sister, Ruth, died at the age of two years old. My mother grew up in a loving home with eight brothers and sisters. At the young age of 16 she met and married my father the late Rev. James O. McClellan, Jr. of McClellanville, SC. They had 70 wonderful years together and were as much in love after 70 years as they were when they were first married. They were inseparable.

The Lord blessed their marriage with five children: James O. McClellan, III, Wilhelmina McClellan Couch, Ann McClellan Gilliam, John S. McClellan, and Susan McClellan Kobrovsky. Momma and Daddy taught us to love the Lord and we were always in church on Sundays. Our parents both taught Sunday school classes.

In 1967 they moved to Walterboro, South Carolina. My father entered the ministry and my mother worked in the business office at Colleton County Hospital. When my father retired they moved back to McClellanville to be near their children. Mamma loved her family, working in her flower garden and crocheting.

On October 19, 2009, at the age of 92, my mother passed away peacefully at home surrounded by her children. We'll all miss her very much but our sadness is made easier knowing that she and my father are together again with our Lord.

She is survived by her children and one honorary daughter, 12 grandchildren, 17 great grandchildren, and 4 great great grandchildren.

ANNE PAULINE HINTON NEWMAN
November 5, 1918 – September 17, 2009

Born in Covington, GA, Anne Pauline Hinton Newman was the daughter of the late Oscar Cornelius Hinton, Sr. and Sarah Elizabeth Hay Hendricks Hinton. She was the second of four children. She was a descendant of four signers of the Declaration of Independence, three framers of the U.S. Constitution, the fifth President of the United States (James Monroe) and she is a descendant of Martha Parke Custis Washington, the wife of the first President of the United States. She was most proud of her descent from James Mitchell (a founder of the Brown Fellowship Society, Charleston, SC (1790) and Thomas Isaiah Bonneau, an early member of the Society and teacher at the Bonneau School for the free Colored Elite. She was the second of four children. She attended Washington Street Elementary School, Covington, GA, and Booker T. Washington High School, Atlanta, GA.

She was united in marriage to the late Senator Isaiah DeQuincey Newman on April 27, 1937, a union which lasted until his death on October 21, 1985. She matriculated and graduated from Claflin University, Orangeburg, SC on August 4, 1948, and continued post graduate studies at Claflin, SC State College and Columbia University. She attained a Masters degree in Early Childhood Development.

Mrs. Newman taught school in Walterboro, Orangeburg (the Felton Preparatory School), Charleston and Spartanburg while accompanying her husband in his stellar career as a minister in the United Methodist Church. Upon moving to Columbia in 1959, Mrs. Newman became the secretary of the South Carolina Branches of the NAACP during the turbulent decade of the 1960's. Mrs. Newman received death threats on a nightly basis.

Caucasian in appearance, she infiltrated the local Republican Party to aid in her husband's "research". She brought the lawsuit "Newman vs Piggie Park Enterprises (1968)" which was argued before the United States Supreme Court, establishing precedent which played a significant role in the development of the law on the award of attorney fees to the prevailing party in civil rights cases. It further strengthened the reach and force the 1964 Equal Rights Act's Public Accommodations Clause. She later taught early childhood development at Allen University.

Mrs. Newman was a member of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, The Lunch Bunch, Pinehurst Bridge Club, and a travel group which toured the United States by train.

She was a founding member of Francis Burns and Middleton-Rosemond (later renamed I. DeQuincey Newman) United Methodist Churches.

She volunteered at ETV, the Council on Aging, Meals on Wheels and Richland County School District One, where she tutored children with special needs.

She was a poll manager for several wards in the city of Columbia. She taught cross-stitch, needlepoint and embroidery at Mary-Gregg Park.

She was a member of the Inaugural Committee which planned the occasion for Governor John Carl West.

She was an avid fan of the Atlanta Braves.

Above all, she was a Good Mother.

OTHERS

JAMES "JIMMY" WELDON POWERS

March 28, 1936 – November 27, 2009

James "Jimmy" Weldon Powers, husband of Carolyn Carter Powers for forty-two years, passed away at home under the care of hospice on Friday morning, November 27, 2009, at the age of seventy-three.

Jimmy was born in Charleston, South Carolina, on March 28, 1936, a son of the late Weldon Augustus Powers and Ruby Jones Powers. He was a 1954 graduate of Rivers High School where he played football, basketball, and baseball and attended The Citadel from 1954 - 1957 where he played basketball. He was a veteran of the United States Army, serving in Okinawa for three years. After his military service, he wrote sports for the "News and Courier" in Charleston for nine years. His love of athletics, including crewing for ocean races, eventually led him to Walterboro to become the Sports Editor of "The Press and Standard". Jimmy was also the Executive Athletic Director of the South Carolina Independent School Association (SCISA) for a period of time and was an insurance agent for Southland Life Insurance Company, which later became Life of Georgia.

Faithfully, Jimmy served for many years as a lay speaker in Methodist churches before becoming a minister. He served as a Lay Leader to the South Carolina Methodist Conference and was also a member of the Conference Insurance Committee. As an active member of Bethel United Methodist Church in Walterboro, he was on the finance committee, was a choir member, and was a Sunday school teacher for years.

At age fifty-nine, Jimmy could no longer resist God's call to the ministry and went back to school and graduated from Emory University Candler School of Theology in 2002. Before retirement, he served the three churches in the Smoaks Charge of Colleton County (Trinity, Green Pond, and Little Swamp United Methodist Churches) for four years, and for five years was the minister of Main Street United Methodist Church in Bamberg. He also served as a hospital chaplain for Colleton Medical Center in Walterboro.

Walterboro was home to Jimmy for his last forty-one years. During that time he was instrumental in the early establishment of the Rice Festival in Walterboro and was a volunteer fireman. He was a member of the Colleton County Football Hall of Fame Committee and the City of Walterboro Tree Protection Committee. For many years, Jimmy volunteered as a fundraiser for the Medical University of South Carolina Children's Hospital and was also a member of the Walterboro Elks Lodge #1988. However, he will be remembered most by his family and friends as a truly loving husband, father, grandfather, and friend.

In addition to his wife, Jimmy is survived by one daughter, Elizabeth "Beth" Kugley Powers Williams, and her husband, Albert "Bubba" Walter Williams, Jr., of Charleston and their daughters Lindsey Faye Williams and Lauren Elizabeth Williams who are all very active in John Wesley United Methodist Church in Charleston. Jimmy has a brother, Paul Kenneth Powers, of York, Pennsylvania, and a sister, Andrea Powers Jones, of Mt. Pleasant. Jimmy was preceded in death in 1987 by a seventeen-year-old daughter, Deborah "Debbie" Faye Powers, who was killed in the Converse College basketball van accident.

Funeral services for Jimmy were held Monday, November 30, 2009, at 11:00 a.m. at Bethel United Methodist Church in Walterboro with the burial following in the Live Oak Cemetery.

The gifts that Jimmy personified the most were patience and unconditional love-true lessons learned from Christian parents, his ever-present loving God and Father, and his never-wavering faith in his Savior Jesus Christ.
