Dear Friends in Christ:

Welcome to the 2015 South Carolina Annual Conference.

We are blessed to gather at the Florence Convention Center for a time of praise, worship, service and Holy Conferencing. Once again, the Florence District Host Committee and the Florence Convention and Civic Bureau have prepared diligently to make ready for us. We are grateful for their efforts and hospitality.

The theme this year is "A More Excellent Way: Becoming Disciples God Can Use." As we continue our spiritual journey, it is our hope that we deepen the roots of faith to make disciples of Jesus Christ by becoming disciples that God can use. When that happens, we have an opportunity to transform our world. To that end, we return to our Annual Conference an awesome missional opportunity. We will share again in a Stop Hunger Now event in seeking a more excellent way to reach our community and beyond with a gift of service. The monies donated over the base cost of this event will again go to our twelve districts for their local hunger ministries and Children in Poverty initiatives. We look forward to a wonderful time of service.

Because it is an election year, we will meet one day longer than the past couple of years. We trust God's Spirit to guide us as lay and clergy delegates are selected to represent South Carolina at the upcoming General and Jurisdictional conferences.

Preachers for our 2015 Annual Conference include Bishop Marcus Matthews from the Baltimore-Washington Annual Conference, the Reverend Jonathan Tompkins, pastor of Travelers Rest United Methodist Church in Travelers Rest, South Carolina and Dr. Tim McClendon, pastor of St John's United Methodist Church in Aiken, South Carolina. The morning bible studies will be led by Dr. Paul Harmon, Superintendent of the Spartanburg District and a special treat for us will be a visit by the Africa University Choir. It will be a great time of worship, study and song.

I expect this to be a glorious time of celebration where the graciousness of God and the generosity of God's people called United Methodist will be experienced in excellent ways. So let us unite our hearts in prayer that we will be open to the presence of God's Spirit and respond faithfully with our time, talent gifts, service and witness.

Grace and Peace,

L. Jonathan Holston
Resident Bishop

Friends:

Grace and peace you! As the time for annual conference draws near, my enthusiasm for our time together grows! Allow me to be among the first to welcome you the 2015 South Carolina Annual Conference! Our theme for 2015 is “A More Excellent Way: Becoming Disciples God Can Use.”

Enclosed for your review are the reports, recommendations and resolutions received to date for consideration at the 2015 Session of the South Carolina Conference. The Agenda and the Special Events Calendar can be found just after the Table of Contents, Program and Events. Additional material will be distributed in your registration packet at Annual Conference. Information on lodging in the Florence area, together with maps of the Florence Civic Center location, is included in the hospitality section of this packet. If you have not already made housing arrangements, please take time to make this reservation immediately.

Registration for clergy and lay members will begin at 1:30 p.m., Sunday, June 7. Laity and retired clergy will register upstairs on the concourse. All active clergy will register on the lower level in the pre-function area (hallway outside ballroom) of the Florence Civic Center. Registration will close at 6:00 pm. All registration will move back to the concourse Monday morning and will begin at 8:00 am.

Orientation for Lay Members will be held in the arena of the Civic Center. The Clergy Session will be held in the ballroom of the Civic Center. Both will begin at 5:00 p.m. This year, we will elect delegates to the 2016 General and Jurisdictional Conferences. For the very first time, we will use electronic balloting to carry out our election process. This will enable us to elect delegates in an efficient manner even as we transact the business of annual conference.

Annual conference will be live streamed. We encourage everyone to follow the actions of the conference at www.umcsc.org or via social media using Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram. Daily summaries of the actions taking during conference will be posted on the website to assist you in making your report to your congregation.

During the Monday lunch break the Lay Leadership Area of Connectional Ministries will host a “Mission Fair.” The fair will enable local churches to showcase the mission and ministry in which they have been involved this past year. On Tuesday, we will join together in a day of service as we package meals for the Stop Hunger Now Initiative. Certainly, you won’t miss our special guest, the African University Choir! The choir will be with us throughout the week and will lead our worship on Wednesday night.

There is a tremendous enthusiasm about Annual Conference and I look forward to being with you in Florence on June 7-11 for an amazing time of worship, service, and Christian conferencing. Join me as together we share in “A More Excellent Way: Becoming Disciples God Can Use!”

March 24, 2015

Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

On behalf of the ninety-seven churches and sixty six charges that make up the Florence District, I welcome you to Florence and the 2015 session of The South Carolina Conference of The United Methodist Church. As we gather as God's people this week we are called to embrace the theme, "Becoming Disciples God Can Use". This theme invites us as God's people and The United Methodist Church in South Carolina to be mindful of the potential we have as the church to do more than we've ever thought possible as we go about our business of "KINGDOM BUILDING"! Bishop Holston continues to challenge us to have "God-sized dreams" and if we seek to be the people and the church God needs us to be then those "God-sized dreams" become reality. Through prayer, worship, Bible study, mission work and the countless other ways we can be molded and shaped into the people of faith let us work tirelessly in "Becoming Disciples God Can Use".

Our major missional effort for our time together will once again focus our attention to the hungry of the world. Two years ago we were successful in responding to a call to "Stop Hunger Now", and once again we are being challenged to make a difference in the lives of many who don't have enough to eat. Let us join forces in being even more successful than last time as we become shining examples of those God can use to change the world.

Of course this is an election year and much attention will be given to the election of delegates for the General and Jurisdictional Conferences of 2016. I trust that these proceedings will add to rather than distract from our true purpose as the gathered people called Methodists, As we convene once again may God bless our worship, our church business, and those memorable moments of fellowship between old and new friends! I would like to take this opportunity to thank the many volunteers and the countless hours of service given this week, and if the Florence district can do anything to make your stay in Florence a better one please let us know and we'll do our best.

Grace & Peace

Greetings:

Members of the 2015 South Carolina Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church,

Wesley United Methodist and Salem United Methodist consider it an honor and privilege to serve as hosts for this year's Annual Conference in Florence. As hosts, we have positioned ourselves to assist and serve in whatever capacity needed, from donating needed items for worship to volunteering in the set up for the Conference held during June 7- June 11, 2015.

As we prepare to seek God and to be in fellowship with one another during this year's Annual Conference, our prayer is that we will keep our Episcopal leader Bishop Jonathan Holston and others who will be providing leadership at Annual Conference in our thoughts and prayers. As we focus on this year's theme: "Becoming Disciples God Can Use," we are confident that each of us can and will wholeheartedly embrace this year's theme by asking God for guidance to assist us in implementing this God-sized initiative in our respective ministry contexts.

We eagerly anticipate connecting with you and lending any assistance during our time together for the 2015 Annual Conference. Should the need arise, please refer to the numbers listed for each church above.

Faithfully serving,

Derrick Cattenhead

THE COUNCIL ON FINANCE AND ADMINISTRATION

Recommendations to the 2015 Annual Conference

Each and every disciple of Christ is called to be stewards of the mysteries of God. On behalf of the Council on Finance and Administration, I want to thank all United Methodists in South Carolina for their generosity of many gifts in 2014. We again achieved a nearly 90% payment average of apportionments. While, the Council would have wanted a higher rate, all congregations are to be commended for their continued and sacrificial support of their extended ministry through the South Carolina Annual Conference.

The following pages outline the complete ministry funding plan for our South Carolina Annual Conference in the Calendar/Conference Year 2016. The Council has sought to prepare this document with deep prayer and most faithful reflection. The overall budget again meets our continuing target of at or around 15% of total Conference average net funds. CF&A seeks to review budgeting goals over a longer time period. The assistance of all agencies, boards and commissions in this effort is critical.

12

Again, CF&A will staff an information table on the concourse level. This table will provide resources on stewardship, financial administration, and the Annual Conference budget. Please stop by during our time of conferencing this year in Florence. We are also very excited about our upcoming second Stewardship Summit next spring (2016) in the upstate of South Carolina. Dr. Kennon Callahan will be our keynote speaker.

18

CF&A is most grateful for the calm, effective and efficient ministry of our Conference Treasurer/Director of Administrative Services, Anthony "Tony" Prestipino and his helpful staff in the use of the resources of our Annual Conference. Tony has served our Annual Conference well and faithfully for five years. His insight and skill will be greatly missed as he moves to the Florida Annual Conference.

22

We welcome at this Annual Conference session a new servant of the church, Mrs. Elizabeth (Beth) Westbury who will be nominated as our new Annual Conference Treasurer and Director of Administrative Services. She comes "across the street" so to say from significant positions at our sister institution, Columbia College. We welcome her perspective, expertise and contributions to our common life and to the administrative ministry of United Methodists in South Carolina. I am also constantly grateful for the devoted work of every lay and clergy member of the Council on Finance and Administration. They attend, interact, debate and support the work of the Council in a most faithful and dependable manner.

25

26

29

May God continue to bless and guide all the ministries of our beloved SC Annual Conference!

30

The Reverend David C. Surrent, President, Council on Finance and Admin.

Not more than fifty percent of accumulated funds shall be used for travel expenses. The accumulation is cancelled in full when a district superintendent leaves the superintendency. It does not carry forward to the new district superintendent. However, by application to the CF&A in advance of leaving the superintendency, the district superintendent may within a reasonable length of time use the unused portion of the Continuing Education allowance to take training that would assist in his/her return to the parish ministry or other

B. We offer the following:

- 1) That all boards, commissions and committees receiving funds from the conference treasurer shall submit with each voucher adequate supporting data (receipts, bills, contemporaneous travel log, etc.). Payments in excess of $1,000 should be approved by the Conference Treasurer in advance.
- 2) That boards, agencies and conference institutions which are allowed to withdraw lump sums from the conference treasurer shall submit an annual audit (with management letter) by a certified public accountant to the Council on Finance and Administration, along with evidence of fidelity insurance coverage and compliance with payroll tax laws.
- 3) That all boards, commissions and agencies of the conference reimburse persons at a rate of 24 cents per mile when traveling on conference business. In order to encourage carpooling, we recommend that if a car contains two persons traveling on church business, the mileage rate be increased to 32 cents; if a car contains three or more persons all traveling on church business, the rate be increased to 40 cents per mile. Pastors who are members of such agencies should submit reimbursement requests to their appointed church or charge for the difference between their conference reimbursement and the approved IRS mileage rate, since participation in the ministries of the district and conference is an expected responsibility of all appointed pastors. Conference employees will be reimbursed at the approved IRS mileage rate when traveling on church business. We recommend that other expenses for travel on church business be paid. We also recommend that the guideline amount paid to a person for meals shall be $7.00 for breakfast, $13.00 for lunch and $20.00 for the evening meal.
- 4) That conference boards and agencies may not spend in excess of funds received on budget for the given conference year, except that funds carried forward may be spent in addition to funds received in the current year if such carryover funds were included in the budget presented to CFA. Any expenses beyond the combination of anticipated receipts (based on previous-year percentage of payment) plus budgeted carryover funds will not be paid by the treasurer.
- 5) That "average net funds" as used in the calculation of 2015 apportionments shall mean for each church the two-year average of net funds in the years 2014 and 2012. Newly organized churches will be phased in over four years, but for the years prior to the organization of the new church, the net funds figure will be zero. Churches that provide a housing allowance in lieu of a parsonage may exclude the lesser of the actual housing allowance or 25% of the minister's compensation.
- 6) That "net funds" be defined as the total of figures reported on lines 48 through 57 (inclusive) of Table 2.
- 7) That once the apportionments are calculated from Table 2 statistics for any given year, those apportionments cannot be altered. Needed corrections can be made on Table 2 reports for use in future year calculations.
- 8) That the funds received on the apportionment for Methodist Homes Residents' Assistance (item 12, Report No. 1) be divided 50% to Methodist Oaks (Orangeburg), 35% to Wesley Commons (Greenwood), 15% to Methodist Manor of the Pee Dee (Florence); that the funds received on the apportionment for Senior College Scholarship Fund (item 9, Report No. 1) be divided in three equal parts, one-third each going to Wofford College, Columbia College and Claflin College; that the funds received on the apportionment for Camps and Retreat Ministries (item 7, Report No. 1) be distributed to the various Camps and Retreat Ministries as determined by the Board of Trustees of the South Carolina United Methodist Camps and Retreat Ministries.
- 9) That the Annual Conference Council on Finance and Administration be authorized to grant amounts from the Conference Contingency Fund or Permanent Reserve to meet any individual emergency or unanticipated need.
- 10) That the salaries and fixed essential expenses of Conference Connectional Ministries (section A-4 of the Conference Benevolences budget) be funded up to 100% of budget by using funds from the Contingency Fund; the remainder of that budget will be funded at the percentage paid on the line item.

- 1 11) That the salaries and benefits portion of the Campus Ministry budget be funded up to 100% of budget
2 by using funds from the Contingency Fund; the remainder of that budget will be funded at the percent-
3 age paid on the line item.
5 12) That the budgets of the District Superintendent Salaries, Director of Administrative Services, the 6 Conference Archivist Contract and the Coordinator of Clergy Services be funded up to 100% of budget
7 by using funds from the Contingency Fund.
9 13) The Council on Finance and Administration of the South Carolina Annual Conference, The United 10 Methodist Church, hereby designates 15% of the salary for each conference clergy staff for the year
11 2016, exclusive of a designated housing allowance as allocated for utilities and maintenance, not 12 including maid service.
14 14) That local churches of the conference incorporate. An informational pamphlet prepared by the Confer-
15 ence Chancellor and the Cabinet is available at www.umcsc.org. After incorporation, churches should 16 take care to maintain with the Secretary of State, an accurate, up-to-date record of the name and 17 address of their registered agent.

21 The recommended apportioned budgets for the Senior College Scholarship Fund, Spartanburg Methodist
22 College, and Methodist Homes Residents' Assistance Fund have been reduced. These causes are significant 23 ministries. Therefore, we ask those churches with sufficient resources to continue in 2015 to contribute what was 24 apportioned for these funds in 2009. This combined request will be calculated for churches based on the apportion-
25 ment formula and included on the bottom of the apportionment statement as a voluntary asking.

We are living in challenging times. It seems that the more things change, the more they stay the same. What has changed? The Bible has changed not the message but translation of the message. Now, access to those translations is available digitally. It is hoped that our relationships with God and with one another grow and deepen over time.

In the midst of great changes, some things stay the same. The Bible still carries the message of the Good News of God's saving love. We still live in relationship with God and one another. And human beings by nature still tend to resist change.

This context of rapid change in the midst of the constancy of faith informs the work of Connectional Ministries. As we continue to live into the structure that changed in 2012, we are growing in our capacity to hold onto the things that we need to hold onto as we adapt to the rapid changes in our world.

In the past year, two notable changes have occurred. We have reconfigured the Higher Education and Campus Ministry Committee into a larger Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministry to allow for stronger connections, support, and accountability among the annual conference, the colleges and universities, and the campus ministries. This board will have an organizational meeting with assistance from the General Board of Higher Education and Ministry to review their disciplinary responsibilities and begin their work in a more effective way as soon as it can be arranged with general agency staff.

Second, In response to the motion referred to Connectional Ministries at the last Annual Conference, we have empowered a Racial Reconciliation Design Team to give leadership to the churches of the Annual Conference in how to engage in meaningful conversations and processes that will allow for communities to identify their particular challenges, to work toward healing, and to begin to move forward faithfully. You can read about the team's work and recommendations at the conclusion of our report.

Below you will find a summary of the work of the Ministry Areas and Committees of Connectional Ministries. It is a privilege for us to be able to serve the Annual Conference with the goal of equipping churches for ministry and connecting them in ministry beyond ourselves.

Cynthia Williams
Convener of Connectional Ministries

ADVOCACY AREA

Rev. Amiri Hooker, Convener

The Advocacy Area includes committees on church and society, status and role of women, religion and race, and ethnic local church concerns.

The Social Principles of The United Methodist Church affirm "those in rightful authority who serve the public, and we support their efforts to afford justice and equal opportunity for all people" (§164F "Civil Obedience & Civil Disobedience," Book of Discipline).

Christians are called to witness to the reconciling love of God in Jesus Christ. United Methodists must be an example of social change by creating spaces of honest, faithful dialogue across differences and divides. The South Carolina Advocacy Ministry Area has been engaging United Methodists in the Annual Conference to continue to seek racial reconciliation and to recognize and affirm the sacredness of all people. Further, we acknowledge the pain and death that black men and their families are suffering, in light of decisions by grand juries in Missouri and New York, as well as a concern about ongoing police violence/militarization in some communities. We have also seen the plight of health injustice and poverty throughout South Carolina. Our Advocacy Ministry Area is composed of the following committees and Boards and ex officio members from the Board of Church and Society, Commission on the Status and Role of Women, Christian Unity and Interreligious Concerns, Ethnic Local Church Concerns, Native American, Religion and Race, Peace with Justice Coordinator, Bishop's Cabinet representative, General Board of Church and Society – ex-officio, Convener UMW – ex-officio, and ELCC UMW – ex-officio.

Most of the leadership and training for our work area comes from the General Board of Church and Society, our work with the General Commission on Religion and Race, Peace with Justice Training, and the ministry Projects of Racism Ethnic Local Concerns of ELCC.

Since the days when Jim Crow, cross burnings, segregated schools, and unjust voting laws were the order of the day to the season in which we now live, the people of the United Methodist Church as Wesleyans have worked to forge ahead with efforts to restructure the church for maximum effectiveness as advocates for justice and equity within and beyond the church and community. In an effort to promote more vital congregations, those who do the work of The Advocacy Ministry Area even if they do not call it "advocacy," the Advocacy Ministry Area dealt with a proposal from the convener to dramatically change funding and the division of labor in our work area.

The changes include the following:

- Combining the work of the committees to function in fewer groups,
- establishing new goals that would coordinate ministry among the boards and committees, and
- working collaboratively on budgeting in the Advocacy Ministry area.

- 1 The purpose for these changes was to accomplish some specific and measurable goals:
- 2 • train individuals and local churches to become advocates for change and transformation in the
 - 3 Annual Conference and districts and local churches;
 - 4 • take action on creating strategic plans for ELCC (Task Forces), COSROW, Religion and Race;
 - 5 • take action to change the culture around the Annual Conference as to what it means to participate in
 - 6 the Advocacy Ministry Area;
 - 7 • share tools, tips, and techniques on how every local church can be most effective in its Advocacy;
 - 8 • develop stronger working committees dedicated to specific tasks as delegated by the Annual
 - 9 Conference; and
 - 10 • elect a vice convener to co-facilitate some of the needed changes.

12 Church and Society in South Carolina works closely with the South Carolina Christian Action Council (SCCAC).
13 SCCAC in its 81st year continues to raise a reasoned Christian voice in the public square. Focusing on only one
14 issue in its first decade and a half, for the past 64 years the Council has advocated for a more just society as a 15 visible witness to the unity Christians have been given in Christ Jesus.

16 Legislative Issues the Council will watch in the coming year include the following:

- 17 • Legislation to bring to Federal dollars earmarked for South Carolina, dollars which would close the
- 18 Healthcare Gap in SC.
- 19 • Legislative action resulting from the decade's long court battle for full and equitable funding for a
- 20 high quality public education for all our children, especially in early education.

21 SCCAC is also doing work in the area of racism and support for the SC HIV/AIDS Council. At several times
22 during the years, members of the Connectional Ministry Staff and the Advocacy Work Area have partnered with 23 SCCAC to join state house rallies and protests.

25 Peace with Justice (PWJ) had an active year in 2014, and we look forward to continuing our support of 26 missional, educational, and advocacy-related ministries through the Conference and local church. In 2014 PWJ
27 gave $2,000 to help support the Freedom School at Francis Burns UMC, and we offered $500 grants to help
28 local churches engage their communities in promoting literacy in conjunction with the Million Book Effort. In 2015
29 we will be sending a team of four United Methodist college students from around the state to participate in a
30 Korean Delegation with the Mississippi Annual Conference and in partnership with the General Board of Church
31 and Society. The four UM college students will travel to Korea on June 30 to join Korean Methodist students in a
32 conversation about global social justice issues. Upon their return, the students will be required to speak about 33 their experience at local UM churches.

35 The Native American Committee seeks to promote inclusion of Native Americans in the South Carolina
36 Conference; explore and implement awareness of and appreciation for Native American presence, history, 37 traditions, and spirituality; promote Native American Awareness Sunday in this Conference and dispense the 38 funds contributed on Native American Awareness Sunday to ministries and community development in this 39 Annual Conference and the Southeast Jurisdiction. The Native American committee members represent a 40 number of Indian cultures and have a point of contact with other Native communities. Committee members are 41 of Santee, Ojibwa, Cherokee, Wassamassaw, Catawba, Pee Dee, and Waccamaw heritage.

42 Tribal Reports: Catawba-Beckee Garris reported that it is in the midst of an after school program. Mentors
43 came from schools to help in math and reading. On November 22nd, the Culture Center held a Native American
44 Craft Fair at the Longhouse, 996 Avenue of Nations. Edisto-Cathy Nelson reported that the funding for feeding
45 program started by Roman Catholic Sisters years ago has dried up. Now they are not able to do hot meals for 46 the Elders or widows. Catawba Tribal Update the Catawba Indian Nation's Boys and Girls Club just celebrated 47 their first anniversary with an Open House to show what they are doing there. They also have mentors who 48 come and help with their homework before they begin playing pool, basketball, and other sports. The Girls on 49 the Run have begun practicing for another 2.5K race. The girls were so successful last year that the boys
50 showed an interest in having their own running team. So now they have a Boys Who Run team who are training
51 to run in their first 2.5K race later this summer. Both teams are made up of 4th-6th graders.

52 The 4-H Club recently began to prepare raised garden beds. Members have seeds already growing in their 53 hot house to be transplanted as soon as the weather allows.

54 The Native American Committee sponsored its annual training for local church Native American Representatives
55 on February 7 at Platt Springs United Methodist Church. About 50 representatives learned about Native American 56 history and tribes in South Carolina and the many ways that the United Methodist Church is working with them.

57 After lunch, drummers from Rocky Swamp American Indian Ministries led the group in worship. During the 58 smudging ceremony outside the church prior to the worship, a bald eagle circled the group twice in the bright blue sky.

59 The official date for Native American Ministries Sunday is April 19, 2015; however, the date can be celebrated 60 at any time during the church year.

Status and Role of Women advocates for full participation of women in the total life of The United Methodist Church. We are helping the church recognize every person—clergy and lay, women and men, adults and children –as full and equal parts of God’s human family. Our small committee has been doing the work of COSROW and celebrating the follow up from last year’s information drive with a small gathering in September and more training planning to come.

We welcome the new UMW representative, Cathy Ford. She, in turn, talked about UMW’s annual retreat. Committee member Evelyn Pauling wrote the UMW message in the March issue of the Advocate. The group is pleased with the feedback from our newsletter, The Eve Newsletter. The March issue was great with particular emphasis on Women’s History and Women in the Pulpit. These newsletters were e-mailed to the DSs with the request we serve them in the fall with training or train at the state level, if they prefer.

Concerning the recent Annual Conference monitoring of women’s involvement request of national (called “General COSROW”), Cathy Mitchell indicated that in 2009, when the monitoring was last done, she trained some of our committee members then and some from Race and Religion’s Committee to complete the survey. It has been recommended that members access the GCOSROW.org website/Monitor and Resources/Toolkit; it’s a lengthy tool, so I suggest that it be scanned to see what is involved. The Committee suggests persons interested in COSROW also register for the agenda p. 2 national free COSROW webinar. Those registering should prepare for the five questions posed to discuss.

Sheila Haney, Convener

Ethnic Local Church Concerns (ELCC) has awarded 96 scholarships to individuals to attend training and continuing education events and five grants to local churches for 2014. This year, ELCC has organized an African American Task Force and a Hispanic Latino Task Force. Plans to organize a Korean American Task Force are underway.

Ethnic local churches in South Carolina are uniquely suited to engage in ministry with the poor communities of color in our state. During the 2013 - 2014 cycle of the ELCC mini-grant program, seven small-congregation ethnic local churches were funded on a competitive basis to support programs that help the poor in these churches and in communities. Most of the programs promoted youth development focusing on literacy, cultural awareness, spiritual development, and nutrition. Some funded programs also provided services for senior citizens in the community that emphasized senior nutrition, healthy living, and small group spiritual development. In both areas, the churches included in their programs resources for food to feed the participants. Low-income households spend a greater share of their income on food. Food accounts for 17.1% of spending for households making less than $10,000 per year compared to the US average of 12.6%.

The ministries of these small congregation churches were in line with the United Methodist Church’s emphasis on Ministry with the Poor and the Pan Methodist priority of Children in Poverty. One in four children is at risk of hunger, and, among African-Americans and Latinos, one in three children is at risk of hunger. The number of people in the US who live in poverty is increasing to record levels as the gap between rich and poor continues to grow. The official US poverty rate in 2009 was 14.3%, an increase from the year before. There were 43.6 million people in poverty; 50.7 million had no health insurance.

South Carolina has a 17.5% poverty rate compared to the national poverty rate of 14.3%. Despite the improving economy nationally and for many South Carolinians, poverty remains a challenge for many people in the “Forgotten South Carolina.” And for South Carolina, there is a unique phenomenon. The poverty rate by race is 5.5% higher for households of color. “The Council of Bishops of the United Methodist Church believes that God is calling this Church to a new level of dedication and commitment on behalf of children and the impoverished. The Council is taking steps, through the Episcopal Initiative on Children and Poverty, to assist the Church in responding to God’s call.”

DISCIPLESHIP AREA

Rev. Ross Chellis, Convener

The Discipleship Area includes committees on education, evangelism, worship, children, youth, young adult, older adult, and higher education and campus ministry.

The Children’s Ministry Committee has continued to support and be involved with the South Carolina Conference Pan-Methodist Campaign for Children in Poverty. The theme “And How Are All the Children?” has continued to be a driving question for our churches, and the response has been incredible. Churches have reached into their communities and have made a difference in the lives of children. Mentoring programs, partnerships with schools, food drives, clothing closets, reading programs, and other initiatives have continued to be dreamed and implemented for our children. Our Million Book Effort collected over 500,000 books for children, and all have been distributed throughout South Carolina. We urge everyone to become involved in the 1,000,000 hours of service with and for children.

1 The Committee on Worship in 2014 provided leadership and logistical support for the various worship ser-
2 vices at the meeting of the Annual Conference in Florence. In 2015 we anticipate doing the same with a plan to 3 continue using a wide spectrum of participants, both on stage and behind the scenes. We recognize the valuable
4 work being done by many District Connectional Ministries in support of inspiring worship in local churches. We
5 continue to evaluate how the Conference Commission on Worship can best assist local churches as they seek 6 to provide vital worship experiences in their community.

10 The Evangelism Committee receives applications and selects recipients for individual evangelism awards
11 and the Bishop's Five Star Awards for local churches.

13 Rev. George Olive, Convener

14 The Outreach Area includes committees on communications, disaster response, health and welfare, and 15 global ministries.

16 THE CONFERENCE BOARD OF GLOBAL MINISTRIES (CBGM)

19 As we begin this report, the members of the CBGM, all want to express our concern and offer our fervent 20 prayers for the Reverend Calvin B. Washington as he struggles with his recovery from a recent illness. We also 21 want to thank Reverend Washington for his leadership of our board in his capacity as the convener since 2013.

22 In the year 2014, the CBGM became proactive in helping local churches become familiar with and apply for 23 the funding available under the auspices of our board. We became aware that many churches in need did not 24 have knowledge of how the CBGM could help them in both existing and new ministry opportunities. As a result,
25 the CBGM has put out the word, and we gladly report that we received more requests than we had funding avail-
26 able this year. We rejoice in the fact that the CBGM is making a difference in the lives and ministries of the 27 Annual Conference and the local churches. Recently, members of the CBGM have reviewed and made
28 recommendations for the approval for this year's grant cycles. As we considered these requests, we asked 29 ourselves two questions: Does this request help the Annual Conference make disciples for Jesus Christ for the 30 transformation of the world? And does this request make space for new people within our churches and/or 31 connected ministries? We believe that those who received funding met these criteria. The CBGM has either
32 direct or indirect oversight of several areas, and this report will briefly cover them. Several have their own reports 33 given at other areas.

34 Spartanburg Methodist College. SMC is not only a highly regarded educational institution, but it is also an 35 outreach ministry of the South Carolina Annual Conference. SMC provides opportunities and growth and learn-36 ing for many students who would not otherwise have them. The CBGM nominates the Board of Trustees (in 37 conjunction with the president of the college) and recommends the line item in the Annual Conference budget for 38 SMC. Dr. Colleen Keith, president of SMC, has provided the Annual Conference with a report on the college for 39 information. We, as the CBGM, encourage all members of the Annual Conference to support SMC by paying all 40 Conference apportionments.

41 Communities of Shalom. We continue to define the relationship between the Annual Conference and the 42 Communities of Shalom. Although the Annual Conference, through the CBGM, has supported the Communities
43 of Shalom since their inception, that relationship has never really been defined. The Congregational Specialist
44 continues to work with the Communities of Shalom and will report to the CBGM and the Annual Conference
45 when this work is complete. Communities of Shalom are community organizing ministries, helping each commu-
46 nity look at issues and problems within the community and how to best address those issues using resources
47 available. The CBGM provided the Communities of Shalom $10,000 in support in 2014.

48 Hunger Ministries. The Hunger Ministries program is an extension of the CBGM designed to encourage 49 churches and individuals to donate each year to help churches who work with hunger issues and to directly feed
50 hungry people through such ministries as soup kitchens and food pantries. The CBGM was able to distribute 51 $17,500 in support of these ministries in 2014.

52 Church Extension Partnership. Originally a program to help smaller membership churches (100 members 53 or fewer) with physical repairs, this program has been expanded to include physical repairs or to equip churches
54 wishing to extend their outreach into the local community. Three "calls" are given each year at Lent, Advent, and 55 Annual Conference in which individuals and local churches can contribute to the designated recipient of the call
56 to help with their ministry. The CBGM would like to emphasize that this particular program is one in which the 57 local church can be a "partner" by taking up a special offering or offerings during the season specified. The 58 CBGM was able to distribute $4,067 for this ministry in 2014.

59 James M. Belin Trust Grants. This trust fund supports new missions and ministries located within the 60 boundaries of the South Carolina Annual Conference. The Board of Trustees is nominated by the CBGM and 61 elected by the Annual Conference. The Belin Trust provides grants to be distributed by the CBGM each year. To 62 be considered for a grant, the organization applying for the funds must be considered either a new ministry or a new ministry within an existing program of the organization applying for the grant. Funding can be obtained as a ministry connected with a local church or an agency sponsored by the United Methodist Church. The CBGM was able to distribute $146,609 in support of these ministries in 2014.

Advance Special Ministries (ASM). These are missional organizations within the bounds of the South Carolina Annual Conference that have been recommended by the CBGM and approved by the Annual Conference. These organizations must apply for certification every quadrennium for approval by the Annual Conference and apply for funding every year. These organizations have their own board of directors which must have United Methodist representation to be eligible as an ASM. The Annual Conference supports these organizations in several ways. The primary way is through the connectional system of the United Methodist Church. By being sponsored by the Annual Conference, these organizations have the ability to solicit funding through the local churches in their surrounding area and statewide. The CBGM encourages local churches and districts to partner with an ASM in their vicinity and support them with not only financial help but also in the many other ways in which help is needed. These organizations are also supported by a line item in the Connectional Ministries budget. This amount was $124,000 in 2014. And, lastly, ASMs are supported by an offering taken through Advance Special Sunday each year.

In addition to these ministries, the CBGM also provided support for Mission Interns in the amount of $4,800 and an Emergency Response Trailer grant of $10,000.

The CBGM looks forward to the great ministry which will be accomplished in the future as a result of the efforts of the board. A special thank you to all those who served as a part of the CBGM in 2014.

Stephen D. Gaither, Asst. Convener

The Health and Welfare Committee (HWC)

Our bodies are the temples of God, and, to that end, we are called to be good stewards of this earthly tent. The HWC has entered into partnership with the USC Prevention and Research Center to provide assistance to help our congregation through their Faith, Activity, and Nutrition (FAN) program. Through both educational literature and hands on demonstrations, FAN will help our congregations to enjoy healthy diets; help promote physical activity to eliminate some medical conditions; and help with the healing of others and well as the decrease of some medical complications, thereby giving our members a better quality of life as we continue on our faith journey. This partnership is starting in the Columbia District in the Fairfield community. We pray the pastors and congregations will participate fully in this effort.

Joyce Timmons

Communications

We are blessed to have Matt Brodie on the Conference staff doing such an outstanding job of enabling the communications efforts of the various boards, agencies, and ministries of the Conference through his work with the umsc.org web site and through other means. This past year, he worked to develop a comprehensive data base of contact information for clergy and lay leadership around the Conference to improve the opportunity to target appropriate audiences for the news and information that needs to disseminate in a timely manner. The building of this extensive list will be an on-going project and will help to make possible effective mission and ministry throughout the Conference.

In addition, the office of communications hosted a Southeastern Jurisdictional Communications workshop at Lake Junaluska. Over 50 local church pastors and communicators attended the two-day workshop. The success of this event has been evident, and Mr. Brodie will host another training session in September of 2015. The Communications Committee helped to support these efforts by providing United Methodist Communicators $100 scholarships to attend the trainings for local SC churches and will do the same in 2015.

Disaster Response

Yet again we in South Carolina have been extremely fortunate that we have not experienced any major disasters this past year. In fact, it was a relatively quiet year throughout the Southeast Jurisdiction, and this experience has lessened the call for involvement by our Early Response Teams led by Billy Robinson and the SC UMVIM. Billy and his team continue to appeal for additional volunteers, and training is scheduled around the Conference to enable volunteers to become certified and credentialed early responders. Also, eight members of our Conference attended the SEJ Disaster Response Academy in Biloxi, MS. Greg Varner, the Conference Disaster Response Coordinator, held a meeting in April of the Conference Disaster Response Team. A major focus coming from that gathering is the finalization of a Conference Disaster Response Plan and a focus on local church training. Of critical importance is that we in this state, bordering on the ocean, with a fault line running through the state and thus the potential for a catastrophic earthquake, with nuclear power plants, with military bases and other targets for terrorist activities, with rivers and dams, with huge tracts of forests vulnerable to wildfires, with the ever present threat of tornadoes, with all of these threats we must never lose our focus on the need to be prepared, whether that be for a small, local disaster where neighbor helps neighbor, or whether it means reaching out in Christian love and compassion to the survivors of larger disasters around the state, around the nation, or around the world.

LAY LEADERSHIP AREA

3 The Lay Leadership Area includes teams on Lay Servant Ministry, Lay Servant Leadership Development, 4 Spiritual Formation, Stewardship, and Annual Conference Missions Fair.

6 This has been a busy year for the Lay Leadership Area. Bishop Holston launched the first ever Bishop's
7 Road Shows starting in September 2014 and concluding in February 2015. The Bishop, along with various 8 Conference staff and laity, spent 12 Saturdays in the districts. The hope is that this venture will have a positive
9 impact across the Annual Conference. Over 1,500 laity attended the 12 sessions and had the chance to meet
10 Bishop Holston and his wife, Felecia. Next fall, clergy will join laity and Bishop Holston for continued discussion
11 and dialogue. The laity in the South Carolina United Methodist Conference are active persons who work to 12 enrich the lives of so many. The UM Women, UM Men, our Lay Servant Ministries program, our children, our 13 youth, our young adults, and our older adults all work toward a common goal of making disciples for Jesus Christ
14 for the transformation of the world. We continue to be led within Lay Leadership by our three task force teams
15 and their team leaders: Lay Servant Leadership Development, Shelia Shanklin; Spiritual Formation, Suzy Speas;
16 Stewardship, Dennis Sullen. Also included on the Executive Lay Leadership Team are Donald Love, Conference
17 Associate Lay Leader; Jenny Rawlings, Lay Leadership Secretary; and Lisa Livingston, Convener. We 18 welcomed one new District Lay Leader, Anna Feagin, as she replaces Max Jackson in the Hartsville District.
19 District Lay Leaders are Anderson, Freda Brock; Charleston, David Braddon; Columbia, Betty Void; Florence,
20 Dennis Sullen; Greenwood, David Salter; Greenville, Michael Cheatham; Hartsville, Anna Feagin; Marion, Becky
21 Green; Orangeburg, Gregg Riley; Rock Hill, Bill Click; Spartanburg, Earline Powell; and Walterboro, Pamela
22 Goodwine-Glover. It is an honor and a privilege to serve alongside such committed folks.

50 Lay Servant Leadership Development Task Force Team

51 This committee has been working hard to introduce the new Apportionment Seminar to as many groups as 52 possible. All District Lay Leaders and District Directors of Lay Servant Ministries were invited to take part in the 53 initial training, and many of them are now trained and ready to lead the seminar. This seminar will be our first 54 item in the TOOLBOX as we get it up and running. It is available to any church or group that will host the seminar.
55 The idea of a Toolbox comes from a strong desire on the part of the Executive Lay Leadership team to provide 56 means for the local congregations to get the answers to questions and concerns the members might have.
57 Toolboxes will be provided for each of the District Lay Leaders and District Directors of Lay Servant Ministries. In 58 turn, they will be asked to distribute the information with all local churches through the Local Church Lay Leaders
59 and Lay Servants. Items for the Toolboxes are being developed and supplied by each of the three areas of Lay
60 Leadership: Lay Servant Leadership, Spiritual Formation, and Stewardship. The team continues to develop other
61 items for inclusion in the Toolbox, and discussion about what is needed and how to go about presenting to reach
62 the local church has been extensive. Topics include educating members on United Methodist history, encouraging members to discover spiritual gifts, clarifying the process of sanctification, improving communication, and presenting these questions: “What does it mean to be connected?”, and “What is the General Conference?” In addition to providing the physical Toolbox, it is the team’s intent to have virtual copies available as well.

Stewardship Task Force Team

Our stewardship efforts in the last several months have primarily involved developing and selecting resources for our Lay Leadership Resource Toolbox, which will be introduced during the 2015 Annual Conference. Committee members attended the Stewardship Summit last fall and have studied stewardship resources published by the Lewis Center for Church Leadership in developing this resource. Plans are being made to include in the Stewardship Tray of the Toolbox, a resource sheet which is a quick reference guide to the more popular websites, books, and newsletters of organizations that promote a holistic approach to stewardship. This resource will help leaders sort through the numerous resources available that seem to grow daily. We have also included in the Toolbox a workshop resource that offers a variety of workshop topics on stewardship and is available to any United Methodist church, charge, cluster, or district that would like to host an event in a specific area. We have developed a list of persons, clergy and laity, who are available to be facilitators for these events. Other tools still available are the Stewardship Resource CD as well as the Stewardship Alive Manual in electronic format and the Stewardship Web Page, which is currently being updated. Our task continues to be one of providing key information and resources for individuals and churches in order to help them reach their full potential as faithful stewards, and we welcome the opportunity to assist in this area!

Spiritual Formation Task Force Team

The Spiritual Formation team is committed to bringing opportunities and information to the local church, district, and Conference. We have updated our page on the Conference website to include information about spiritual practices. Information is included about each practice and where to go for further study. We are also working within the Lay Leadership team as a whole to put a Toolbox in the hands of our District Lay Leaders and District Lay Servant Directors. This Toolbox will contain physical resources, contact persons for specific areas and needs, as well as where to find more resources. The Spiritual Formation team will be writing and compiling resources that will address practices such as centering prayer, praying in color, and using a bead and a prayer. We are excited also about opportunities that are developing where Spiritual Formation will be working together with various laity led groups.

Mission Fair at Annual Conference

Lay Leadership received many positive comments on the Mission Fair Event that was held June 2, 2014, during Annual Conference. The Mission Fair recognized local church involvement in ministries with children and ministries related to poverty. Thirty-four exhibitors, representing 48 churches in our Conference, set up tables and displayed pictures, posters, and written descriptions of children and poverty related ministries and even provided a representative to answer questions and talk about these missions. We are grateful to all those who participated as exhibitors and also for all those who attended this exciting event! In light of the excitement and overwhelming request to do it again, the Lay Leadership team seeks to plan and host another exciting Mission Fair event during the 2015 Annual Conference.

REPORT OF THE RACIAL RECONCILIATION DESIGN TEAM

Racism has been a systemic and personal problem within the United States and The United Methodist Church (UMC) and its predecessor denominations since the inception of the UMC. United Methodist Christians, like the rest of God’s human family, represent many races, colors, cultures, languages, backgrounds, and life experiences. Local congregations, districts, and the community we serve within South Carolina Annual Conference are becoming more diverse. However, the South Carolina Annual Conference is committed to the eradication of racism.

The motion referred to Connectional Ministries asked that $10,000 of Emerging Ministry funds be used to create a task force and to host two one-day conferences in 2015 to address racial prejudice and injustice as theological and missional imperatives in local churches and communities. The original motion called for two conferences to be held—one at Wofford College and one at Claflin University—and for all clergy and at least one layperson from each local church to attend the conferences. Each pastor would report at charge conference what is being done in the local church and community toward racial reconciliation and justice and set specific goals. In support of his motion, the maker, Rev. John Culp, told the body he remembered when he came into the Conference 45 years ago and witnessed the merger of the two Conferences: one predominantly white and the

1 other African-American. While we have made much progress since then, he said, “Racism still exists in our
2 churches and our society.”

3 Concern was raised on the floor regarding the referral Connectional Ministries because of a perception that 4 nothing would be done. The Connectional Ministries Convener, Cynthia Williams, informed the body she was 5 confident Connectional Ministries has created an environment where this organization is able to act capably on 6 issues that come before it.

7 As a follow-up, two weeks after Annual Conference, the executive body of Connectional Ministries estab-
8 lished an intentionally small, racially diverse team, with the specific goals of creating a model by the fall meeting
9 to deal with the intent of the Conference motion and to find a way to further the conversations in the Annual 10 Conference around the sins of racism. The Reverend Amiri B. Hooker was selected as chair of the newly formed 11 SC Conference Racial Reconciliation Design Team (RRDT).

12 The RRDT read as a group The SC Conference Plans of Merger and the following books: Methodism’s
13 Racial Dilemma: The Story of the Central Jurisdiction by Bishop James S. Thomas; A Mile in My Shoes: Cultivating
14 Compassion by Trevor Hudson; Black People in the Methodist Church by William B. McClain; The Cross and the 15 Lynching Tree by James H. Cone; Just Us or Justice?: Moving Toward a Pan-Methodist Theology by F. Douglas 16 Powe Jr.; and Love in Hard Places by D. A. Carson.

17 After reading A Mile in My Shoes: Cultivating Compassion, by Trevor Hudson, the design team felt that 18 members of the Conference could best cultivate compassion and understanding about racism if they made 19 pilgrimages together and visited some of the racially significant sites in SC first hand.

20 The concept of pilgrimage is to go and to participate in an event rather than merely to be an observer or just 21 to hold a meeting. The team wants people actually to go to places of racial significance and to say, “This is what 22 happened here; this is part of our racial legacy in South Carolina. How do we begin to unravel and unmask the 23 racial issues around this location?”

24 The long-term goal is to create healing and encouragement at racially sacred locations across the Conference;
25 this effort would lead to equipping and supporting leadership to eradicate racism.

26 In October 2014 on the campus of South Carolina State University, The RRDT held an event that allowed us
27 to have conversation about one of the sorrowful moments in state and national history, the Orangeburg Massacre.
28 The Orangeburg Massacre refers to the shooting of protesters by South Carolina Highway Patrol officers
29 in Orangeburg, South Carolina, near South Carolina State University on the evening of February 8, 1968.
30 Approximately 150 protestors were demonstrating against racial segregation at a local bowling alley. Three of 31 the protestors, African American males, were killed, and 28 other protestors were injured. This Racial Reconciliation
32 Pilgrimage around the Orangeburg Massacre looked at how an act of racism led to one of the most wretched
33 days in the history of South Carolina and to a 40-year cover-up and campaign of misinformation by the governor
34 and state government. Paradoxically, the Orangeburg Massacre occurred next to Claflin University and a major 35 United Methodist Church, Trinity UMC, that have produced many leaders in our denomination.

36 When the task force arrived on the SC State University’s campus, we proceeded into the discussion of the 37 massacre and heard a presentation by Bobby Eady, a student protester who, at the age of 17, was wounded
38 during the massacre. Eady told how it felt to be there during that time; he discussed the pain he felt from the 39 betrayal of his state, community, and church in the cover-up. Eady said all the students were unarmed and in 40 retreat from the Highway Patrolmen at the time of the shooting.

41 The RRDT then heard from Dr. Cleveland Sellers, current president of Voorhees College. At age 23, he was 42 also wounded during the shooting from white Highway Patrolmen. Dr. Sellers told us his story of persecution and 43 of being banned from Orangeburg for years. In fact, he was the only person, white or black, convicted of a crime 44 in connection with the shooting.

45 Another key conversation we experienced was with a campus staff member, Sonja Bennett-Bellamy, who 46 was a child in Orangeburg at the time of the massacre. She related her stress year to year during the commem-
47 orations of the massacre, and of trying to get people to understand the need for healing from the pain.

48 We had good discussions facilitated by Tan Kirby Davis, The Kirby Resource Group, a consulting and 49 training organization that specializes in organizational effectiveness, leadership development, diversity and 50 inclusion, and community relations. We discussed how there are places in South Carolina that from one side of 51 the tracks might as well be in Ferguson, Missouri—just as strange, just as uncomfortable, just as much another
52 world, just as full of suffering and strangers and fellow believers and “angels unaware.” Understanding these 53 issues is significant for our learning what it means to be Christian.

54 These pilgrimages to Racial Reconciliation are going to change the church. The RRDT group knows that the 55 model will work because members of the group have already been changed (transformed) as we have been 56 developing the model. And as we change the way we talk about the pain and the hope that comes from conver-
57 sation around racism as pilgrims and learners, these events will create partnerships among persons from across 58 the Conference in different ages, races, and classes.

59 The RRDT also hopes to use other methods of fulfilling its role as a resource for creating strategies and 60 programs that educate and support systemic and personal changes to end racism and work multiculturally. One
61 example of this type of process in building new bridges for racial healing and unity is by our going to see movies
62 like Selma and having groups of clergy and lay persons learn more about the history of South Carolina and racism in general. Another example is to develop and place on the Conference website information for local congregations to begin the process of looking at how they can have conversations about issues of race.

Lastly, we see the work of eradicating racism in the South Carolina Annual Conference as more than the work of a task force set up following a specific motion made on the floor of the 2014 Annual Conference. We celebrate and trust the work of the United Methodist Church connection in this area. The General Commission on Religion and Race was created by The United Methodist Church in 1968 to address the turbulent and exciting unrest, disease, hope, and new possibilities unleashed as legalized racial segregation and separation were being dismantled in church and society.

The Commission was the vehicle through which the denomination invited white people and people of color to a common table to tackle institutional racism, engage in new conversations about what a truly desegregated and global church could look like, and chart a course for living out the Gospel of Jesus Christ in a more authentic and all-people-embracing way.

Thus, the RRDT makes the following recommendations to the Annual Conference:

- 1) That the work initiated under the task force entitled the Racism Reconciliation Design Team (RRDT) be located under the Advocacy Ministry Area in the Religion and Race Committee, adding willing members of the RRDT as members of that committee with particular experience and resources. This move will locate the ongoing work of addressing racism in South Carolina in a standing committee of the Annual Conference.
- 2) That the Religion and Race Committee and the Advocacy Area build into their budget funding for this ongoing work that will be done in collaboration with The General Commission on Religion and Race to provide resources for congregations and church leaders that increase the following: intercultural competency, institutional equity, and vital conversations.
- 3) That the Cabinet incorporate in the Annual Charge Conference reports ways to encourage ongoing conversation in local churches around this issue. Suggested questions include:
 - a. What is your local church doing to address issues of Racism and Racial justice/injustice?
 - b. How have the members of your local church moved forward in Racial Reconciliation as individuals, community, and a congregation?

45 The vision of the BCACM: The BCACM will be a unified body of believers making disciples of Jesus
46 Christ for the transformation of the world.

48 History and Mission of the BCACM

49 BCACM is a specialized ministry of the South Carolina Conference that was established in 1966 to help
50 facilitate the needs of persons living in Marlboro and Chesterfield counties of South Carolina in a shared ministry
51 and vision. The churches that are affiliated with this ministry are Aaron Temple United Methodist Church, Bethel
52 United Methodist Church, Ebenezer United Methodist Church, Level Green United Methodist Church, Mount Zion
53 United Methodist Church, Shiloh United Methodist Church, Smyrna United Methodist Church, Saint Michael United 54 Methodist Church, and Trinity United Methodist Church. The churches that are affiliated with the BCACM have a
55 combined membership of fewer than 2500. In the initial development of the BCACM, the churches' vision was 56 that ministry could be enhanced through shared efforts. Thus, under the direction of the Sixty-Six Conference
57 Board of Mission and the leadership of Dr. John H. Graham, J.W. Curry, Jasper Smith, a team of conference
58 ministers, and a committee from the aforementioned churches, the BCACM was formed.

59 The overall mission of the BCACM is to respond to the increasing call to continue to light the flame of hope
60 by striving to build and sustain communities of character with youth, young adults, adults, and older adults who 61 have high morality, integrity, and commitment to be leaders for the sake of the present and future generations.

The BCACM seeks to minister to the family by educating and nurturing the whole person—physically, spiritually, mentally, morally, and ethically.

BCACM aims to be a beacon of light in a dismal world and to spread HOPE for families in search of healing. The opportunities provided by the grace of God involve efforts to strengthen, educate, guide, and enhance the whole family, including an individual, a couple, or a family.

The BCACM embraces the tenets of the United Methodist Church of making disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world by coordinating and developing workshops and seminars to empower our laity and clergy. The ministry continues to fulfill its mission by strengthening these churches in the areas of discipleship, outreach, lay leadership, and advocacy.

In addition, programs and ministries focus on meeting the holistic needs of families. These needs are met via weekly Bible study, prayer, workshops and seminars, school enrichment by partnering with Blenheim Elementary and Middle School, Clio Elementary and Middle School, and Bennettsville Middle School. In addition, BCACM sponsors the Sacred Saturday (focusing on children and youth ages 5-11) and Tea Time with Teens (focusing on abstinence with 10-18 girls), VBS picnic and Back-to-School Bash, quarterly leadership trainings, health screenings, soup kitchen, food distribution, summer day camps, and flood buckets.

The BCACM also partners with the communities of Shalom to address inadequate home improvements, medical emergency, hunger, and other social needs.

The BCACM is truly embodied in the principles and tenets of the connectional ministry of the South Carolina Conference and the United Methodist Church.

39 Residents are referred from across South Carolina when they leave addiction treatment facilities, in-patient
40 and outpatient mental health facilities, the prison system, shelters for victims of violence, and individual helping 41 professionals and local church pastors. Residents are expected to work or go to school and be able to pay a
42 nominal fee for residency. Residents are provided not only a safe supportive community, but also life skills, Bible
43 study and spiritual development, work support, educational assessment, parenting skills, and personal counseling
44 as they prepare to return to their homes or create new ones.

10 is not in session.

11 In the summer of 2013 GIFT served an average of 225 breakfasts a day and 322 lunches a day to children

24 UMVIM began as a vision that ordinary people could make an extraordinary difference in the world. South
25 Carolina is proudly the home of these visionaries and the beginning of this amazing ministry that is now world-
26 wide and supported by many Conferences across the United States. It has also served as the model for other 27 denominations as they have followed the lead to create hands on ministries through the years.

28 Today UMVIM is men and women who are adventurous in their faith. They yearn to not only serve Christ,
29 but also to serve Him in new and exciting ways. They want to broaden their horizons of faith as well as the 30 height and breadth of their lives. They want to go where the need is greatest and meet that need with faith, 31 hope, and love.

32 UMVIM is a fellowship of believers – lay and clergy, men and women, adults and youth – who have stepped 33 out in faith to serve the needs of communities around the world.

34 UMVIM consists of people just like you, who have felt and followed the call of Christ in their lives to go out
35 into the world to share this vision and spread the Gospel of Christ through actively working to ease the burdens
36 of others through construction, medical clinics, evangelism, VBS, and many other means.

37 Acting as the hands and feet of Christ, UMVIM missionaries help others at home and throughout the world
38 through activities such as construction and medical. Whether it is building a chapel in the Philippines or building
39 and staffing an eye clinic in Haiti, the men and women of UMVIM strive to put shoe leather on their faith. There 40 are multiple opportunities for short term or long term service, and opportunities year round in many places.

41 UMVIM meets monthly (except in June and July) on the first Tuesday of each month at Leesville UMC, in 42 Leesville, SC, at 7:30 p.m. All are invited to attend, even those who have not participated in UMVIM before.

ALDERSGATE SPECIAL NEEDS MINISTRY

"My People will live in peaceful dwelling places, in secure homes, in undisturbed places of rest." (Is.32:18)

It was an exciting year for Aldersgate Special Needs Ministry (ASNM). In its year twelve, it was blessed with support from many directions. As a helping ministry under the umbrella of the South Carolina Annual Conference, it is dependent on churches, classes, choirs, companies, corporations and compassionate, caring individuals to grow and support its services.

In its first 10 years, it was enabled to build two houses that have become home for a dozen adult special needs persons. This resource has come at a time when there is a growing need for care of persons not able to care for themselves. Their caregivers, usually parents or other relatives, have given loving care to keep them in the homes where they have grown up. But there comes a time when the circumstances of the aging of those loving family members and changing needs of the special needs persons reach their limits. A different kind of care is needed, and there are fewer and fewer choices, as State and Federal services decrease.

This year Aldersgate partnered with a family looking for a way to honor the memory of a special needs family member, and, with The United Methodist Manor of The Pee Dee, which made available a site, the gifts of a number of individuals, churches, and groups will enable "Rick's House" to open its doors to become home for four special needs men in the Pee Dee. Located at 3700 Hamer Circle on the perimeter of The Methodist Manor of The Pee Dee in Florence, the physical facility was completed at the end of February 2015. Mrs. Kathleen Baskin, mother of Frederick "Rick" Howard DeBerry, Jr., along with other family members made contributions that enabled this opening to happen.

A Dedication of "Rick's House" is set for April 19, 2015, at 2:30 p.m. at the home.

Additional gifts from churches, groups, and individual donors are being received to complete the furnishing of the house as well as to provide start up funds for recruiting, training, and hiring staff members. Several persons are ready to become residents.

This third house built in 12 years, joining the Columbia Builder's Care Home, which houses six women at 731 Sims Avenue near the Epworth campus and Aldersgate at The Oaks, housing six men on the campus of The Oaks in Orangeburg, will be home to four additional men. We will make a small dent in the need. It is a good start.

Churches of the Annual Conference are reminded to participate in ALDERSGATE SPECIAL NEEDS MINISTRY SUNDAY, AUGUST 9, 2015. Please let your congregations know ASNM is here and give them a chance to make a contribution, however large or small. The opportunities are great. The needs are great. Pray that we can grow in our ability to make the most of the opportunities and to meet the needs.

For information, check the Conference web site or contact Betty Moss McGuirt, Chairperson of ASNM, at: mmcguirt@sc.rr.com or 843-237-8040. Envelopes, brochures, and speakers can be yours.

To God be the glory!

3 Epworth Children's Home has completed 119 years of providing residential care for children from South
4 Carolina who cannot remain in their own homes. The primary goal of this Annual Conference mission is to 5 provide a safe, nurturing, faith centered residential environment where children who are not able to remain in 6 their homes receive the best possible care and are prepared to lead wholesome and productive lives.

7 During this Conference year Epworth Children's Home accomplished the following:

- 8 I. Completed the first full year of operation of the Performance and Quality Improvement Department
9 (PQI) that will keep Epworth on the cutting edge of providing quality childcare to residents and 10 their families. The Duke Endowment awarded Epworth a three year grant of $190,000 to launch
11 the new PQI initiative. The PQI department is designed to promote evidence based practices and 12 measure all outcomes by objective standards.
- 13 II. Celebrated the first full year of serving the residents of the Midlands Family Care Center, which is 14 a ground breaking venture for helping children stay with their mothers during a time when mothers
15 and children would normally be separated. Epworth, in partnership with Lexington Richland Alcohol 16 and Drug Abuse Council and in coordination with the SC. Department of Social Services is providing 17 residential care and services for mothers who are in danger of having their children removed from 18 their homes. A grant from the Duke Endowment is providing start up funding for this program.
- 19 III. Continued to create a culture of success which is reflected in the following statistics for the third
20 year in a row: 100% of Epworth's high school students graduated and were accepted into institutions
21 of higher learning; 76% of residents had no failing grades; 97% of residents had two or fewer 22 behavior referrals; 50% of residents earned academic honor roll at their schools; 88% of residents
23 maintained a "C" average or better.
- 24 IV. For the second year in a row received the coveted 4-star rating from Charity Navigator for sound 25 fiscal management and commitment to accountability and transparency. Charity Navigator is the 26 leading charity evaluator in America. The 4-star rating is the highest rating awarded.
- 27 V. Averaged 88 children per day in the residential population plus supported 11 higher education 28 students who lived off campus. In addition, the Epworth Early Intervention (EEI) program averaged 29 14 children per week in a preschool program. This program serves children who experience devel-
30 opmental delays. The EEI program also served 37 families on a regular basis through its home 31 based component. One hundred fifty children were served at any given time through this program.
- 32 VI. Began year eight of a Funds Development Plan that includes the goal of increasing per church 33 member giving to a minimum of $6.00 per member. The per member giving average for 2014 was 34 $7.19. Church giving increased by $72,868 in 2011; increased by $109,541.59 in 2012; and 35 increased by $22,000 in 2013. Total giving increased in 2013 by $102,887 and by $204,878 in 36 2014. The number of churches that failed to respond to Epworth's financial appeals for children
37 increased from 213 to 226. There were 358 churches that met or exceeded the minimum of $6.00
38 per member average. This is an increase of .92 cents per member from 2013. A complete report 39 can be located at www.epworthchildreshome.org.
- 40 VII. Adopted a budget of $5,878,469 for the fiscal year 1-1-15 through 12-31-15. This includes 41 $90,000 in Title I funds, and grants from the City of Columbia and from Richland County for the 42 Independent Living Initiative.
- 43 VIII. The Epworth Board of Trustees continued the policy of reducing the amount drawn from the 44 endowment and transferred to budget expenditures by $200,000 each year until the maximum 45 draw is 5% or below per year. The difference in the amount drawn from the endowment and operating 46 costs has to date been covered by a combination of reducing operating costs and by increasing 47 revenue and donations. The endowment draw has been reduced by $1,100,000 per year. The 48 goal of a draw of 5% or less was achieved again this year.
- 49 IX. Continued to be accredited by EAGLE Accreditation Commission of the United Methodist Association.
50 The EAGLE accreditation is effective for the period of five (5) years, July 2010 through July 2015.
51 The United Methodist Association serves more than 380 health and human service organiza-
52 tions and professionals nationwide. The Educational Assessment Guidelines Leading toward 53 Excellence or EAGLE accreditation involves meeting a set of high standards that are designed to 54 enhance the governance of and the quality of services provided by an institution.
- 55 X. Continued to expand the Higher Education Program by adding resources to the Supervised Inde-
56 pendent Living Initiative. This program is designed to serve youth between the ages of seventeen
57 (17) and twenty-one (21) who are "aging out" of child care, yet need limited supervision, guidance, 58 and a home as they learn job skills and transition into the adult world.
- 59 XI. At the time this report was written, the firm of DeLoach and Williamson, LLP, was conducting the 60 annual independent audit; thus, no audit information was available. By the time this report is 61 published, the audit information should be available at www.epworthchildrenshome.org.

- XII. Thirty-nine percent of Epworth's income is generated from a combination of state and federal money and fees for service payments. This amount is far lower than most other homes. It is largely through the generosity of South Carolina United Methodists that once again Epworth has been able to provide over four million dollars in fully subsidized services to children and families in South Carolina.

THE MINISTRY AND MISSION OF THE OAKS

Mission Statement

Our mission is to provide superior retirement living Continuing Care and a working environment that nourishes the human spirit and preserves personal dignity by addressing the whole person in an atmosphere which witnesses Christian values and love.

The Oaks was established in 1953 and opened with the first ten residents in 1954 at its main campus just south of Orangeburg, SC. Today, the Oaks serves more than 500 residents and clients on its main campus, at its PACE facility in Orangeburg, and in the greater Orangeburg community. On the main campus, the Oaks provides several active Independent Living options, Assisted Living and Skilled Nursing Care as well as Rehabilitative

1 Services. As the retirement environment has changed, the Oaks has expanded its services and where and how 2 it provides them.

3 The Program of All-inclusive Care for the Elderly (PACE) provides holistic medical and health-related care to 4 poor, frail, elderly clients in the greater Orangeburg community and is operated in a modern day facility located
5 at 153 Founders Court, Orangeburg, SC. PACE is currently serving 139 participants and has been approved to 6 expand into Bamberg County when more Medicaid slots become available from the state.

7 Live@Home Choices provides services that improve quality of life and allow clients to stay in their homes
8 and communities longer and more independently than they would be able to on their own. Home care and 9 in-home technology in concert make the program work.

10 On campus, the Oaks offers many activities that nourish residents and clients physically, mentally, and spiritually.
11 These activities are now available to the community through the Passport to the Oaks, which allows these clients
12 who do not live on our campus to participate in activities and use facilities such as the swimming pool and fitness
13 center. Live@Home Choices is also available on campus, allowing residents to stay in the Independent Living
14 and Assisted Living options longer. As part of the Oaks broader Christian mission, space and support have been 15 provided for the first Aldersgate Home in South Carolina. Aldersgate Special Needs Ministry is a ministry of the 16 South Carolina Conference of the United Methodist Church that provides residence and support for adults with 17 developmental disabilities. The Oaks site provides for 6 male residents.

18 The Oaks is a 501(c)(3) corporation, which is a not-for-profit charitable and religious organization. It is 19 directed by the Oaks Board of Trustees which is a 21-member board consisting mainly of South Carolina United 20 Methodist clergy and laity. Each board member is qualified before being asked to serve, resulting in each
21 member bringing particular skills to benefit the Oaks. The Board of Trustees is committed to the mission of the 22 Oaks and works closely with the Chief Executive Officer and his staff to look strategically at the Oaks future. The 23 Board of Trustees, Executive Committee and Finance Committee meet at least quarterly to monitor the status and 24 review the direction of the Oaks. Sub-committees of the board meet regularly throughout the year, ranging from 25 committees that consider services offered to board governance issues. In addition, annual planning sessions are 26 held with the board of trustees and executive and senior staff to determine the future direction of the Oaks.

27 We are excited about our new Oaks ARMS (Alzheimer's, Respite, Memory Support) Adult Day Center at 28 The Oaks which is open and is serving participants. This program will care for 24 dementia participants from the 29 Orangeburg Area. In the near future, The Oaks will bring on line a 31-bed Assisted Living Dementia unit for 30 those persons who need the specialized care.

31 Our new Home Health Service and a physician office located on our campus along with an audiologist, podiatrist,
32 and optician provide convenient health care services for our residents.

33 The Oaks offers a discount on move-in fees to retired Methodist pastors and continues to assist residents
34 who have outlived their resources. The generous apportionment of the SC Conference of The United Methodist 35 Church helps greatly with this effort, and The Oaks is most appreciative.

36 Our new 11 acre Lake is part of our long range plans to enhance our amenities as we develop new living
37 options for our residents of the future. At 11 acres, stocked with fish, the Lake is large enough for canoes, 38 kayaks, small sail boats, as well as our Oaks Yacht Club. Offering myriad outdoor activities for residents and 39 groups such as Scouts, students, and naturalists, the Lake is a major element in our planned cottage expansion.

40 As the retirement environment and the needs of those individuals who are served continue to change, the Oaks
41 will remain committed to its ministry and mission and provide new and innovative services to do so. If you are not 42 already familiar with the Oaks, we invite you to contact us, visit our facilities, and find out more about our services.

44 45 46 WESLEY COMMONS 47

48 On behalf of our residents, customers, employees, and board members, we want to thank the South Carolina
49 United Methodist Conference for its continued support of our mission.

50 Fiscal Year 2014 marked another year of continued progress of our programs and services. We currently 51 serve over 400 residents on our campus. We are very pleased to see our campus occupancy continuing to grow
52 from a steady migration of retirees from across the country. With more than two-thirds of our residents moving to 53 Wesley Commons from more than 100 miles away, we have re-engineered our services and amenities to 54 accommodate this booming population. Involvement with our resident committees allows us to continuously fine
55 tune the scope of our offerings for the present while we prepare for the future.

56 With the continued success of our Wellness and Healthy Lifestyle Programs, our campus has remained 57 vibrant and active. Our enhanced wellness complex continues to serve over 250 customers, not including a
58 significant number of employees, every week. Class types range from weightlifting and water aerobics to yoga
59 and massage. Aquatic Therapy is also available through our extensive rehabilitation program by skilled physical 60 and/or occupational therapists. Approximately 60% of our independent living residents participate in over 30
61 different classes each week and roughly 32% of our assisted living residents participate in our programs as well.

The Skilled Nursing Facility also participates via satellite Wellness Programs and Moving Masters through the coordination of our Therapy Department and Certified Recreational Therapist. Participation in our wellness programs has added more than improved health for our residents; it has sparked a youthful energy and excitement felt campus wide.

To continue and maintain our growth and lifestyle offerings, we are finalizing plans for expanded and unique dining venues, culinary experiences, and services. Our already active outdoor recreation areas will soon be expanded for opportunities such as pickle ball, bocce ball, picnic/grill areas, and other outdoor spaces for activity and socializing. We are also fine tuning plans for a state of the art inpatient rehabilitation program, to include a new therapy gymnasium, long term care facility as well as plans for additional community living, assisted living and special care homes and apartments.

We are extremely happy to share that we are preparing to break ground on another significant expansion of services and offerings at Wesley Commons. Our latest expansion will touch every area of our campus. The first phase of our plans will add another restaurant venue to our Residential Living Campus with new indoor and outdoor offerings. Concurrently, we will build another assisted living house in our Palmetto Place neighborhood to enable our ability to serve many currently on waiting lists for that service. The last and largest part of the expansion in our first phase will be the creation of a new medical/wellness campus designed to house a new, exceptionally unique post-acute rehabilitation facility and a long term skilled nursing home. Our challenge, which we remain vigilant to overcome, is to design these exceptional programs to be affordable and viable for a diverse population.

More specifically, our new medical facility will continue to serve a Medicaid and lower income population that are ½ of the entire population served. We believe that, if we can achieve this goal, its success will spread to others, so that in the near future, a skilled nursing home will look and operate nothing like what we have accepted in the past, regardless of one's income.

As we have shared, Wesley Commons received a mandate by the state to reduce the number of low income (Medicaid) patients being served by a significant factor. While we support the state's vision to become fiscally responsible stewards of taxpayer resources, our board and staff stayed true to our heritage of care and refused to turn our backs on those who called Wesley Commons home. To that end, the state imposed a significant fine on Wesley Commons for not turning our backs on those most in need. While this state action is a setback in our ability to continue our mission of care to an economically diverse population, we have a renewed passion to seek new and better ways to serve those in need, regardless of the changing headwinds.

As you can see, our ministry to serve our older brothers and sisters continues to grow as a result of our expanding programs. In 2014, Wesley Commons provided over $1,200,000 of subsidized care. We are grateful for the support of the Methodist Conference in its allocation of just over $180,000 towards assisting those in need. The support of the Conference and other private donors enables Wesley Commons to provide support for many in need.

Wesley Commons', Methodist Oaks', and Methodist Manor's need for support will only increase as our communities continue to grow and, conversely, our state and federal funding for our nation's seniors continues to be reduced. Wesley Commons' current level of support is extremely taxing on our resources. Our ongoing Ministry will not be possible without the constant support of our friends, such as the Conference. We thank you for your continued financial support of those who built our great nation and deserve our fullest attention.

In His Interest,

The Reverend James F. Patterson, Chairman

CLAFLIN UNIVERSITY

University Highlights

Recognized as one of the nation's leading liberal arts institutions, Claflin University sustained its commitment to provide an environment for high quality living and learning with a plethora of inspirational and motivational events. The spiritual life of the campus continues to be enhanced and uplifted with traditional activities that included the University's official kick-off of its Young Clergy Initiative during the revered Granville Hicks Leadership Academy for Laity and Clergy.

Claflin University was ranked for the 16th consecutive year by U.S. News and World Report in 2014. The University was also ranked the number one liberal arts college in South Carolina and among historically black colleges or universities in the nation by Washington Monthly in its 2014 Best Liberal Arts Colleges rankings. Claflin was once again ranked one of the top colleges in the nation by Forbes.com. Claflin University also ranked first among HBCUs on the U.S. News and World Report Short List for its 52.2% alumni giving rate.

Dr. Henry N. Tisdale celebrated his 20th year as president of Claflin University. The Visionary Leadership Gala was held in September in honor of him and his wife, First Lady Alice Carson Tisdale, as well as all 20-year-plus employees of the University. This gala raised nearly $400,000 for scholarships.

1 Clafin University was chosen as one of nine HBCUs nationwide to help the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation
2 set about transforming higher education as part of the Foundation's HBCUs Pursuing Transformative Change
3 initiative. The goal is to ensure student access and success at institutions in the 21st century by creating a
4 system of higher education that addresses the challenges students face when transitioning to college.

5 International students now have the opportunity to learn the English language and culture before beginning
6 their journey to receive an American academic education through Clafin University's new Intensive English
7 Language Program, which was launched this summer. The 12-month, research-based program aims to enable 8 students to improve their English language proficiency rapidly and effectively so that they can adjust to American 9 classroom cultures and university environments.

10 Emmanuel Pressley, a senior politics and justice studies major from Hemingway, was named Clafin University's 11 first-ever Harry S. Truman Scholar in April – and the only one from South Carolina in 2014. The Truman is a highly 12 competitive, merit-based award offered to U.S. college students who want to go to graduate school in preparation for 13 a career in public service and is considered a steppingstone to other prestigious awards, including the Rhodes
14 Scholarship and the Marshall Scholarship.

15 In an effort to continue and expand its tradition of access and success, Clafin University launched three fully 16 online degree programs in the fall. Degrees offered through Clafin Online include the Bachelor of Arts in Criminal 17 Justice, the Bachelor of Science in Organizational Management, and the Master of Business Administration.
18 Another new online degree program will be launched in fall of 2015.

19 For the past four years, Clafin University has participated in the President's Interfaith and Community
20 Service Campus Challenge by offering interfaith forums and awareness events that draw hundreds of student 21 participants. This year's event featured a panel discussion that included representatives from Christian,
22 Buddhist, Islamic and Hindu traditions.

23 The 22nd annual Granville Hicks Leadership Academy for Laity and Clergy was held February 12-13 in the 24 University's James and Dorothy Z. Elmore Chapel. The two-day event included a panel discussion, worship
25 service, luncheon, workshops, and lectures. The theme for this year's event was "Hurting Communities, Hurting
26 Leaders: Meeting the Next Decade of Challenges in Ministry." Keynote speaker was Rev. Olu Brown, lead
27 pastor of Impact Church in Atlanta, Georgia, who talked about "Developing Next" in ministry and individually.

28 In addition, this year's Granville Hicks Leadership Academy also served as the official kick-off for Clafin's
29 Young Clergy Initiative. Clafin was awarded a $100,000 grant from The United Methodist Church's Young 30 Clergy Initiative Fund in the fall to increase the number of potential candidates to become qualified ministers to 31 serve United Methodist churches. The grant will support a recruitment effort and program at the University that is 32 centered on introducing rising high school seniors to the ordained ministry in the UMC, and will foster partner-
33 ships involving Clafin and faith communities across the region.

34 Clafin University celebrated Religious Emphasis Week during February 8-13 in the institution's James and 35 Dorothy Z. Elmore Chapel. Speakers were Dr. Lewis Brogdon, assistant professor of philosophy and religion in 36 Clafin's Department of Philosophy and Religion; Rev. Kevyn J. Amos, University chaplain; Rev. Connie Barnes, 37 director of the Wesley Foundation; and Rev. Darvin A. Adams, visiting pastor from Toledo, Ohio.

38 Additionally, Clafin continues to offer Sunday services at the James and Dorothy Z. Elmore chapel and a 39 mid-week "Pour Hour" service featuring speakers from the campus and community each Wednesday evening.
40 The chapel remains a place where visitors can seek refuge, meditation, and spiritual growth.

COLUMBIA COLLEGE

45 Recognized by U.S. News and World Report as a best value institution and ranked among the best regional 46 universities in the South, Columbia College is a dynamic learning and living community, where students, faculty, 47 and staff work together to build leaders our communities need most.

48 Since our founding 161 years ago by the South Carolina United Methodist Conference, Columbia College
49 has supported and encouraged young women in their pursuit of a quality education. The College is known for its
50 emphasis on leadership and service and is home to a nationally renowned honors program led by the 2010-2011
51 United States Professor of the Year.

52 This past year we fully implemented and started seeing results of exciting new initiatives to foster the next
53 generation of leaders. Our Institute for Leadership and Professional Excellence assures that every student has a
54 personalized plan to transition from college to her career. Beginning in her first year, each student has a personal 55 board of directors comprised of an academic advisor, a career counselor, and a community mentor. This intensive 56 mentoring is combined with a progressive plan of professional development and applied learning. Every student
57 gets real-world experience through internships so that when she graduates she is ready to further her education
58 or to begin a fulfilling career.

59 To make this experience possible for deserving young women, we offer many scholarships including the 60 Momentum Scholarship for young women with big dreams who are motivated to realize their fullest potential.
61 Our Momentum Scholarship recipients are involved in their high schools, in the community, and in their churches.

They are academically accomplished and have a personal determination that might outshine their standardized test scores.

More than 25% of our students are scholar/athletes participating in 10 conference sports. Our athletes are the current NAIA National Champions of Character, receiving the highest award in the country for their performance on and off the field.

Young women arrive at Columbia College from many backgrounds and interests, yet they share one common trait: they are serious about making a change for the better—in their own lives and in their communities.

We are confident that our initiatives will further enhance the value of a Columbia College education. New scholarship programs help us make that value available to more bright, ambitious, and talented young women for whom Columbia College is the right college choice.

Faith continues to be an important part of Columbia College. It forms the values and principles by which every member of the College community lives and works each day. Guided by our Chaplain and Director of Church Relations, Reverend Roy Mitchell, we live our beliefs and strive always to be people of character and commitment and advocate for social justice and service to the community. We hold weekly chapel services for students, faculty, and staff, with a wide variety of speakers from various backgrounds.

In 2014, we dedicated a new sacred space on campus: Mitzi's Prayer Labyrinth & Meditation Garden. When Mitzi Winesett '70 passed away in 2012, after a lengthy battle with cancer, Columbia College lost a beloved staff member, alumna, and friend. Thanks to the generosity of Southern Mutual Church Insurance and the many friends and family members Mitzi left behind, Columbia College has preserved her legacy through a quiet place of spiritual reflection. This beautiful space also serves as the location for a new monthly "Community Prayer Time."

The theme for our weekly chapel services for fall 2014 was "Care of the Earth," and we focused on ecology and the environment. For spring 2015, the theme is "Women of the Bible." This semester, students can also participate in a student-led Bible study on "Anonymous Women of the Bible." Columbia College will connect with the Methodist Student Network at the University of South Carolina in March, and our Heavenly Creations Gospel Choir will provide music for worship.

We deeply value our connection to the United Methodist Church, and to further nurture that relationship, Reverend Mitchell organized Columbia College Day in thirteen churches across the state this past year. Incorporated into regular Sunday services, these days recognize alumnae and family connections in United Methodist churches throughout South Carolina.

I have the opportunity to speak with the congregations we visit about Columbia College and thank them for their apportionments to the four UMC colleges of South Carolina. I share information about the UMC Foundation Dollars for Scholars Program and make congregations aware that Columbia College will also match any Methodist Scholarship from a church or the Conference up to $1,000, thus their scholarship dollars can be tripled.

Thank you to the SC United Methodist Conference for the support you give us in so many ways. We are doing great things with education ministry at Columbia College, and I am excited about our direction. We are continuing Columbia College's longstanding commitment to community engagement, social justice, and learning through service to others, as we educate women to be confident leaders who will positively change their own lives and the lives of others.

Elizabeth A. Dinndorf, President

SPARTANBURG METHODIST COLLEGE (SMC)

As a partner in ministry with the South Carolina Conference of The United Methodist Church and as one of the Conference's worthy missions, SMC is proud of living into the United Methodist connection in meaningful ways. We are excited to share the following updates with you from the 2014-15 academic year:

- Strategic Planning. SMC completed its most recent strategic planning process and is implementing initiatives that follow four themes: Expanding Impact; Engaging Students; Transforming Spaces; and Developing People. Under consideration are these initiatives: looking at new academic programs; updating facilities; providing expanded learning opportunities and training for faculty, staff and students. SMC will continue her mission to bring a quality college experience to deserving students through our four themes.
- Success Rate. Our success rate of 83% defined as students who begin their college career at SMC and then continue on beyond SMC, continues to exceed that of other two-year colleges. The national average is 20%. As a result of this success rate, colleges like Wofford College and the College of Charleston have established bridge programs with SMC, and others have stepped up their recruitment of our students for senior college completion. SMC maintains strong articulation agreements with a long list of four-year colleges and works to provide seamless transfer opportunities.
- United Methodist Support for Students: 5.1% (35 students) of the student body at SMC receive United Methodist scholarship support, including two dependents of United Methodist clergy members. Funds include the United Methodist Higher Education Foundation (Dollars for Scholars and Foundation Scholarships) as well as funding from the General Board of Higher Education and Ministry (UM allocation,

1 UM general scholarships, and UM private loan fund). This support is above and beyond the very
2 generous apportionment funding SMU receives as a mission of the South Carolina Conference.

- 3 • Academic Program. SMU has searches underway for three faculty members in English, Economics/
4 Business, and Mathematics. These new colleagues will join a vibrant faculty that includes 57% (26)
5 with the terminal degree in their fields. Several faculty members have active research lives in addition 6 to teaching freshman and sophomore-level classes and invite students to participate in research with 7 them. We are pleased to have awarded tenure to psychology professor Dr. Mary Jane Farmer this 8 academic year.
- 9 • Commitment to Service and Worship. SMC was once again named to the national President's Honor
10 Roll for Service for the fifth consecutive year. Under the guidance of Rev. Candice Sloan, Chaplain of 11 the College and Director of Church Relations, the SMC community provided over 6,000 hours of service
12 in Spartanburg and elsewhere. In addition, Rev. Sloan provides outstanding worship and reflection
13 opportunities for the campus community, including a special program on faith formation in the Fall
14 2014 semester, a program which served as her project for the completion of her Doctor of Ministry
15 degree from Wesley Theological Seminary. We look forward to addressing Rev. Sloan as "Rev. Dr.
16 Candice Sloan" in the near future.
- 17 • Fundraising. SMU completed its $15 million "Pioneering the Future: The Centennial Campaign for 18 Spartanburg Methodist College" in April 2014 and is now working on fundraising for projects that 19 support the "Transforming Spaces" theme from our strategic planning work. Chief among those 20 projects are facilities for teaching science, programs to better engage students, residence hall 21 updates, and fitness facilities for all of our students to use.
- 22 • Athletics. The athletic program continues its outstanding success, with baseball and softball achieving 23 national rankings prior to their seasons. If you haven't taken in a Pioneer athletic event, you need to!

25 Among some very special news, SMC History Professor Dr. Katherine Cann and former SMC President
26 Rev. Dr. George Fields published a book in October 2014: Turning Point: The American Revolution in the 27 Spartan District. According to the publishers (Hub City Press), the book tells the story of how inexperienced
28 backcountry militiamen in the Old Spartan District bottled up the British and learned how to defeat a seasoned
29 foe. As a bonus, there's a guide to the Spartanburg Revolutionary War Trail, a driving tour of twelve spots in the 30 Spartan District that were central to the American victory.

31 Thank you for your continued support of our mission at SMC.

32 Respectfully submitted,

34 35 36 WOFFORD COLLEGE

37
38 At Wofford College the 2014-15 academic year has been marked by incredible vision, planning, and growth.
39 In October the Board of Trustees approved the Strategic Vision document, which lays the framework for Wofford's
40 continuing quest to be a premier, innovative, and distinctive national liberal arts college defined by excellence,
41 engagement, and transformation in its commitment to prepare superior students for meaningful lives as citizens,
42 leaders, and scholars. We are grateful that the United Methodist Church is our steadfast partner in this mission,
43 and I am thrilled to report that the Strategic Vision is already becoming a reality. The Rosalind S. Richardson
44 Center for the Arts and the Jerry Richardson Indoor Stadium, both scheduled to be complete in the fall of 2017,
45 are exciting projects that will give all of our students, as well as our alumni and the Spartanburg and United 46 Methodist communities, venues to explore and engage the world through Wofford.

47 In the fall, the college also welcomed the largest class in the college's 160-year history. Many of these first-
48 year students have already studied abroad, completed internships, and formed the type of close-knit relationships
49 that are hallmarks of a Wofford education. The college's student body now exceeds 1,600 students, with 16% of 50 those from United Methodist families. The college's 246 United Methodist students shared in more than $6.8
51 million in financial aid this year (100% of the South Carolina Annual Conference's contribution goes toward 52 financial assistance for these deserving students).

53 One of those students is current senior Palmer Cantler (Class of 2015). Palmer has definitely made the most
54 of her Wofford experience: she has studied abroad, held leadership and service positions on campus, and sung
55 the National Anthem at Wofford sporting events. This spring, Palmer was offered a full scholarship to attend
56 Duke University's Divinity School, where she plans to enroll in the fall. The scholarship includes three paid
57 internships as well. Palmer is just one excellent example of the results of the partnership between Wofford
58 College and the United Methodist Church.

59 Other examples of recent student successes include four Wofford students who have accepted the Teach
60 for America call and will be working in under-served schools across the country for the next two years: a student
61 who has been selected as a University Innovation Fellow by the National Center for Engineering Pathways to 62 Innovation funded by the National Science Foundation; Truman and Fulbright scholarship finalists who will know more about their postgraduate plans in the late spring; and a student who just had an essay published in South Carolina Wildlife magazine.

Recent national publications validate the college's commitment to an affordable and extraordinary student experience. The Princeton Review's new book, Colleges That Pay You Back: The 200 Best Value Colleges and What It Takes to Get In – 2015 Edition, praises Wofford for offering students and families a high rate of return on their educational investment. Kiplinger's Personal Finance recently included Wofford on its list of the country's best values in private colleges, U.S. News and World Report listed Wofford as a top 40 great school at a great price, and the New York Times included Wofford among the top 99 most economically diverse top colleges. This means that Wofford is home to students across the income spectrum and that we successfully graduate students in four years so that they may begin to embrace their world.

During their four years at Wofford, our students learn to be servant leaders by engaging in projects in cooperation with the General Board of Global Ministries, the Board of Church and Society, and the General Board of Higher Education and Ministry. Leading these efforts are Perkins-Prothro Chaplain and Professor of Religion, Dr. Ron Robinson, Wofford Class of 1978, and the Rev. Paige Matthews, a 2007 Wofford graduate and minister with young adults and college students at Mauldin United Methodist Church, who recently joined the Wofford campus ministry staff and works with the Wofford Wesley Fellowship one day each week. We are also pleased to announce that Chaplain Robinson has expanded the services of the Office of the Chaplain to offer coaching to students, faculty, and staff. He's already logged more than 250 hours of coaching in the past year and is completing the credentialing process to become a certified coach in the United Methodist Church.

We invite our friends and partners in the South Carolina Conference of the United Methodist Church to visit us at any time. Come see for yourself all of the good work we are doing together for the students at Wofford College.

Nayef H. Samhat, President

THE CHARLESTON WESLEY FOUNDATION

Charleston Wesley Foundation (CWF) is charged with providing Methodist campus ministry for the campuses of The Citadel, College of Charleston (CofC), Charleston Southern University (CSU), Trident Technical College (TTC), and the Medical University of South Carolina (MUSC). The 2014-15 Conference year has been one of transition for the CWF as the former director, Lisa Hawkins, returned to ministry within the local church, and I took over as director. CWF is grateful for her years of unparalleled nurture and compassion to the students under her care for the past 13 years.

This year has seen the continuation and growth of active ministries at The Citadel and CofC, as well as the founding of an active weekly ministry on the CSU campus. A major development at the Citadel has been the formation of a worship band that leads the musical portion of each week's worship. The music team has also begun to bless several local congregations on Sunday mornings throughout the year. This band, along with the increased efforts of small group table leaders, has led to increased participation at the weekly worship gatherings. The CofC students have begun several weekly prayer meetings to allow more time for those students to gather in the essential ministry of prayer. CSU has moved from periodic participation in joint CWF events to establishing a weekly Bible study.

In addition to the weekly worship gatherings, CWF has engaged in several spiritual growth retreats, including a fall retreat to Lake Wiley, a women's retreat weekend, and a trip to Divine Rhythm in collaboration with the Holston Conference. The various campuses were also brought together regularly through Friday night fellowship dinners at my family's home.

CWF has been very active in witness and mission this year. On several occasions, the students have written letters of thanks and appreciation to other students, professors, school administrators, food staff workers, etc. in an expression of Christian thanksgiving and love. Twenty shoeboxes were collected for Christmas Child. Several outreach events were held in the Citadel barracks to bless the cadets and share God's love within the battalions. CWF participated in a fall and spring mission weekend at Rural Mission on John's Island. We partnered with Winthrop Wesley for the fall event. The weekends allowed the students to help families in desperate need in our local island communities. Finally, the CWF will be embarking on its first international mission trip to Ecuador in support of the Methodist Church in Pijal and the surrounding villages.

The weekly worship and study gatherings, prayer meetings, fellowship gatherings, retreats, and outreach events are bearing spiritual fruit within the participating students. Some of this influence can be seen in four students now considering a call to vocational ministry, two in the military and two in local church settings. Other fruit can be witnessed in the testimony given by the 60+ attendees at our weekly worship and study meetings, or the 800+ students we have connected with through our campus outreach, ecumenical Christian worship, and mission trip events.

While there is much to celebrate, there is still much work to do. It is beyond the ability of one minister to reach so many campuses and students. Much has been done, as mentioned above; however, there are more students who need discipleship and pastoral care than can be cared for. The leadership of TTC specifically has pleaded for us to have a greater presence on the TTC campus. This college's unique setting along with a lack of 1 manpower has led to the stalling of ministry attempts there. The main focus on that campus and MUSC has 2 been connecting seeking students to local UMC congregations during their campus student fairs.

3 To address these needs, the amazing CWF board of directors and I have devoted much time to developing
4 infrastructure by building up student leadership to be disciplers of CWF attendees, by preparing for student
5 interns, and by exploration of how to bring more pastoral care to the Charleston area campuses. Along with 6 these efforts, we have exploring how to plug CWF students into local congregations while they are in Charleston
7 attending college. We are learning valuable lessons along the way.

8 We could not be where we are today without the office space and meeting space provided by Trinity UMC and 9 Bethel UMC, respectively. Additionally, the monetary donations and food provided by some of the congregations in 10 the Charleston district are crucial in making the ministry of CWF possible.

11 In the spirit of faithfulness to Christ's calling upon us as a Church, I pray you will find ever increasing ways to 12 support the Wesley Foundations and college ministry in your local area. The fields are ripe for the harvest if we 13 as a Church are willing to give our prayers, presence, resources, gifts, and witness to these students in our 14 midst.

15 In Christ,

16 Aaron Meadows, Director, Campus Pastor

19 THE CLEMSON WESLEY FOUNDATION

21 This is a great time to serve in campus ministry. Students at Clemson University and Tri-County Technical 22 College (TCTC) are passionate about loving God. They are equally passionate about serving others. As I wrap
23 up my second year at Clemson Wesley (CW), I wish to celebrate many things with you. CW and Clemson UMC
24 (CUMC) continue to work closely in a covenant relationship to reach the students, faculty, and staff at our local 25 institutions. As in past years, we have connected with over 600 students this school year. Several hundred 26 students call CUMC home for Sunday morning worship, while hundreds more are active in CW.

27 Over the past year, we had more than 100 students participate in weeklong mission trips to Tuscaloosa,
28 New Orleans, Denver, and Little Rock. In addition to these week-long trips, our students also engage in weekly
29 outreach to the local community. These weekly service opportunities include working at an animal shelter,
30 working in a retirement home, talking with homeless people, and volunteering at a soup kitchen. Students at CW
31 also engage in over 13 different small group opportunities throughout the week. We have two worship services,
32 Evensong and Eventide, which average 80 and 39 in attendance, respectively. In all that we do, CW continues 33 to be a place that welcomes all students as they are, treats them like family, helps them grow in their faith, and 34 finds ways to serve both God and neighbor.

35 One of the challenges and celebrations of campus ministry is that we must operate with an intense sense of 36 urgency. In my short two years, I have already said goodbye to four different groups of graduates, and because of 37 the dynamic nature of campus ministry, half of my congregation are new students who have arrived after me. Need-
38 less to say, there is little time to spare when operating with a 4-year window, at best, to impact the lives of students.

39 On the flip side, this constant welcome and sending of students creates excitement. Our mission in the UMC
40 is to make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world. There are not many contexts like mine
41 where I literally send 25% of my congregation into the world each year with the hope of greater transformation.
42 Each year we send graduates to seminary or into the candidacy process. Equally as important, each year we 43 send dozens of teachers, nurses, engineers and business people into the world to live and serve others from a
44 gospel perspective. As hard as it is to see these students leave, there is also a great sense of optimism knowing 45 that they are today's new leaders. We are sending them into your communities and churches.

46 Investing in vital campus ministries that are bearing tangible fruit is an investment in the future of the UMC
47 and the communities we live in. It is my hope that the SC Conference will continue to fund and even increase
48 funding for campus ministries. Bishop Holston encourages us to dream God-sized dreams, and we desperately 49 need God-sized vision for our campus ministries.

50 Many of you already understand the importance of this great ministry. All that we do at CW would not be
51 possible without all of the Sunday school classes, men's and women's groups, youth pastors, clergy, individuals, 52 and congregations across the Conference who faithfully support Clemson Wesley through apportionments and 53 special gifts. It is an honor to partner with you as we reach out to our young adults on campus.

54 Rev. Steve Simoneaux, Director, Campus Minister

58
59 The reign of God is breaking in upon us, even now, Jesus proclaimed. As people are healed, the good news
60 proclaimed, the captives set free, and the blind made to see, the reality of God's healing, reconciling, and trans-
61 forming power is manifest in our midst. The reign of God is breaking into the lives of students at the University of 62 South Carolina and into the campus ministry called the Methodist Student Network (Wesley Foundation) as we worship, serve each other and especially the “least of these,” learn about the mysteries of faith, offer hospitality, 1 work for justice, and work for the full realization of God’s rule. The Methodist Student Network is a Pentecost 2 community of faith comprised of students from many faith traditions, ethnicities, nationalities, and socio-economic 3 backgrounds. It is a community striving to be hospitable to all regardless of background, language, sexual orientation, 4 or maturity of faith. We are young, imperfect but passionate about the spiritual life, and intentional about living out 5 this life in practical and faithful ways. These are some of the signs of the reign of God breaking in among us. 6

We serve on 11 occasions as a ministry each week. We go daily to the Washington Street Soup Cellar to 7 pour tea, serve food, entertain through music, and offer words of encouragement. We tutor and mentor two times 8 a week after school at the Prosperity Project, a program for at risk, latch key children from Gonzales Gardens. We 9 work four times week with an ESL program for adults and caring for the children in West Columbia. Additionally, 10
we serve on many other occasions and contexts such as Epworth’s Children’s Home, the Tucker Center, Rural 11
Mission, Agape, and Harvest Hope. 12

We are in mission a number of times each year. This past year we took five different mission trips to 13 demonstrate and share the gospel in word and deed. We took groups to serve on these occasions for various 14 lengths of time to Detroit to do urban ministry through the Cass Community Center and UMC. We also traveled 15 to the Sea Islands twice to aid in the work with Rural Mission. Over spring break we went on mission to Missaulli, 16
Ecuador, where we performed a variety service including offering a dental and optometry clinic. In May we traveled 17 to Toronto, Canada, to work with the L’arche Community serving the mentally and physically challenged. 18

About 80 students gather in small groups throughout the week to support one another and to learn more 19 about their faith. We have two freshman groups, several coed groups, a graduate group, and Bible/theology 20 study groups, and a group geared to international students just beginning to explore the Christian faith. We also 21 have a men’s and a women’s group. We have based these groups on a Covenant Discipleship model. This year 22 we held four retreats involving some 200 students to allow concentrated time for building the community and 23 intentionally connecting with God. 24

We worship Sunday evening in a lively and joyous manner, utilizing the various gifts of students and a diversity 25 of traditions from the global church. Afterwards, we eat together a meal donated by a local United Methodist church 26 or prepared by our students. We include elements of worship in other settings including the small groups. 27

The Campus Ministry Center is a place of hospitality where many students gather to socialize, eat, study, 28 and meet to talk. It is also home to other groups and ministries. We have a dinner group for internationals that 29 meets bi weekly and continue to work with students and other religious organizations to build interfaith relations. 30
The Table of Abraham was one of the projects we sponsored. 31

We offer sincere thanks to all the people and churches that support this connectional ministry. This ministry 32 would not be possible without this support. We thank the Board members, local churches, Sunday School classes, 33 and UM Men’s and Women’s groups. We are grateful that they are so helpful. And, of course, I offer thanks to 34 my students and staff. They are what make us as vital and dynamic as we are. Thanks be to God for all of you. 35

FURMAN WESLEY FELLOWSHIP 40

One of our goals at Furman Wesley Fellowship is to be a place where students are invited to be themselves, 42 a place where all are invited to wrestle with beliefs that may be challenged by the campus life, and a place 43 where we are invited into a relationship with God and one another. Furman Wesley seeks to be a place to “Be, 44 Belong, Engage, and Connect.” 45

In our winter newsletter I wrote about being on campus at random times and on random days, and hearing 46 my students say, “What are you doing here?” when we had an unexpected encounter. Below is an excerpt of 47 that article that speaks to what we seek to be, and do, on the campus of Furman University: 48

“What are you doing here?” 49

*I had just spent the day working in Furman’s Trone Student Center, and as I drove home, these words reso- 50
nated in my heart. “What did they mean?” I thought to myself. “I work here, I’m usually around campus!” However, 51 it was a fair question; it was a Monday, and there is no official Wesley event that happens on Monday, so to see 52 me in the Trone Center was a bit startling I suppose. It must have been, I mean, four different students walked 53
by and asked me that very question, “What are you doing here?” 54*

*Yes, we have our Tuesday night gatherings and our Thursday lunches – and even my Office Hours on 55
Thursday afternoons. Yet, it was this day, a random Monday, that provided reassurance that campus ministry is 56 a vital part of our United Methodist Church. On this day I got very little work accomplished; rather, I spent most 57 of the day in conversation with students about all that was going on in their lives. Some of the interaction was light- 58 hearted and silly, and some was very poignant and serious, but all of it was meaningful. It was an opportunity to 59 connect as fellow sojourners on the path of faith. 60*

1 The scriptures are filled with stories of Jesus going to someone's house to teach, to heal, to call, and even to
2 raise the dead. Jesus did not require that the people come to him when they needed something; he chose to be
3 where they were in the hopes that in these divine moments they may understand better what it means to live as 4 God intended. However, I imagine that at moments in his ministry, he too encountered the question, "What are 5 you doing here?" Maybe when Jesus showed up at Mary and Martha's after Lazarus' death, he was greeted with 6 the question, "What are you doing here [now]?" Possibly, when he entered Matthew's tax collecting office, he 7 heard, "What are you doing here?" Most certainly after three days in the tomb, there was the refrain of, "What 8 are you doing here?"

9 Our ministry on college campuses is about being Jesus' hands, feet, ears, and hearts to the college community.
10 It is about showing up at moments they don't expect, but so desperately need, with an encouraging word, an ear to 11 listen, and a heart to care. I am so thankful to the SC Annual Conference, the Furman Wesley Board, my student 12 leadership team, and the awesome young adults at Furman for the opportunity to serve this campus. It is an 13 honor to walk alongside some of the best that our world has to offer!

14 May this be our Annual Conference's message to our young adults: when asked, "What are you doing 15 here?" let's answer, "We're here for you!"

Rev. Edward L. McCutcheon
Campus Minister

THE ORANGEBURG WESLEY FOUNDATION – CAMPUS MINISTRY CENTER

For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heave. (Ecclesiastes 3:1).

25 This is the season of celebration: Orangeburg Wesley is 40 years old! We praise God as we celebrate our 26 ministry with students, faculty, and staff at Claflin and South Carolina State Universities and the larger Orangeburg
27 community. We will have special events throughout the year to observe the 40th year of this ministry. Your partici-
28 pation is requested. We also invite all former participants of the Orangeburg Wesley Foundation to contact us for 29 inclusion in the anniversary booklet.

30 As I enter my second year of campus ministry, the learning curve is narrowing. The past year has been a
31 time of expectation, prayer, and faith-renewal. Without a doubt, God became more apparent in the challenges
32 and the faces of the students and adults who participated and offered themselves in campus ministry.

33 In the past year, considerable work has been done to upgrade the facility. The connectional church was at 34 work to assist us in this endeavor: United Methodist Volunteers in Mission, Orangeburg District United Methodist 35 Men and United Methodist Women, Trinity UMC, St. Paul UMC, St. Andrews UMC, North Orangeburg UMC, 36 Edisto Fork UMC, St. Mark UMC, Canaan UMC, the Body Challenge Covenant Group, and Claflin University.
37 We are grateful for the support of the Annual Conference in assisting with funds to help with the improvement of 38 the facility.

39 The board of directors provided outstanding leadership in the development of partnerships with local churches,
40 businesses, organizations, and individuals who contributed their time, talents, and resources to the ministry.
41 They were also instrumental in the selection of a ship as the ministry model to describe the scope of campus
42 ministry to the transitory student population we serve. A tag line was also included: (Orangeburg Wesley is Sailing 43 on the Sea of God's Love – Get Aboard the Wesley Ship). Each semester, we launch or introduce a different 44 ministry ship with special events, to include fellowship, worship, leadership, discipleship, stewardship, relationship,
45 and partnership.

46 The student representatives on the board of directors motivated us to be intentional in the ministry opportunities.
47 An increased number of students were exposed to campus ministry and participated in the following activities:

- 48 Monthly Gathering (cookouts, games, rations)
- 49 Tune-Up Tuesday (Bible study and snacks)
- 50 Thankful Thursday (meal and worship)
- 51 Servant Saturday (community outreach)
- 52 Service Sunday (ministry sharing to various churches)

53 We had the opportunity to attend NEXT in Denver, Colorado. It was cost prohibitive to sponsor more than 54 one student. This was a remarkable event hosted by the UMC Collegiate Ministry of the General Board of Higher
55 Education and Ministry. Every college student should have the opportunity to attend this splendid event where 56 young adults from across the country come to network, to be inspired with testimonies from their peers, to partici-
57 pate in hands-on ministry, to gain insights into their ministry calling, and to receive information and converse with 58 seminary representatives.

59 We are excited to have our first campus ministry intern. The purpose of the intern is to assist the director/
60 campus minister in the enhancement of ministry offerings, networking and sharing the ministry with students,
61 and becoming the face of the Wesley Foundation on campus. The intern will have time to develop leadership,
62 supervisory, and relational skills.

Each semester, I meet with the presidents of the universities in an effort to keep the lines of communication open and strengthen our on-going partnerships. The time with the presidents has become one of the highlights of my ministry for it provides an occasion for visionary forecasting, fellowship, and encouragement. Additionally, I continue to make myself available to frequent the numerous activities at both universities and the larger Orangeburg community.

Campus ministry needs your help. I am requesting the support of pastors and higher education coordinators to intentionally develop a relationship with the campus minister before students leave their local community. Then when they arrive at their respective college or university, they will be familiar with the ministry and parents will have a local contact. Preaching opportunities or other leadership roles for the campus minister in the life of the local church; listing the campus ministry contact information in the directory of the church; and encouraging parents to accompany their young adult to the campus ministry office when they are in the city are some small ways in which to promote campus ministry. With all of us working together, young adults will be aware of and have access to this significant service, and campus ministry will continue to be an essential ministry in the life of the South Carolina Annual Conference.

Finally, ministry is challenging in all settings. Let us encourage and support one another so that the beloved community of God will be evident on earth as it is in heaven. I am grateful for the many friends and volunteers who came to my aid with words of encouragement, unlimited advice, free lunches, and personal resources. Thank you for your prayers, your love, and your support. Thank you!

To God be the glory for the opportunity to serve in this unique and rewarding ministry,

Rev. Constance "Connie" Barnes, Director and Campus Minister

THE WINTHROP WESLEY FOUNDATION

Ministry can be such a strange and wonderful adventure.

At Winthrop Wesley in 2014, students enjoyed weekly opportunities to gather for dinner, fellowship, and worship at SUPPLY on Monday nights; free pasta and fellowship at Pasta Lunch on Tuesdays; and fellowship and discipleship at two different student-led small groups. Winthrop Wesley also offered multiple service/mission opportunities such as Mission Weekend at Rural Mission on John's Island, SC; the York County CROP Walks; multiple Stop Hunger Now packing events; participation in the SC UMC Million Book Effort; and numerous local projects with churches and organizations in the Rock Hill area. Additionally, students participated in many different relationship-building activities such as the Divine Rhythm retreat in Gatlinburg, TN; our fall rafting retreat at Lake Junaluska; and many game nights, movie nights, and holiday parties.

As usual, in 2014 our ministry was busy engaging students in the name of Jesus and providing them with vital opportunities to experience and live out the love of Christ while growing in faith together. The students were not the only ones impacted, however. My involvement in the planning and execution of the Million Book Effort often took me away from campus during the spring semester, and an unexpected family illness sidelined me for the first part of the fall semester. As a result, neither of those semesters went how I had planned or expected, but I believe that they went exactly as God intended. Regardless of my absences, Winthrop Wesley continued to shine God's light on campus and within our community. Students still experienced God in powerful ways, and I received a humbling reminder that I have been blessed and privileged to be a part of what God has been doing in and through our ministry (with or without me).

The 2014 year was a great year for Winthrop Wesley, and I thank God for that, but I also thank the South Carolina Conference, the Rock Hill District, and all of our other supporters for helping to make this success happen. It is an honor to partner with you in transforming the lives of young persons in and through the name of Jesus Christ. Please prayerfully consider continuing your support of Winthrop Wesley and your other campus ministries around the state as we continue to serve God on our respective campuses. May God bless you abundantly for all of the ways that you have been a blessing to us.

Blessings and Peace,

Rev. Ricky Howell, Campus Minister

Report Number Two Major Medical Insurance Benefits

During the year 2016 the South Carolina Conference Board of Pension and Health Benefits (the Board) has reviewed options for providing health benefits for both eligible lay employees and clergy and current and future retirees under the health plan. After review of these options, the Board recommends the following:

The South Carolina Annual Conference has elected to participate in Health Flex, the managed health care plan of the General Board of Pensions and Health Benefits of the United Methodist Church.

The South Carolina Annual Conference has elected for active HealthFlex BlueCross/BlueShield – Option B1000 HealthFlex Pharmacy Plan P2 (percentage copay) as the Standard Health Care Plan. The yearly health plan deductible is $1,000 individual and $2,000 for family and, as an option, the Consumer Driven Health Plan (CDHP). The yearly CDHP deductible is $2,000 individual and $4,000 family, but a Health Reimbursement account is funded at a $1,000 individual and $2,000 family level.

The South Carolina Annual Conference will participate in the Healthflex Incentive Program in 2015 and 2016. Details of this plan are available on the General Board of Pension and Health Benefits website under the Healthflex tab which describes the current incentive program. These wellness and incentive programs support and encourage participants and spouses to choose healthy behaviors that lead to positive health results. An active participant and covered spouse could earn incentives up to $400 under this plan.

Some of the highlights of these incentives for 2015 are as follows:

- Participants can earn points to earn the quarterly targets for demonstrating a healthy or improved level for the following health measures: blood pressure, fasting glucose (blood sugar), triglycerides, HDL cholesterol (high-density “good” cholesterol), waist circumference, and body mass index (BMI). These Wellness Points are earned on the WebMD Website and can earn up to $150 HealthCash.
- Walking and meeting quarterly activity targets earn $150 in HealthCash through the Virgin Healthmiles program. These quarterly deadlines are March, June, September, and December.

The incentive plan for 2016 is expected to continue to emphasize Completion of the HealthQuotient™ during August to September, Blueprint for Wellness Screenings during the period April to July, and participation in wellness activities year round.

31 ed until the next open enrollment period and then only if the unpaid balance has been paid.

32 Ministers Serving in Eligible Extension Ministries: It is required that all Conference boards and agencies,
33 served by ministers and others eligible for group insurance participation, pay for the "institutional share" of the 34 insured's premium. This provision shall apply to the district superintendents, conference staff and those serving 35 United Methodist agencies for whom the South Carolina Annual Conference has pension responsibility. In every 36 case the full cost of the group health premium must be paid by the insured or the employer or through the 37 combined payments of the insured and the employer. Premium payments shall be made in accordance with the 38 instructions printed on the quarterly "Statement of Account." Premium payments are due at the first of the month 39 for which the participant is billed.

40 Applications for enrollment in the Conference Insurance Program are available from the Board of Pension
41 and Health Benefits, P.O. Box 3787, Columbia, SC 29230. The change enrollment form must be completed and 42 in the hands of the benefits administrator within 30 days from the date of eligibility. If not, the applicant will be 43 ineligible until the next following enrollment period.

44 The Board of Pension and Health Benefits is charged with oversight of the group insurance program of the 45 South Carolina Annual Conference, the benefits of which program are outlined in the reports of the Board
46 submitted to the Annual Conference. The Annual Conference approves the group insurance budget of the Board
47 of Pension and Health Benefits. The Board is authorized to negotiate and contract with carriers or the Hospitali-
48 zation and Medical Expense Program Administrator to maintain the level of benefits for the eligible participants, 49 as defined by the Annual Conference.

50 The group health plan of the South Carolina Annual Conference (Conference Plan) shall be the plan of first
51 refusal for covering dependents of clergy appointed to local churches in the Conference. Where covered clergy
52 wish to cover their dependents, the local church will seek to cover such dependents through the Conference
53 Plan, rather than purchasing outside health insurance. Local churches may be excused from this requirement in 54 cases where such dependents may be covered through the employer of a covered clergyperson's spouse, or 55 through a governmental plan, such as an SCHIP, and in cases of demonstrable financial hardship.

36 The Commission on Archives and History is responsible for preserving the records of the Annual Conference, 37 a responsibility which also includes collecting the records of the present and ensuring that these records are 38 available for use in our future. The commission also helps the churches of the Annual Conference learn about 39 their rich histories and works to connect South Carolina Methodists to each other and to their past.

40 The Commission maintains repositories for records at Wofford College and at Claflin University. These 41 records include everything from the minutes of Annual Conferences, copies of the Southern Christian Advocate,
42 records of some Conference boards and commissions, records from the Florence, Greenwood, Marion, and 43 Spartanburg districts, biographical directories of clergy, subject files on many churches, and records of some closed
44 churches. We have some personal papers of several former clergy and the records of the United Methodist Women.
45 Current or retired clergy who wish to talk about what to do with their personal papers may contact the archivist.

46 For the year 2014, we responded to 223 inquiries on the Conference collection. We hosted eight visitors who 47 came to do research in the Methodist collections. The staff copied 253 obituaries from the Advocate Obituary
48 Index for researchers. Over the past seven years, we have had some 2,052 inquiries, hosted 255 visits, and 49 have produced 2,165 obituary copies. Our researchers have included everyone from local church historians and 50 family members seeking information on clergy ancestors to professional historians who are doing scholarly 51 research. We also note that since the fall of 2011, the Rev. Luther H. Rickenbaker has served as a volunteer in 52 the archives at Wofford. He has helped in the processing of the Adlai Holler and Wain Marvin Owings Papers, 53 copied obituaries, and written biographical notes about clergy in the online pictorial directory, among other tasks.
54 For the past year, he has been working with the collection of the Rev. Eben Taylor. His work continues to help
55 relate the work of the Conference to the ministry of memory.

56 The archive is working to make more of its records available online, and those who are interested may look
57 at the archives website – <http://www.wofford.edu/library/archives/methodist.aspx> – to see what's available.
58 Wofford also is hosting an online digital repository with historical addresses, a few Methodist books, and some of 59 the older Conference pictorial directories available. We also have the photographs from those directories available
60 on the archives website, and churches may download and print these materials for displays and publications.

61 The Claflin University Archives is also busily working on projects to support Methodist history. Just in the fall
62 and winter months alone, Claflin's archives received over 600 items for preservation and 37 requests for information. With assistance from work study students, obituaries and news articles have been separated and placed in binders. Claffin's latest special collections of books have been properly shelved by call numbers and now all special collections items, to include United Methodist special collections items, are easier to locate.

The Commission presents the Herbert Hucks Award for Preservation and Interpretation of church history annually to churches and individuals who have made great strides in keeping and sharing our rich history. These awards are presented during the awards session at Annual Conference. Information on applying for the Hucks Award or nominating an individual or a publication for the award is available on the archives website. Materials for the 2016 awards will be due on February 1, 2016.

We urge the members of the Annual Conference to take history seriously. Each local church bears the responsibility for maintaining its own records. When churches close, the Commission takes on these churches' records disposition responsibility, though those records do not always make their way to the archives. Board and Commission officers may call on the Conference archivist, Dr. Phillip Stone, to talk about the proper disposition of their board or commission or committee's records.

The Conference Historical Society hosted the annual meeting of the Southeastern Jurisdictional Historical Society on June 24-26, 2014, on the Wofford campus. The theme of the meeting was "Methodism and Education in South Carolina in the 19th and 20th Centuries." Among the presenters were Dr. A.V. Huff, Dr. Katherine Cann, Dr. David Mitchell, Dr. Ted Morton, and Dr. Ron Robinson. At the same time, the Historical Society of the United Methodist Church met with us in South Carolina.

As we look forward to a number of milestones in the life of our church and Conference, we hope to be involved in planning appropriate celebrations. In 2016, we will observe the 150th anniversary of the founding of the 1866 Conference. In 2022, we'll commemorate the 50th anniversary of the merger of the 1866 and 1785 Conferences into a new South Carolina Annual Conference. The Annual Conference should begin planning for the recognition of these significant anniversaries.

We thank the Conference for its continuing support and look forward to helping share our ministry of memory.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

A "Ministry of Memory"

The Conference Historical Society is a volunteer membership organization that works alongside the Commission on Archives and History to promote the study and preservation of Methodist history and of the South Carolina Conference and its antecedents. The Society believes that the study of history ultimately serves God by providing a record and testimony of the Lord's work in us and among us. The Society encourages churches to preserve documents and artifacts as a record for future generations and to remember and celebrate their history as a glory to God.

The Historical Society publishes a newsletter, sponsors educational programs, works to conserve and recognize historic sites, and provides leadership and resources to local churches. Membership is open to anyone interested in the history of Methodism and the South Carolina Conference.

In June 2014, the Historical Society hosted at Wofford College the concurrent annual meetings of the Southeastern Jurisdiction Historical Society and the Historical Society of the United Methodist Church. The meetings included a series of four substantive lectures on the theme of Methodism and Education in South Carolina in the 18th, 19th, and early 20th centuries. Led by the keynote address of the Rev. Dr. A.V. Huff, Jr., Conference Historian, participants learned important lessons about the influence of Methodism in educating the populace from the primary to college levels. Dr. Katherine Cann presented the history of Spartanburg Methodist College and its antecedent, the Textile Industrial Institute; Dr. David Mitchell related the early history of Claffin University; and Dr. Ronald Robinson reported on the historical connection of Methodism and higher education as well as the state of faith at colleges today. Methodist scholars and historians from across the United States praised the quality of the presentations at the three-day conference. Participants enjoyed a field trip to the historic Cokesbury Conference School, Tabernacle Cemetery, and the original location of Allen University. Conference attendants were privileged by the participation of Bishop L. Jonathan Holston as preacher and celebrant at the closing worship and communion service.

The Society continued to raise funds for the reconstruction and restoration of a rare and historic log cabin dating to the 1700s that was used as a lodging place by Bishop Francis Asbury during multiple visits to the South Carolina upcountry. Strategically located with other historic exhibits at the Hagood Mill Historic Site in Pickens County, the Society hopes that the cabin ideally will become a focal point for educating thousands of yearly visitors, including confirmation classes, about the Methodist church and its early history. Approximately $10,000 has been raised toward a total restoration cost of $80,000 - $90,000.

1 In the fall, the Historical Society began several initiatives. The Society created a page on the Conference
2 website which explains its mission, summarizes recent activities, and provides membership information. The 3 webpage may be accessed at <http://www.umcsc.org/home/home/historical-society/>.

4 The Society also initiated a membership drive including a special invitation to retired pastors. Further, the 5 Society began laying the groundwork for a greater attention to local church anniversaries with a letter to district
6 superintendents in October 2014, encouraging the celebration of milestone anniversaries of 225, 200, 175, 150,
7 125, 100, 75, and 50 years. The Society will honor these churches at its spring meeting on April 25, 2015.

8 As God directs, let us raise our Ebenezer(s) and remember by whose help we have come.

Joyce E. Plyler, President

THE COMMISSION ON EQUITABLE COMPENSATION (CEC)

Report Number 1

A. The Mission and Changing Focus of the Conference Commission on Equitable Compensation (CEC)

18 Historically, the CEC has served for the support of full-time clergy in the charges of the South Carolina Annual 19 Conference. Through the years, the Commission has been guided by the United Methodist Book of Discipline;
20 the latest version states the following: "It is the purpose of the commission on equitable compensation to 21 support full-time clergy serving as pastors in the charges of the Annual Conference by (a) recommending
22 Conference standards for pastoral support; (b) administering funds to be used in base compensation supple-
23 mentation; (c) providing counsel and advisory material on pastoral support to district superintendents and 24 committees on pastor-parish relations; and (d) submitting an arrearage policy to be adopted by the Annual 25 Conference." (The Book of Discipline, 2012, Paragraph 625.2) The CEC supports the overall ministry of the 26 local church, especially in transitional situations.

B. Total Compensation for Clergy

1. The CEC reminds churches and charges that salary is only one portion of total compensation. Churches and charges are urged to consider dispersing compensation in ways that will assist clergy and their families to retain as great a portion of their income as is legally possible. Churches and charges are reminded to consider total compensation and not just think of salary when thinking of clergy family needs. Likewise, clergy are reminded that they are supported in a variety of ways, and total compensation most often exceeds salary.
2. Churches and pastors are urged to keep informed of their income tax responsibilities and rights. Pastors are advised to seek qualified assistance in making decisions that will affect their income tax liabilities.

Report Number 2

A. Budget Request for 2016

1. The CEC requests that a line item apportionment of $575,000 be made to fund the CEC operational budget for 2016. These funds will be used for base compensation supplements, salary support for clergy in new church starts, special situations, and Hispanic Ministries, as well as support required and/or provided under these recommendations.
2. The request for 2016 represents a $25,000 increase over 2015.

B. Schedule of Total Minimum Compensation for Clergy Serving in the SC Annual Conference

In accordance with the mandate of The Book of Discipline, the Commission recommends that the South
Carolina Annual Conference fix the following as its minimum base compensation scale, effective January 1, 2016, and continuing until changed by the Annual Conference:

FOR FULL-TIME APPOINTMENTS AS CLERGY IN THE LOCAL CHURCH:

Category	Amount
a. Full-time Clergy in full connection	$42,797
b. Full-time Provisional, Commissioned, and Associate Members	$38,904
c. Full-time Local Pastors	$36,093

The recommendation represents a 1.6% increase over what was approved for 2015. This increase almost parallels the 1.7% cost of living adjustment made by the Social Security Administration for 2015.

[Please note that the CEC strongly encourages churches to pay the pastor's business expense through an accountable reimbursement plan which is a part of the administrative budget of the church, not part of salary.
Please see sections "O," "P," and "Q" below, entitled "O. Reimbursement for Travel and Professional Expenses," "P. Continuing Education," and "Q. Reimbursement as Administrative Cost."]

Please be aware that total compensation for full-time clergy must equal 60% of the denominational average compensation so that full-time clergy may participate in CPP. For 2015, the DAC is $66,259, and 60% of that amount is $39,755. For 2016, the DAC is $67,333, and 60% of that amount is $40,400. Full-time, provisional, commissioned, associate members and full-time local pastors must be provided with a parsonage or with a housing allowance to bring them up to this level. (For pastors with a parsonage, "total compensation" is calculated at 125% of minimum base compensation.)

C. For Deacons in Full Connection

Those persons who have responded to God's call to lead in service and to equip others for ministry through teaching, proclamation, and worship and who assist elders in the administration of the sacraments and are full-time ordained deacons in accordance with Paragraph 330 of The Book of Discipline 2012 shall be compensated by the local church not less than the minimum amount for an ordained elder of the Annual Conference. [See Paragraph 331.10(b) of The Book of Discipline 2012.] Deacons who are employed by the congregation, charge, or cooperative parish less than full time shall be compensated proportional to the percentage of time being served. (Half time would receive not less than half the minimum salary.) Deacons not employed by a congregation, charge, or cooperative ministry or who are appointed under Paragraph 331.6(d) are not affected.

D. Longevity Increases

A clergy person, who has completed five or more year's full-time service or the equivalent thereof in the South Carolina Annual Conference, shall receive, in addition to the minimum base, a supplement of $175.00 per year of service for up to 10 years of service. (In practical terms, this increase would not be applied until the fiscal year following the completed Annual Conference year. In other words, the first increase would not be applied until the January after the Annual Conference at which the clergy person completes his/her fifth year.)

Example:

Year 6	Minimum base compensation plus	$ 875.00
Year 7	Minimum base compensation plus	$1050.00
Year 8	Minimum base compensation plus	$1225.00
Year 9	Minimum base compensation plus	$1400.00
Year 10	Minimum base compensation plus	$1575.00
Year 11+	Minimum base compensation plus	$1750.00

E. Housing Allowances

The Commission recommends that all money given to the pastor for housing by the charge he/she serves be considered income if the pastor is not a resident in the charge which he/she serves.

F. Application for Equitable Compensation Support for Base Compensation Assistance

The district superintendent shall request the base compensation assistance required by each charge twice each year (by May 15 for the July through December compensation assistance period and by December 15 for the January through June compensation assistance period); these requests must be approved by the Commission before payment can be made. This request from the district superintendent shall be accompanied by an application form provided by the Commission and completed by the pastor, the pastor-parish relations committee, and the district superintendent indicating income from all sources. Grants shall be made based on fiscal years (January to December), and unless otherwise designated, shall decrease 25% annually. For grants beginning in July, 100% of the approved amount will be provided for the first eighteen (18) months and will decrease 25% annually thereafter.

G. Cross Racial Appointments

If the Bishop and Cabinet, in making a cross-racial appointment, find it necessary to request an equitable compensation supplement, special consideration will be given on an individual basis. Guidelines listed under Report 3 will apply.

H. Cooperative Parish Ministries

The initial directors or coordinators of a cooperative parish ministry which has been approved by the Board of Global Ministries and application made by the district superintendent to the Commission by January 1 preceding the appointment in June of the same year may be eligible for funds not to exceed $7,000.00. No pastor shall be eligible to receive funds unless the charge he/she serves agrees in writing to release him/her for these added duties. Assistance will be provided over a 4-1/2 year period and will decrease by 25% each year after the first year and a half.

I. Disbursement of Supplements

All compensation supplements from the Commission shall be paid to the local church involved for disbursement to the pastor or clergyperson and shall be disbursed monthly. In the case of new mission situations or

1 churches, monies will be dispersed directly to the pastor until there is a church treasurer. Equitable compensa-
2 tion funds will not be used for moving expenses, businesses expenses, or church administration.

3 For charges receiving CEC supplements, changes to the total compensation may be made for longevity
4 (see D. Longevity Increases above), changes in clergy status, and changes in minimum base compensation as 5 approved by the Annual Conference. Charges are encouraged to increase their portion of total compensation
6 as they are able and thereby reduce the amount of supplement paid by CEC. Such increases in the portion paid
7 by the local charge above the scheduled amounts will result in a reduction of the CEC supplement by the 8 amount of increase.

9 10 J. Utilities Allowance

11 The Commission requests that the South Carolina Annual Conference designate 15% (or estimate of actual 12 expenses as requested by recipient) of base compensation support funded by this Commission as parsonage
13 utilities allowance. This request is made to satisfy the requirements of the Internal Revenue Service. Under IRS
14 guidelines, this money may be used for household expenses including mortgage or rent payments.

15 16 K. Investment of Reserve Fund

17 The CEC recommends that all funds held in "reserve" be invested and the interest used in the Commission's 18 operating account. In accordance with guidelines established with CF&A in 2013 and presented to the 2013 An-
19 nual Conference, the "floor" of the reserve is to be set at $300,000 in order to meet general projection shortfalls,
20 to allow for the unanticipated start of a new church or missional situation, or to deal with an unexpected disaster.

21 22 L. Interpretation

23 The Commission recommends that an interpretation of its task and policy procedures be given as a part of the 24 District Pastor/Staff Parish Relations Committee Workshops. It is further recommended that this interpretation
25 be done by a member of the Commission upon invitation by the district superintendent.

26 27 M. Compensation Guidance

28 The Commission recommends that district superintendents assist churches and charges in setting appropriate
29 compensation and work load packages in accordance with Paragraph 419.4, 419.6 of The Book of Discipline
30 2012.

31 32 N. Ineligibility

33 The CEC recommends that the following not be eligible for equitable compensation support:

34 Retired supply pastors

35 Part-time local pastors

36 Pastors on leave of absence except as provided in Standing Rule 99

37 Special appointment categories within the itinerancy of the United Methodist Church as defined in Para-
38 graph 344.1 a, b, c of The Book of Discipline 2012.

39 Deacons as defined in Paragraphs 329 and 330 of The Book of Discipline 2012 (except as appointed 40 under Report 3 of this report and Paragraph 625.4 of The Book of Discipline 2012).

41 42 O. Reimbursement for Travel and Professional Expenses

43 The Commission recommends that each church set up a reimbursement account for travel and professional 44 expenses incurred by the pastor in performing pastoral duties. Reimbursement for non-commuting church-
45 related travel shall be at the IRS rate (currently 57.5 cents per mile.) The pastor(s) shall submit a voucher
46 and a log each month for reimbursement. For reimbursement for actual professional expenses (books, 47 subscriptions, periodicals, etc.), the pastor(s) shall submit a voucher with supporting documentation for 48 reimbursement. The amount set by the charge as reimbursement for travel and professional expenses
49 should be determined after consultation with pastor(s) (and the district superintendent, if desired or needed)
50 by the Pastor/Staff-Parish Relations Committee. Each charge should annually evaluate the local needs and 51 expectations of its pastors and set an amount for reimbursement accordingly. Also, the procedures for reim-
52 bursement should be clearly stated.

53 54 P. Continuing Education

55 Each charge shall place in its budget an amount of $750 or more per year to be used by the pastor as a
56 continuing education fund. If the full amount is not used in a given year, the unused portion may be carried 57 forward from year to year during the tenure of a pastor, not to exceed a total amounting to three year's 58 continuing education allowance inclusive of the current year's amount.

59 60 Q. Reimbursement as Administrative Cost

61 The Commission recommends that the reimbursement for travel and professional expenses be a part of the 62 administrative cost of each local church and not considered or reported as part of the pastor's compensation.

R. Vacation Policy	1
The Commission reminds churches and ministers that vacation time plus time for renewal and reflection are an expected part of compensation. Time away is necessary for personal, spiritual, and family health. It is recommended that all clergy and diaconal ministers be granted, as a minimum, annual vacation and days of renewal according to the following schedule:	2 3 4 5
Total Years of Service	Number of Weeks
Less than 5 years	a minimum of 2(including Sundays)
5 years -10 years	a minimum of 3 (including Sundays)
More than 10 years	a minimum of 4 (including Sundays)
In addition to the above, it is recommended that the minister, regardless of years of service, be granted one day of retreat a month for prayer and reflection. Also, it is expected that the minister will have at least one day off a week. "Years of Service" reflect number of years under appointment in the ministry of the United Methodist Church, and not the number of years of service on a given charge. "Vacation" is meant as freedom from any responsibility in the local church or charge, district, conference area, jurisdiction, or general conference. Vacation should be a time of rest, recreation, and renewal. It should not be interpreted to mean time the pastor works at a church camp, is on a mission trip, or attends a meeting of a general board, an agency of the conference, or a district retreat. Time away from the charge for Annual Conference and continuing education events shall not be considered vacation time. The charge shall make available as necessary the funds for pulpit supply while the pastor is on vacation.	6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19

Report Number 3 Mission Situations	23
A. Definition	24 25
Mission situations are new churches and existing churches in transitional circumstances that are in areas that demand an effective ministry but are incapable of providing such ministry without equitable compensation assistance. Mission situations may also include intentional ministry to persons of low income.	26 27 28
B. Eligibility	29
To be eligible for equitable compensation assistance in mission situations, the recipient must comply with the following procedures:	30 31
1. The District Board for Congregational Development shall be the authorizing body to project a transitional situation, and the Conference Committee on Congregational Development will project all new church starts.	32 33 34
2. The District Board for Congregational Development will refer this situation to the Conference Committee on Congregational Development for verification as a transitional situation and the situation's priority rank among Conference needs.	35 36 37
3. The potential new mission situation will then be referred to the Cabinet for approval. The Cabinet will strive to inform the Commission of potential new mission situations two years ahead of the time the appointment is to start. The Commission will budget for new mission situations after Cabinet approval.	38 39 40
4. At the time of appointment, the Cabinet will then designate a pastor or clergy person and request an appropriate base compensation for that particular mission situation.	41 42
5. In all cases where a new mission situation is to be launched, the District Superintendent shall notify the CEC by December 15 th preceding the Annual Conference at which an appointment is to be made providing, at that time, the projected base compensation cost to be incurred in July.	43 44 45
Note 1. The local church's share of this base compensation schedule is interpreted to mean all sources of income from the local church or from any other source.	46 47
Note 2. In all cases where a mission situation is attached to an existing charge, these situations become charge figures.	48 49
Note 3. The district superintendent may apply to the Commission for a compensation that is more in keeping with the amount received by this pastor in his or her previous appointment.	50 51
C. Continuation of Supplements and Annual Evaluation	52
1. If the ministry being served is unable to meet the schedule below for two years in a row, support from CEC will cease after the next year following.	53 54
2. An evaluation shall be done annually on each mission situation. The Conference Director of Congregational Development shall provide a report of this evaluation to the CEC by January 1 st .	55 56
D. Payment of Direct Billing Costs for Pensions and Health Benefits in Mission Situations Only	57
The Commission on Equitable Compensation will pay only the direct billing costs of persons in mission situations according to the compensation schedules listed below. The Commission will send its proportional share directly to the Conference office of Pensions and Health Benefits.	58 59 60 61 62

THE COMMITTEE ON THE ANNUAL CONFERENCE

The Committee on the Annual Conference is a team of persons tasked with envisioning, planning, implementing, and evaluating the annual conference. The team began meeting soon after annual conference to review and evaluate the 2014 annual conference and to start planning the 2015 gathering.

In 2013, under the leadership and guidance of Bishop Holston, we began using teams to plan and implement annual conference. This shift to a team concept has provided the committee with a sense of purpose and collaboration that has created a better product and a better experience of conference for the lay and clergy members. We continue to operate in teams inclusive of a host, bible study, theme, logistics, production/media/IT, agenda, worship, and future sites teams. At the 2014 Annual Conference, the Rev. Karen Radcliffe was appointed to serve a local congregation and the Rev. Ken Nelson was nominated and elected to serve as the Conference Secretary.

While the business of the annual conference is part and parcel to what we do, our goal is to provide each member of the annual conference with such an experience of excellence that each person will want to reproduce that same standard of excellence in every ministry setting across this annual conference. Our annual conference will include inspiring worship, an opportunity for service, and robust Christian conferencing. In all that we do, our mission is to make disciples for Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world!

The pre-conference informational sessions will be held in May in each of our Districts. A DVD of information will be shared in each district with the pre-conference materials being published on line. This will enable greater access to this information.

The theme chosen for the 2015 Annual Conference is “A More Excellent Way: Becoming Disciples God Can Use.” On Sunday evening at 7:30, we will gather for our opening worship service with Bishop Holston serving as the preacher. On Monday night, we will celebrate with those who will be commissioned or ordained for the work of ordained ministry. Bishop Marcus Matthew, the Resident Bishop of the Baltimore Washington Annual Conference, and a native son of South Carolina will serve as the preacher for this service.

On Tuesday of annual conference, we will partner with STOP HUNGER NOW, an international hunger relief ministry, to package meals for the hungry. Any monies raised over our goal will be sent back to each district and dispersed for local feeding ministries. We will also recognize and celebrate the ministry of those who are retiring. We will conclude our day of service with a worship service that focuses on youth and young adults. The preacher for the service will be the Rev. Jonathan Tompkins, pastor of Travelers Rest United Methodist.

On Wednesday afternoon, we will remember and give thanks for the lives of those who shared in the work of Christ holy church, and who have joined the church the triumphant since we last met. Dr. Tim McClendon will serve as the preacher. Certainly, you will want to be present on Wednesday night as we share in a service praise and thanksgiving featuring the Africa University Choir!

¶603 of Book of Discipline provides that the Annual Conference sets the place of the meeting for the sessions of the annual conference, and the presiding bishop sets the date. The standing rules of the conference provide that the Committee on the Annual Conference recommend the site of the next annual conference.

Over the last year the committee on the Annual Conference has been thinking anew about the purpose of annual conference. Our discernment about what we believe God wants our annual conference to be and become has grown! As we begun dreaming new God sized dreams, the possibilities were simply endless, We have asked, however, does our venue enable us to give full expression to all that God is calling us to do and become?

As the result, the committee on the Annual Conference sent out request for proposals to host future annual conferences. Proposals were received from four potential host sites: Florence, Greenville, Fort Mill, and Columbia. After full consideration of each proposal and site visits, the committee will offer a recommendation to the 2015 annual conference for its consideration and action.

As 2015 is a year in which we elect delegates to the 2016 General and Jurisdictional conferences, the committee voted to support a recommendation from our Conference Secretary, that we conduct our elections using electronic balloting. Vistacom will serve as our vendor. This will enable us to conduct the business of the annual conference and elect delegates in a timely and efficient manner.

Finally, the committee expresses its gratitude to Wesley and Salem United Methodist Churches and to the Florence District for their work as hosts for the 2015 session and their spirit of radical hospitality.

L. Jonathan Holston, Chairperson

Kenneth L. Nelson, Secretary

THE COMMITTEE ON THE CONFERENCE JOURNAL

The primary purpose of the Committee on Conference Journal is to assist the Conference secretary in the annual publication of the pre-Conference materials and the Conference Journal. As we transition into the digital era, we must continue reimagining how we produce these resources. As the result of moving into the digital era, we have transitioned from printing more than 2000 copies of the journal to about 150 annually. We now print journals by preorder. We are also producing about 50 copies of the Journal on DVD as the journal is now published on-line annually for free, giving greater access to all.

At the 2014 session of the Annual Conference, the body voted to delete the standing rule which required a printing of the minister's book every ten years. The financial cost of printing such a document far outweighed the benefits of producing this document in an age of digital technology. A significant number of our most recent versions of this publication are still available for purchase.

As we think about the relationship between the pre-Conference reports and the Journal, current conversations focus upon creating an online template for all boards and agencies to use in submitting their reports. This template would provide more of a uniform look for reports in the Journal and should create a faster means for producing both the pre-Conference material and the final copy of the Journal.

Profound gratitude is expressed to the countless number of persons who assist in producing the pre-Conference materials as well as the Conference Journal. Many thanks are expressed to the boards and agencies of the Annual Conference who submit their reports in a timely manner. A special word of appreciation is expressed to Dean Lollis, J.C. Lane, Jeri Katherine Warden-Sipes, Mary Louise Johnson, and Angela Ford Nelson, the assistant secretaries for the South Carolina Annual Conference. Deep appreciation is expressed to Pat Mack, who has been exceptionally patient with me in this new season of learning. Certainly, the Journal would not be published without her and our friends at Service Printing.

A personal word of gratitude is expressed to the Rev. Karen Radcliffe, immediate past secretary of the Annual Conference, for the countless hours and invaluable expertise that she has shared over the past year.

Kenneth L. Nelson, Conference Secretary

THE COMMITTEE ON CONGREGATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

3 It is my pleasure to report to you on the work of the Congregational Development Committee.

4 Before I comment on the work of the committee, I wish to thank the district superintendents and the Nominations
5 Committee for helping us become a more inclusive group representing the interests of everyone. I recall meetings
6 at which we might have only one minority person and one or two females. However, our last meeting was 28%
7 minority and 44% female. We are not where we want to be, but we very much appreciate the attention this matter
8 has received from those who select the members who sit on our committee.

9 We thank you for your apportionment dollars – and any other contributions you may feel inclined to make! In 10 new church starts, in existing churches, in the purchase of land, in leadership development, these contributions
11 make a real difference in the Kingdom. The rules of the Annual Conference dictate the percentages of money
12 that are to be spent in each area, and sometimes it is hard to keep from being overwhelmed by the escalating 13 costs of everything.

14 We know that the development of major initiatives is a major hurdle for congregations, and we are thankful
15 that we are able to assist where we can. We welcome your applications for grants, and we encourage you to make 16 your application as strong as possible. In your application, give us a clear understanding of how this work is going to 17 advance the Kingdom. The projects do not have to be only for construction, but also for staffing or equipment or 18 anything that will help you spread the good news about God. During this year, requests exceeded available money
19 by 4 times, but I still encourage you to apply. Sometimes we can connect you with other funding resources. Some-
20 times we can give other kinds of help or guidance. And we absolutely want to hold your work up in prayer and cele-
21 brate with you. This year we were able to make grants to congregations to help with staffing, equipment, and some 22 key building improvements that will enable the congregations to reach their communities better.

23 Our bishop and cabinet continue to desire to strengthen and multiply our local churches. The state population
24 continues to grow, and we must do everything we can to share the gospel. Our committee serves as a resource
25 to the cabinet as they do their work. This year, it is hoped that there will be new projects taking place in Columbia 26 and Charleston districts.

27 We also provide training opportunities for pastors and congregations, and we invite you to contact our director,
28 Rev. Sara White, to see if we can help.

29 Our office also provides free demographic information for all congregations in our state. Simply go to 30 umcsc.org, click on Congregational Development, and select demographic reports.

31 This year we noticed that district committees of Congregational Development were involved in some 32 interesting activities. Each district receives 20% of the monies received from their apportionments. Some districts
33 are setting aside a percentage of their grant money for new projects, staffing, and leadership development or 34 education for congregations. Change is tremendously challenging, but there is a wealth of useful information that 35 can make the work easier and more effective.

36 I want to thank our staff, Laura Hill and Rev. Sara White. These two women are laboring very hard to help us
37 with the harvest. I very much appreciate them, and we all covet your prayers for this ministry.

38 Rev. Ken Owens, Chair

THE COMMITTEE ON EPISCOPACY

39
40
41
42
43 The Conference Committee on Episcopacy seeks to live out its responsibilities by meeting quarterly for 44 accountability, as well as being available to the bishop for counsel, support and dialogue regarding the concerns
45 that affect relationships within the Annual Conference. The committee provides honest feedback in developing a 46 unity of spirit which is necessary for effective leadership and ministry. In essence, we serve to assist our episcopal 47 family, both in ministry and in living among us, to facilitate an excellent working relationship. Indeed, we are richly 48 blessed to have Bishop and Mrs. Holston in the South Carolina Conference.

49 This year Bishop and Mrs. Holston initiated “The Bishop’s Road Show” as a way to connect and communicate
50 with the laity of the local churches in South Carolina. The road shows consisted of Bishop Holston visiting each of 51 the twelve (12) districts in the Annual Conference and meeting with lay leaders and lay servant leaders from the 52 local churches. In these meetings, Bishop Holston offered invaluable insight, encouragement and assistance. The 53 goal was to develop healthy, strong congregations by building quality relationships between laity and clergy. This 54 effort allowed 1500 or more laypersons to share in conversation with their episcopal leader in helpful ways.

55 In addition, Bishop Holston supports the work of the Annual Conference by speaking in many areas. He partici-
56 pates in the various retreats held by United Methodist Men, United Methodist Women, Clergy Spouses and Youth
57 (Revolution). He assisted in leading a youth mission immersion trip to Honduras, ordinands on a Holy Land pilgrimage
58 trip and the Million Hours of Service emphasis. It is obvious to all that our bishop is leading us to a more excellent way.

59 Bishop Holston is also active on the General and Jurisdictional levels. In the Council of Bishops, he serves 60 on the Executive Committee and is chairperson of the Missional Engagement Team. He serves as the 2014-
61 2015 President of the Southeastern Jurisdiction College of Bishops (SEJ/COB), on Lake Junaluska Assembly
62 Board of Directors and a member of the SEJ United Methodist Volunteers in Mission (SEJ/UMVIM).

The Committee encourages Bishop and Mrs. Holston to remember to take time for vacation so that they may be renewed, refreshed and restored both physically and spiritually. The Committee is diligent in making sure that the episcopal residence is a comfortable and safe living space. The Episcopal Residence Committee and Conference Trustees have been helpful in every way. The Committee wants the love and care of the Annual Conference be felt as our episcopal family celebrates birthdays, anniversaries and special occasions in their life. We are grateful to Dr. Timothy McClendon and Dr. Joseph Heyward, who serve as our representatives on the SEJ Committee on the Episcopacy (SEJ/COE). They guide us in the Episcopal Review and Evaluation Process as designed by the SEJ/COE.

Finally, Bishop Holston is a visionary who looks past what is to what can be.

His "God-Sized Vision" infuses the Conference with a spirit of enthusiasm and belief that we can discover a more excellent way and become disciples God can use.

Respectfully submitted,

Rev. Barbara L. Reid
SC Episcopacy Committee, Chairperson

THE OFFICE CLERGY SERVICES

In 2014, the Office of Clergy Services underwent a change of personnel with the appointment of a new coordinator. With her return to the parish, Rev. Karen Radcliffe completed an outstanding tenure in this office. Her support, and that of Tim Rogers, Frank Griffith, and Ted Walter, all who preceded me in this office, has been invaluable as I have taken on this work.

The primary purpose of the Office of Clergy Services is to serve as a support for and liaison between the Bishop and Cabinet and the Board of Ordained Ministry in areas related to all matters of clergy credentialing. This position also serves as a member of the Ministry Advisory Team.

Mrs. Martha Liles, the Administrative Assistant for Clergy Services, continues to provide excellent support to the district offices and candidates. She maintains our database and oversees the process of requesting and receiving the many annual reports for which this office is responsible. The work of this office would not happen without her and the twelve District administrative assistants. We owe them a profound measure of gratitude.

It is a pleasure to work with our Bishop, District Superintendents, and their administrative assistants on many matters related to our clergy, and to support them as they continue the vital and demanding work necessary to identify, nurture, instruct, and supervise the clergy of our Conference.

The most significant challenge facing this office at this time is helping our conference make the shift from a paper-based model of records keeping to the electronic management of records. While our current database written and created by Dr. Ted Walter was far ahead of its time, we have run out of storage space, and need a better way of sharing files with our district offices.

We have begun scanning our paper files to into digital files and electronically storing these files in an online document management system called e-Bridge. Our goal is to complete this process by the end of the year.

The Board of Ordained Ministry continues to move forward under the excellent leadership of the Rev. Wayne Horne who was elected to serve as the chairperson in June of 2014. The depth of his experience, his commitment to excellence, his concern for the process, candidates, and the church ensures that together we will continue to move forward.

Without trying to list every event or undertaking of the past year, I continue to respond to requests by phone, email, and correspondence related to licensing, ordination, and all matters related to clergy and their status within the conference. I have met with individuals seeking personal guidance in these areas and have worked to update the training of our District Committees on Ministry. It is a pleasure to serve in this area of ministry and I look forward to the year ahead.

Kenneth L. Nelson, Coordinator of Clergy Services

THE TRUSTEES OF THE ANNUAL CONFERENCE

The primary work of the Board of Trustees ("Board") is to oversee the maintenance and ultimate disposition of the property of discontinued and abandoned church properties. These issues normally come to the Board from one of two major sources. One source of properties to be overseen is the churches being discontinued currently. In these instances every effort is made to transfer the property to other United Methodist churches, or other appropriate entities. Only when such a transfer cannot be negotiated ahead of time is the property of a discontinued church transferred to the Board. The other major group of properties overseen by the Board is those properties of churches discontinued some years ago, but which have never been properly transferred or disposed of. These properties come to the attention of the Board primarily through inquiries or requests of third parties.

During this church year, the Board sold a parsonage which had been owned by a discontinued Church, and those funds were used to fund renovations at the South Main Mercy Center in Anderson, South Carolina.

1 The Board receives no apportionment money. Rather, it operates from reserves, rental income of property,
 2 and from money generated from the occasional sale of properties. Most properties that the Board deals with do
 3 not generate extra funds, as the Board frequently deals with properties that have no natural market. It can be
 4 especially difficult to maintain and transfer cemeteries in a responsible manner. But since it is highly impractical
 5 for the Board to actually oversee and maintain properties spread across the state, the ultimate intent of the 6 Board is to transfer the title to all properties under its care as quickly and responsibly as possible.

7 Attached to this report and incorporated by reference herein is an accounting of the funds of the Board of 8 Trustees for this past year, along with a listing of all real property being overseen by the Board, as required by 9 paragraph 2512.6 of the Book of Discipline.

33 THE JAMES L. BELIN BOARD OF TRUST

35 The Belin Board of Trust exists to manage, preserve, and continue the missional legacy of the Reverend 36 James L. Belin. Reverend Belin stated that it was “the long fixed and settled purpose of my life, to devote all that 37 I possess to the promotion of the Glory of God, in advancement of the Missionary Cause.” Accordingly, during 38 2014 the Belin Board worked to protect the corpus of the trust and direct the income of the trust to benefit
 39 missions within the South Carolina Conference of the United Methodist Church.

40 The Belin Board works in partnership with the Conference Board of Global Ministries to fund new mission
 41 projects in South Carolina. Beginning in 2012, the Board began initiatives seeking to expand awareness of Belin
 42 Trust grant funding. The Board continued efforts in 2014 and sought to maximize total funding available for 43 awards. In fact, grants paid in 2014 grew to just over $138,000 from $91,000 in 2013 (with even more awards 44 expected in 2015).

45 The Board utilized the services of Debnam Wealth Management Group to assist in the management of the 46 Trust’s over $5.5 Million investment portfolio and to carry out the socially responsible investment policy. The 47 Board’s Finance and Investment Committee works closely with our advisors to adjust the portfolio to meet the 48 objectives of the Trust while adhering to the investment policy which was updated in 2013.

49 The Board continued to engage Webster Rogers LLP to perform accounting services including the preparation
 50 of quarterly and annual financial statements. DeLoach & Williamson, LLP, performed an agreed upon procedures 51 engagement related to the financial accounting and related statements.

52 Officers elected for the 2015 year were as follows: Chairperson, Stuart Ford; Vice-Chairperson, Reverend 53 Marty Nason; Secretary, Arch Yeager; and Treasurer, Frank Sanders.

54 On behalf of the Board, I express sincere appreciation for the assistance of the Conference Board of Global 55 Ministries in the work of expanding missions within the South Carolina Conference. Additionally, I acknowledge 56 the many congregations in our Conference that have helped to continue the legacy of Reverend Belin by utilizing
 57 grant funding from the Belin Trust. The missions funded through the local churches are “making disciples for Jesus 58 Christ for the transformation of the world” and transforming lives in the name of Jesus.

59 On behalf of the Board, I especially wish to acknowledge the faithful work of Reverend Calvin Washington
 60 with Global Ministries, and we all continue to pray for his complete recovery.

This committee met multiple times in the previous year to review and update policies and procedures. Those procedures included instituting regular staff evaluations of all conference staff persons. The committee's first meeting this year was postponed due to inclement weather. Another meeting will be scheduled in the coming months to receive staff evaluations, meet the new Treasurer/Director of Administrative Services, and review policies and procedures.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA UNITED METHODIST ADVOCATE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

This year, the Advocate marks 178 years of newspaper ministry to United Methodists in South Carolina. We have a passion to shine the light of the Lord throughout this great state, telling stories of God at work in big churches and small, from the Upstate to the Lowcountry and everywhere in between. Our fervent prayer is that God use this newspaper as His instrument, and we strive to be a full part of the Conference communications team, while maintaining our independent status for journalistic integrity. We do what we can to make stronger, better, deeper, and more numerous disciples of Christ for the transformation of the world. Our prayer-driven newspaper ministry is one that comprises communication, awareness, education, and inspiration, with local, district, conference, jurisdictional, and global reach. We aim to glorify God in all we do.

12
14
15

17
19

Thank you for being a part of these last five years, especially, which have seen tremendous growth for the Advocate. Today, we have a reputation as a high-quality, highly respected, and highly relevant publication. Since 2010, we have won 64 writing, general excellence, photography, and other awards from the South Carolina Press Association and United Methodist Association of Communicators – including “best newspaper” in our division –multiple times.

20
23

We have taken our mission and ministry several giant steps forward this year. One step is the launch of the Daily Advocate, a highly successful and well-received Advocate-Conference partnership that served all attendees at last year’s Annual Conference (2014). The four-page publication was produced three times on three different days and was placed on attendees’ chairs each day of the event to help them understand key issues and business occurring that day so they could make better decisions for the Kingdom as AC2014 delegates.

26
28

The second “giant step forward” has been visioning and implementing The Messenger, an eNewsletter partnership between the Advocate and the conference Communications Office that started in September 2014. The Messenger is distributed weekly to an email communications list that includes nearly 8,000 people and informs people about breaking and important news and events within the denomination.

29
32

Third, we have just selected the second recipient of the Advocate’s $1,000 college scholarship fund, launched last year as a way to help students with an interest in business, communications, or journalism who are enrolled at one of the four United Methodist colleges in South Carolina: Claflin University, Columbia College, Spartanburg Methodist College, or Wofford College.

And, finally, after much hard work and effort, we were able to orchestrate the first-ever Advocate Awareness Day on Sunday, May 17, when churches and pastors across the state stepped up to get the word out to their members about the Advocate’s newspaper ministry. It is our fervent hope that increased readership will increase the Connection; after all, the more people learn through the Advocate, the stronger disciples they can be.

37
40

In addition to these latest endeavors, we continue to improve and advance our work in every way possible. Financially, we’re on the right track. Ad sales have grown from $29,318 in 2010 to $64,782 in 2014—a 121% increase. Circulation continues to grow slowly but surely, with a 3.1% increase from February 2010 to now (this gain says a lot, considering this is an era when print publications tend to see a decrease, or even stop publication entirely, as we transition to a digital media world.) Website traffic is up (AdvocateSC.org), and we remain active daily on social media (on Facebook and Twitter @advocatesc).

41
43
44
46

We also continue to contribute to the communications ministry of the denomination on the conference, jurisdictional, and global levels. We work as partners with SC Conference Connectional Ministries, the global United Methodist News Service, United Methodist Communications, the United Methodist Women’s Response magazine, United Methodist Men, General Board of Church and Society, and others.

47
50

We are also exploring new growth areas, including the creation of an app to better serve readers and potential readers. We estimate one-fifth of the state’s United Methodists read the Advocate, and one day our goal is that every United Methodist reads the Advocate in one format or another and is inspired by the transformative stories of God at work in South Carolina. We are doing what we can to make this publication extremely affordable. We have developed new print church-wide plans where people receive the Advocate for $10/person per year with 10+ people participating in a church. For churches who do a lot of emailing, online church plans are even less: just $1/person per year, based on the average weekly church attendance as recorded in the Journal (e.g. if you have 100 people each week in worship, you get a license to distribute the Advocate via email to your members for just $100 total for the whole year).

Thank you for all your support as we continue serving God through our newspaper ministry. And don’t forget: send us your news! Help us tell your story through the Advocate.

3 Routine maintenance and operations have been carried out during they year. The trustees also approved
4 some upgrades to the conference rooms such as some new chairs and installing video monitors. Tenants of the 5 Methodist Conference Center include Annual Conference Offices and the Advocate. For 2016 rent will not
6 increase. The Trustees will continue in 2015 to evaluate building usage and may seek to find additional tenants
7 to re-purpose now vacant areas such as the print shop.

11 THE REPORT OF THE CONFERENCE CHANCELLOR

14 It is my privilege to serve this conference as Conference Chancellor, legal advisor to the Bishop and the 15 Annual Conference. By standing rule 98, requests for my services are made through the Episcopal office.

16 Reflecting back and looking forward, I want to again emphasize the importance of incorporation for local 17 churches. I also want to emphasize the importance of annually reviewing all insurance policies to make sure the 18 coverage is comprehensive and up to date. Incorporation and insurance protects the assets of the church, 19 trustees, and individual members.

20 I also want to ask each church to insure that someone looks at the deeds of your church and other property
21 records for the proper trust cause mandated by the Discipline. The Church should hold and maintain all property
22 documents in a locked, fireproof cabinet.

23 We continue to grapple with issues around church cemeteries, daycare centers, playground safety, and 24 facility leases. Please enter into your relationships with care and with complete documents.

25 Please carefully review your congregational Safe Sanctuary Policies and insure that the policies are 26 complied with at all times.

27 A number of churches in the Conference have experienced employee and staff embezzlements this year.
28 Section 258.4 of the Book of Discipline requires that the Committee on Finance to establish written financial policies
29 to document the internal controls of the local church and additionally requires an annual audit of the financial state-
30 ments which must be an independent evaluation of the financial reports, and records and internal controls of the 31 local church. Each local church should be prepared to demonstrate their compliance with this mandate to their 32 District Superintendent.

33 Thank you for allowing me to serve the Conference. I appreciate and look forward to the opportunity to 34 continue work with the dedicated clergy, staff and laypersons of the Conference.

35 Kay G. Crowe, Conference Chancellor

39 THE MINISTRY ADVISORY TEAM

40
41 The Ministry Advisory Team concluded its work with the table group consultant in October 2014. Key outcomes
42 of that work include the following:

- 43 • A deep understanding of the work required to be able to function effectively as a team.
- 44 • Commitment on the part of Conference staff and elected leaders of the need to work collaboratively 45 and creatively across the various administrative, programmatic, and personnel areas.
- 46 • A plan for ongoing collaborative conversation and strategizing around the big-picture challenges and 47 ministry opportunities facing the Annual Conference moving into the future.
- 48 • A regular schedule and framework for Ministry Advisory Team meetings that give elected leadership 49 an opportunity for participating in the collaborative work.

50 Some key topics for ongoing conversation identified by the Ministry Advisory Team include sustainability
51 concerns such as the impact of increasing benefit costs on the Annual Conference budget and the reality of a 52 large number of clergy approaching retirement compared with a smaller number of younger clergy entering the 53 Conference. Topics about missional opportunity include new models for congregational development and 54 focused clergy and lay leadership development.

55 The Ministry Advisory Team is clear that its role is to advise, namely, to develop ideas, consult around
56 options and consequences, test ideas across different perspectives, and begin to build consensus around a 57 common direction. The implementation of the collaborative process is new, yet the conversation across various 58 areas and departments is already generating new insight, fresh possibilities, and better communication about the 59 opportunities and challenges ahead.

60 Bishop L. Jonathan Holston

THE REPORT OF THE CABINET

“Dream God-sized dreams!” That’s the way the cabinet report began last year, and these are still challenging words for United Methodist laity and clergy in the South Carolina Conference. As a cabinet, we are convinced that many of our churches are “stepping up to the plate” to “dream big” as they carry out ministry and mission in their communities and beyond! Churches throughout the Conference are effectively seeking to “make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world.” Here are a few examples:

- At Shandon United Methodist Church in Columbia, a discipleship program for new believers and new members has been developed. It’s called TREK and focuses on small group spiritual formation and integration into full participation in the church.
- The Charleston District Committee on Congregational Development supported the request of a pastor to host a workshop titled “Reaching New People,” which was led by Rev. Kim Griffith of Griffith Coaching. Individuals from churches in the Rock Hill, Spartanburg, Orangeburg, Walterboro, and Charleston districts attended the workshop. The event was so successful that the district committee is now offering mini-grants for congregational teams to engage in coaching with Rev. Griffith.
- Allen Chapel UMC in the Spartanburg District is in the process of converting their unused parsonage into a “Hope Center,” offering support for the needs of families and individuals living in the surrounding community. The love of Christ will be shared, and people’s lives may be transformed through the “Hope Center.”
- The pastor and lay leadership of College Place United Methodist Church in Columbia have created a welcoming, multi-cultural church that is intentionally reaching diverse people, including people in addiction recovery. College Place sent a team to visit Grace Church in Florida to learn Pastor Jorge Acevedo’s spiritual transformation model for new disciples, especially addicts.

United Methodists in South Carolina are “making disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world,” and as district superintendents, we are excited about this vision fulfillment!

This year, the words that are being articulated clearly by Bishop Jonathan Holston are these: “A More Excellent Way!” The theme for this year’s Annual Conference is “A More Excellent Way: Becoming Disciples God Can Use.” The challenge before South Carolina United Methodists is to seek “a more excellent way” in “making disciples of Jesus Christ” and in “becoming disciples God can use.” As followers of Christ, we cannot “make” disciples unless we are “becoming” the disciples God wants us to be – growing in God’s grace every day and opening up our hearts and lives for the Spirit to use us! In our role as “missional strategists,” we want to be helpful to clergy and laity in identifying strategic ways to “make disciples” and to “become disciples God can use.”

Bishop Holston – through his non-stop energy and presence at Conference and district events, sermons in churches, and his “Road Shows” in every district – has been working hard to “connect” with the clergy and laity of the Conference. He has been very intentional about getting to know South Carolina United Methodists and is leading the way for us, as district superintendents, and for everyone to build trust in each other and to develop ministry teams at the district and local church level. One of Bishop Holston’s expectations of each district superintendent is to build cohesive leadership teams in every district, so we have been moving toward that end. We do indeed need the right people in the right positions in our districts so that we can move forward together in ministry and mission. One of our goals as “missional strategists” is to identify both clergy and laity who will become leadership “teams” that can be helpful to local churches and the entire Annual Conference. The “ministry team” concept at every level is vital if we are going to have healthy pastors and healthy congregations in South Carolina.

As Bishop Holston travelled to each district for his “Road Shows,” a huge project to undertake, he was able to share his “A More Excellent Way” message and challenge lay leaders and lay servants to provide significant leadership in their local churches and to work alongside their pastors in a spirit of teamwork. He shared valuable lessons on building trust and ministry teams. He asked those in attendance to come up with three-to-six-month goals for their churches and to seek to reach those goals. A team of Conference staff and leaders accompanied the Bishop to the “Road Shows,” which were attended by approximately 1,500 persons. Bishop Holston’s and Felecia’s presence at the “Road Shows” had a tremendous impact on the 12 districts. Of course, it was a pleasure and a blessing to have Bishop Holston, Felecia, and the Conference leadership in each of our districts for this time of fun, dialogue, and celebration. [Bishop Holston plans to visit each district again, this time inviting clergy and laity to come together in a spirit of unity and collaboration. You will be hearing more about these exciting visits!]

In the last two paragraphs, the words “team,” “teams,” and “teamwork” were used. Under Bishop Holston’s leadership, the cabinet – both the Extended and Appointive Cabinet – work as a “team”. We seek to be intentional about decisions we make, and we ground our meetings in devotions, Scripture, sacrament, and prayer. We pray for our churches and our pastors, especially those pastors and churches that are experiencing crises. The needs and issues are great, but God sustains us all.

The Cabinet is a diverse body, much like the Church. We do not all look, think, or act alike. Despite our racial, gender, and theological differences, we find common ground in our Methodist heritage and our passion to see The United Methodist Church grow in fruitfulness. We are very intentional at NOT being “silos,” and we work together cohesively, collaboratively, and collectively in all we do. This “teamwork” is especially evident through the appointment-making process. Of course, each of us on the Cabinet wants to make good appointments for the clergy and churches in our respective districts, but we are keenly aware of the needs of every district. We the past. We had 530 men and 60+ ladies. This attendance was great, but it created a problem that we have not had in my many years of ministry. We had outgrown the Springmaid Beach Resort facilities. Comment forms made it clear we had to seek a larger facility with much better video and sound capabilities.

Much prayer and consultation with the Bishop and pastors in growing churches led us to Christ United Methodist Church, Myrtle Beach, SC. The church is housed in the old Gatling Brothers Theater, and it has the space, sound, video, and other amenities that are needed to grow this ministry. Pastor Jeff Dunn and his staff are excited to be hosting this event. You will hear in the reports today that this change of venue is a “huge leap of faith” for the men and pastors in the South Carolina Annual Conference.

Teaching churches are the next steps in the transformation of ministry to men, their families, and churches over the next three years. Connectionalism is the ace that other organized religions do not have. We have United Methodist Churches in the SC Annual Conference that have growing ministries for all ages. We invite each of you to come share and listen as these churches share their successes. We encourage you to invite clergy and laity to come and help us change the face of the Methodist Church, one disciple at a time.

We have a lot of work ahead of us if we are to change the Methodist Church in South Carolina and beyond through the discipleship of men and their families.

Teaching Churches:

“Grow Your Church Through Ministry to Men and their Families”

Each teaching church event will be different because each church will share its ideas that have helped it to grow through discipleship of men and their families. We encourage men and women laity and pastors to attend a teaching church in their area or attend as many as they can to gather ideas for growing their churches. This exploration is part of our “connection” as United Methodist to share our successes with sister churches. Come, listen, and learn how to make disciples for Jesus Christ for the transformation of SC and the World. We held our fifth teaching church on January 17, 2015. A total of over 500 men attended these teaching church events.

I will cover several areas of success and needs:

- After many years of praying and seeking, we now have a Conference Prayer Advocate. Dennis Sullen, who is also the district lay leader in Florence, is our new Prayer Advocate. Clayton Easter was known as a prayer warrior for many years in South Carolina and nationally. I think God answered our prayer by sending us Dennis, and Clayton confirmed it because at the retreat last year, he handed off all of his “official prayer advocate stuff.” I took this as a sign. Please welcome and utilize Dennis.
- For a number of years we had no men’s leadership in the districts of Anderson, Greenwood, Marion, and Spartanburg. We are trying a new concept which creates ministry teams in districts instead of the normal UMM officer structure. The teams are made of laity and clergy, and they designate leaders to be the conduit to the Conference men. We have new ministry teams established in Greenwood and Marion districts, and we are continuing to work with the district superintendents in Anderson and Spartanburg to establish teams in those districts. As you will see later in this report, Marion District is sponsoring one of the “teaching churches.” We need to strengthen the ministry teams in all districts if we are to grow this ministry. The harvest is plentiful, the labors are few. Pray to the Lord of the harvest to send labors into the field.
- The Bishop has a real interest in and heavily depends on laity to be his hands, eyes, ears, and feet to disciple men, women, and children down to the local church. He is very pleased and excited about the

1 men's movement to disciple men and their families in this Conference. He wants to have a training event
2 for the leadership of men. This event will be held in the fall of 2015. Our hope is that we will have six 3 men from each of the 12 districts and that at least three will represent the next generation of leadership.

- 4 • In addition to this effort the Bishop has planned a "Road Show" to visit with the laity in every district. We
5 were asked to participate, and this participation gives us face time with all of the lay leadership in each
6 district, including the leadership in the local churches. We have also been asked to have representatives
7 of men's ministry at as many of these events as possible. This program starts in September. Dates are 8 on the web site. As of this report, I have attended all of the events.
- 9 • The Conference treasury position is still vacant. We continue to pray for someone with a financial back-
10 ground who can work with the South Carolina United Methodist Church treasurer, Tony Prestipino, to 11 link our banking and online registration process. Please pray about this position.
- 12 • Charters have not been talked about in over two years. Instead we talk about discipleship of men and 13 their families and how we want to be the conduit. We have partnered with other laity groups (lay leaders, 14 lay speakers, UMW, UMVIM, etc.), district superintendents, and pastors and we talk about discipleship.
15 But our charters are up. Our plan is to talk to churches about connecting their ministry to men by 16 chartering their church, not the club.

17 Opportunities and partnerships:

- 18 • We continue to partner with the Bishop, district superintendents, pastors, and laity groups to grow this 19 ministry to men and their families. This effort has resulted in a renewed interest in this ministry. The 20 Bishop is partnering with us in this ministry through his leadership and training of laity and his encour-
21 agement of pastors. Working with district superintendents, ministry teams are being established in 22 districts with no prior leadership. We are also partnering with the Conference Lay Leader, Barbara Ware, 23 and all of the district lay leaders for this common goal of discipleship of men and their families.
- 24 • We have been asked to be involved with a group of black ministers and laity to see how young black
25 men can be mentored to reduce the incarceration rate. Much of the incarceration of young black men
26 relates to the absence of a father figure in the house. The black ministers and laity feel that this is a 27 good fit with our ministry.
- 28 • We have also been asked to advertise our ministry with "The Summit on the Black Church" which meets 29 every other year. This year this group is meeting at the Double Tree, Bush River Road, Columbia, SC.
30 October 2-4, 2014.
- 31 • We have been invited to the district superintendents' set up meeting for pastors, the Bishop's School, 32 the Fellowship of Clergy, and other events and men's meetings.
- 33 • Our partnership with the South Carolina Conference staff has enabled us to do on line registrations, direct 34 deposit of funds, pre-printed name tags and attendance lists and many other things. Without this assistance,
35 we could not handle the retreats and teaching church events. To show our thanks, we sponsored a thank-36 you lunch on September 30, 2014. Many of our Men's leadership team attended. It was well received.
- 37 • I continue to travel to the districts when invited to continue to build relationships.
- 38 • We are working on other relationships and plans to enhance and grow this ministry.
- 39 • We are participating with the Conference event for young people called "Revolution." This event draws 40 about 2,000 high school and college youth. We are donating Bibles, a youth worship book, and we are 41 also helping with the event.
- 42 • We are helping with the event.

43 Update after our Men's Spiritual Retreat February 20-22, 2015, at Christ United Methodist Church, Myrtle 44 Beach, South Carolina:

45 Our goal this year was to have 750 in attendance. Remember that this is site a different venue, a United 46 Methodist Church. The location that has been used as long as I can remember, had meeting space, dining 47 facilities, and lodging in one location. We were familiar with the facilities and the people. People could park their 48 cars on arrival and never move it until the event was over. Everything was new this year. We negotiated with the 49 church for the meeting area, contracted with hotels to block rooms, and provided no meals. We did this all on 50 faith. God graced us with 850+, and the comments have been overwhelmingly positive. God is good. The Bishop
51 has challenged the SC Church with having 1500 in 2016. Our key presenter will be Rev. Mike Slaughter, author 52 and senior pastor of Ginghamburg Church, and author of Dare to Dream, Renegade Gospel, and Christmas is 53 not Your Birthday. The dates are February 19-21, 2016. Come and see.

54 Our next step for 2015-16 will continue to utilize teaching churches in different parts of our Conference. We 55 also plan to have at least one teaching church for pastors in cooperation with Clergy Services, which wants to 56 target young pastors at "New Start" and "Re-Start" churches. It is important for pastors to preach to and encourage 57 men from the pulpit.

58 On April 11, 2015, we plan to host training for the "Bishop's 100 Men" who are willing to "put skin into the 59 game," a personal commitment to work through their local church, the district, and the Conference to disciple
60 men and their families for Christ. The hope is that we will have 300 plus men who will step forward from all 12
61 districts to commit to this movement to get men to be "Godly men" as Christ intended men to be. Please join us
62 to pray for this ministry.

God has graced us with a Bishop who challenges us to dream “God-Size Dreams.” But this Bishop does not just talk. He walks and leads.
Take the challenge; walk the walk; come and see.
The Harvest is plentiful, the labors few. Pray to the Lord of the harvest to send laborers into the field. (Luke 10:2)
Our prayer is that this concept moves across the Church. Will you put some personal “Skin in the Game”?
Respectfully submitted,

Herman Lightsey, President

THE UNITED METHODIST WOMEN (UMW)

South Carolina Conference UMW continue to work to further the Kingdom of God by putting our faith, hope, and love into action. As we go about our daily lives, we strive to fulfill our purpose: to know God, to experience freedom as whole persons through Jesus Christ, to develop creative supportive fellowships, and to expand concepts of mission through participation in the global ministries of the church.

We began our year in January by attending United Methodist Women Leadership Development Days (LDD) at Lake Junaluska. During this meeting, we learned that South Carolina Conference United Methodist Women (SCCUMW) will host the Southeastern Jurisdiction meeting on June 3-5, 2016, at the Embassy Suites in North Charleston. This hosting will be a first for SCCUMW, and we are thankful to Janice Eaddy, treasurer for Southeastern Jurisdiction, for her determination in making sure the event comes to South Carolina. Janice is from the Florence District UMW and is a past SCCUMW officer.

Legislative Day was held at Epworth on February 18th. The topic was “Educating ALL our Children.” Dr. John Holler shared the many wonderful successes that Epworth has had in mentoring children and bringing them up to grade level. Workshops included “Volunteering in the Classroom,” “Educational Advocacy,” and “Building Education Resources using the Assets of Disadvantaged Communities.” Bishop Jonathan Holston was the keynote speaker. His topic was “What the Church Is and Should Be Doing to Educate All Our Children.” Ellie Setser of AAUW reported on bills before the House and Senate that focused on education and on women and children. Three legislators visited during the sessions.

During April 25-27, over 100 South Carolina United Methodist Women departed for Louisville, Kentucky, to attend the United Methodist Women Assembly, an event that occurs every four years. Over 7000 women from all over the country and the world gathered in Louisville to worship, listen, learn, fellowship, and be transformed. The Assembly theme, “MAKE IT HAPPEN,” was a challenge to all United Methodist Women. Hillary Rodham Clinton, a lifelong United Methodist, was the keynote speaker and she was enthusiastically received. A new initiative was announced focusing on Infant and Maternal Health Care.

May was a very busy month for SCCUMW with the Spiritual Growth Retreat on May 2-4 and Come Together/Be Together in Myrtle Beach on May 27. Reverend Rebecca Shirley of Platt Springs UMC was the speaker for Spiritual Retreat. Her topic was “Purses, Pocketbooks, and Totes: Carrying the Essential for a Christian Life.” Attendance was 289 for the first retreat and 255 for the second retreat. Rev. Shirley’s “shop cleaner” was entertaining and brought us a good message. First UMC in Myrtle Beach hosted Come Together/Be Together. Our theme was “A Calling for This Time.” The keynote speaker was Corina Esau, Executive Director of Wallace Family Life Center. All in attendance had been encouraged to come dressed like a child spending the day at the beach wearing your most lively beach-inspired shorts, sandals, hats, sunglasses, and visors to be part of our Fashion Contest/Fund Raiser. Following the opening ceremonies and Ms. Esau’s talk on Wallace, the attendees broke up into one of seven workshops or a Bible study. Following the workshops and Bible study, participants “voted” with cash donations during the Fashion Contest/Fund Raiser to raise $1,757.17 for Wallace!

In June, we attended the South Carolina Annual Conference meeting in Florence. This year the four areas of Laity – Lay Leadership, Lay Servant Ministries, United Methodist Men, and United Methodist Women – worked together to celebrate the activities of the laity in the state. A special thank you goes to the Florence District for their assistance in “womanizing” the UMW booth at Annual Conference. All of our five mission projects had posters or handouts at our booth, and Wallace necklaces were for sale. The women of the Florence District were masterful sales people, selling all of the necklaces before the end of the Conference. They also served as ushers, and President Sharon D. Washington took part in the retirement ceremony. This event was an especially meaningful Annual Conference, and it was good to see so many of you there. The Mission Fair, sponsored by the Committee on the Laity, was a huge success, and we were able to have a table to display items such as the collection of used stamps for Marion Mission Projects. A tremendous thank you is sent to all who participated in the Million Book Effort. Now we need to step up to the plate to mentor and participate in helping children learn to read those books!

Mission u (still School of Christian Mission to most of us!!!) was held at Spartanburg Methodist College July 24-26. The “2014 Mission u: Learning Together for Transformation of the World” offered four different studies: “The Church and People With Disabilities,” “How Is It With Your Soul,” “The Roma of Europe,” and a youth study, “Disabilities and Our Response.” This year, in response to numerous requests, the school was held for three days so that all participants could be in their own churches on Sunday morning. Registration was 232. Bishop Holston presented a Bible study to the entire group on Friday, and Rev. Robin Dease was the instructor

1 for the spiritual growth study, “How Is It With Your Soul.” This year the craft room put “crafts” back into the craft
2 room, and the smell of freshly baked bread permeated the halls! Friday night was a wonderful celebration of 3 Missions, and a total of $2061.00 was raised for our five mission projects.

4 The annual membership count shows 16,881 reported members for 2014. This number represents an 5 increase as well as an increase in the number of units reporting.

6 Throughout the year, we have had a presence in the Methodist Advocate, with different members writing an 7 article for each edition. They have focused on different upcoming events as well as general information about 8 who we are as United Methodist Women.

9 In August, an organizational meeting to begin plans for the 150th Anniversary of UMW which will be celebrated
10 in 2019, was held at Scarritt-Bennett Center in Nashville. A new initiative was announced at this meeting, the 11 unveiling of a Legacy Fund which is intended to underwrite UMW and its mission for the next 150 years. You will 12 be hearing more about this project in the next several years.

13 We were also saddened by the loss of Dolly Fogle, SCCUMW President from 1993-1996. United Methodist 14 Women from across the state attended her home going services. Dolly was a treasure, and she did much for 15 UMW and for the general church. She was a tremendous leader.

16 We come full circle as we reflect on our many accomplishments throughout the year at our Annual Meeting
17 held at Carteret Street United Methodist Church in beautiful Beaufort, SC, on October 24-25. During this time, 18 we worshipped, we fellowshiped, we conducted the business of the Conference, and we set our budget and 19 pledges to mission. We celebrated with a theme, “And What Does the Lord Require of You?” based on Micah
20 6:8. Reverend Cathy Mitchell, pastor of Wesley United Methodist Church, Johns Island, led our Bible Study and 21 Reverend Kelly Snelgrove, pastor at First United Methodist Church in Harleyville, was our keynote speaker after 22 the business session. Newly elected officers were Marlene Spencer, President; Cathy Ford, Vice President;
23 Gladys Lemon, Chairperson Membership, Nurture, and Outreach; Rachel Shupe, Chairperson, Social Action;
24 Velva Ellerbe, Secretary – Program Resources; Judy Roumillat and Jacqueline Sessions, Committee on Nomi-
25 nations. Beth Addis, Secretary, and Tina Waters, Communications Coordinator, were elected to a 2nd two-year
26 term. These new officers and those continuing to serve were installed by Mary Johnson, past Conference
27 president. We also recognized retiring Officers: Linda DuRant for four wonderful years as our President; Marlene
28 Spencer as Vice President; Cathy Ford as Chairperson – Membership, Nurture, and Outreach; Betsy Graham as 29 Chairperson, Social Action; Judy Roumillat as Secretary for Program Resources; Selena Smith and Patsy
30 Whittaker, members of the Committee on Nominations; Nettie Green, Killingsworth Representative; and Rubye
31 Bing, Rural Mission Representative.

32 Officers’ training was held at Chapin UMC in Chapin with 130 District Officers attending training held for 33 them by their Conference counterparts.

34 In November, the five new executive team members and two new district presidents traveled to Tempe, Arizona,
35 for Leadership Development Days (LDD) hosted by the UMW national office. LDD provides an opportunity for 36 women in leadership positions to receive training in leadership development. It was a wonderful opportunity for us to 37 be in fellowship with our national counterparts.

38 As this year closes and we embark upon another year in the history of UMW in South Carolina, let us continue
39 to seek God’s blessings in all that we do. We are proud of our heritage, we are passionate about mission, and 40 we are women of action! We put our faith, hope and love in action as we give our pledge to mission, collect used 41 stamps, collect box tops and labels, develop women’s leadership skills, participate in hands on mission opportu-
42 nities, and advocate for justice. The total program of UMW is MISSION; it’s why we exist. We are the hands and 43 feet that make God’s love real every time we put our faith, hope, and love in action to make the world a better
44 place for everyone including the most vulnerable – women, children, and youth.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA METHODIST CONFERENCE CREDIT UNION

52 This year, the South Carolina Methodist Conference Credit Union is celebrating 60 years of service to the 53 ministers and their families, the churches and their members, and the institutions of the South Carolina United 54 Methodist Conference. The Credit Union was chartered on September 19, 1955, by ten elders of the South
55 Carolina Conference (1785). The Reverend Hawley B. Lynn was elected to serve as the first president. Initially 56 the credit union was chartered to serve ministerial members of the Annual Conference and others under appoint-
57 ment of the bishop, employees of the boards and agencies of the Annual Conference, and their family members.
58 Today, membership encompasses not only the clergy of the South Carolina Conference and their families, but 59 also members of the churches, and employees of the local churches, the Annual Conference, the United 60 Methodist Colleges, and retirement homes of the South Carolina Conference. As members of the credit union,
61 individuals and their family members can benefit from a member-owned, not-for-profit, service-driven, relation-
62 ship-oriented, stewardship model that is at the core of our financial ministry. The Credit Union continues to offer share certificates of deposit although interest rates remain lower than ever before. Although the primary business continues to be new and used automobile loans and personal loans for our members, the Credit Union offers loans to the local churches and institutions of the South Carolina Conference.

The Credit Union remains safe, strong, and sound in its mission to serve its members. The Credit Union ended 2014 with a positive operating balance even after absorbing some long standing "past-due" loans. This year also brought about the retirement, on December 31st, of Mrs. Jenny Morris, Receptionist and Member Services Representative for the past 7½ years. The Board of Directors adopted a new loan platform to comply with Regulation Z as interpreted under the Dodd-Frank Act. The Credit Union has upgraded its processes to enable remote loan application via the internet and other telecommunication.

The Credit Union's website (www.scmccu) provides protected access to personal accounts and an interactive feature that allows a member to transfer funds from one of his or her credit union accounts to another.

Finally, it is the Credit Union's hope that as its constituents get to know it better, they will want to share with other United Methodist friends the news of the Credit Union's expanding services, and they are also invited to become ambassadors for the Credit Union as it continues to serve United Methodism and United Methodists in South Carolina.

The Reverend Michael L Guffee described our Credit Union brilliantly last year at the annual meeting when he said as follows:

"Since serving as Chairperson of the Credit Committee for the last year, I have seen how the Credit Union serves its members with affordable loans. Especially loans that assist members when a financial hardship occurs. Many of the loans that we make assist members getting their automobiles repaired, getting braces for their children's teeth, getting emergency medical treatment, paying college tuition,

1 purchasing an automobile when the situation calls for, or with many other hardship situations. Credit
2 Union members assist and help fellow members through the money they invest.

3 So I would say we are blessed to be part of a community where compassion is demonstrated day in 4 and day out. Hopefully, the day will come when those of us who invest money with the Credit Union will 5 see a better return on our money once again. Until then, we can know our money is serving the needs of 6 our brothers and sisters across the church.”

7 The Board of Directors, committees, and staff of the SCMCCU are grateful for the trust placed in us as financial 8 stewards for the members of the Credit Union.

9 Board of Directors are as follows: Mr. James Bradley Jr., Mr. William D. Britt, Jr., Rev. Eugene L. Curry,

18 AFRICA UNIVERSITY

21 The Africa University community is blessed and privileged to celebrate the South Carolina Conference's 22 100% investment in the Africa University Fund (AUF) apportionment in 2014.

23 South Carolina was one of 31 annual conferences—the highest number in recent years—to invest 100% of 24 their asking in the AUF. We thank you for your prayers and for affirming the impact of this ministry by being faithful 25 and generous with your investment.

26 In the past year, South Carolina United Methodists took their engagement with Africa University to a new 27 level, resulting in special efforts and a 100% investment in the AUF for the second consecutive year.

28 Together, we give thanks to God for this Ebenezer moment (1 Samuel 7:12). But the work is not yet finished.
29 For every individual who has been touched by the ministry that is Africa University, there are others—tens of 30 thousands, in fact—who are awaiting the miracle of an answered prayer.

31 As you gather for the 2015 South Carolina Annual Conference, we pray that you will remain steadfast in 32 your efforts to invest 100% of the asking to the AUF, and to other shared ministries, for years to come.

33 Strategic Priorities: Professor Munashe Furusa took the helm in July 2014 as the fourth vice chancellor in 34 the university's 23-year history. He was formally installed in March 2015 and has put fiscal accountability,
35 student quality of life, and support for academics at the top of his agenda. Africa University is currently engaged
36 in a vigorous review of its academic programs and service delivery that is aimed at enhancing the students'
37 potential for life-long success.

38 Student Enrollment: Full-time student enrollment at Africa University held steady in 2014 with 1,478 young 39 men and women from 25 African countries. Female students comprised a record 53.4% of the total enrollment in 40 a context where women lag behind men in access to higher education.

41 Graduation: In June 2014, 480 young people were awarded degrees from Africa University at the 20th grad-
42 uation ceremony, bringing to total number of alumni to just under 5,300. Without your support, a college education
43 would have been unattainable for the majority of these students.

44 Training and Research: Africa University remains a sought-after partner in addressing critical skills and 45 capacity gaps in sub-Saharan Africa. A collaboration with the Raoul Wallenberg Institute in Sweden supports a 46 new master's degree program in Human Rights, Peace, and Development. Africa University is also preparing to 47 launch its first Ph.D. program, which links issues of Peace, Leadership, Governance, and Development and 48 targets policymakers.

49 Leadership and Service: Africa University graduates are answering the call to serve, heal, and uplift
50 communities. Currently, more than a dozen graduates are helping 'the least of these' to experience God's love
51 through service as Global Mission Fellows and missionaries in Africa, Europe, and Latin America.

52 Please continue to pray for Africa University. And thank you, South Carolina Conference, for your amazing
53 outpouring of love and support. May God bless and keep you always in abundance.

LAKE JUNALUSKA ASSEMBLY, INC.

On February 10, 2015 Lake Junaluska, the Southeastern Jurisdiction of the United Methodist Church, the United States, and the world lost a great leader. Rev. Dr. R. Wright Spears died at the age of 102. He served as a pastor to multiple churches in South Carolina and as the President of Columbia College for 26 years, a time during which he helped that institution navigate momentous social changes. Dr. Spears and his wife Mary Blue retired to Lake Junaluska in 1977 where he continued to promote social justice in all forms. Few organizations have in their history a person as influential as Dr. Spears. He had a vision for Lake Junaluska, and spent his years here quietly encouraging us all to more fully live into the Kingdom of God through our mission of Christian hospitality. Arguably the most influential person at Lake Junaluska in the last 50 years, in both formal leadership roles and quiet behind the scenes work, he understood the importance of balancing the budget while offering a great experience to our guests. He urged us to offer great programming, and at the age of 95 was instrumental in launching the Lake Junaluska Peace Conference. Dr. Spears understood that offering Christian hospitality goes beyond simply welcoming our paying customers. At our best, we are what he envisioned us to be: a place that welcomes all and provides transforming and renewing spiritual experiences and a place that pays attention to the bottom line and is operated more like a college than a church camp. We have a long way to go to be the perfect fulfillment of Wright’s vision for Lake Junaluska, but we are further along that path today and more inspired to fulfill our mission “to be a place of Christian hospitality where lives are transformed through renewal of soul, mind, and body” than ever thanks to his influence.

19

For the third year in a row, we ended the year “in the black.” We continue to accomplish this without any Operational Apportionment support from the Southeastern Jurisdiction. Lake Junaluska has embraced the new financial model that was approved by the 2008 SEJ Conference and we remain committed to always “live within our means.” 2014 was a record breaking year for charitable giving. We received $1,079,994 from 1,257 individuals. This represents a 34.4% increase in total giving over 2013 and a 2.6% increase in number of donors.

24

We continue to refine and implement our plans for improvements to our facilities, grounds, and programs. Plans were approved in 2014 to begin an extensive renovation of The Terrace hotel, a project that will have a significant impact on the quality of the guest rooms and public spaces in that facility and will influence the level of service provided to all of our lodging guests. We completed all of the projects planned in 2013 including converting the Jones Dining Hall into a year round facility, renovating the children’s playground at the Wilson Children’s Building, and numerous improvements to the lake front consisting of a new boat storage area along with a boat dock and fishing pier just to the north of the swimming pool and a beautiful meditation garden to the south. We are working diligently to refine and improve our existing programming for youth and adults and continually seek to implement new innovative programs that align with our mission.

33

As a member of the United Methodist Church within the Southeastern Jurisdiction we want you to know that “your” asset, Lake Junaluska, is doing very well. You can be very proud of this important organization within the jurisdiction and the larger United Methodist Church. We are striving to be good stewards of the resources with which you have entrusted us and to carry on the legacy of Dr. Wright Spears.

37

If you haven’t already, please pick up a copy of our 2015 program, Discover Lake Junaluska. Peruse its pages to read about the impact of our programs, to learn about new projects we are working on, and to familiarize yourself with our calendar of events. We do hope you can come and visit us this year for a conference, a retreat, or a vacation to be transformed and renewed in soul, mind, and body.

CANDLER SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

46

For 100 years, Candler School of Theology at Emory University has prepared real people to make a real difference in the real world. Since our founding in 1914, more than 10,000 students have graduated from Candler, where they have been shaped as Christian leaders who put faith and love into action, transforming the world in the name of Jesus Christ. Here, students are challenged academically, encouraged spiritually, and immersed in Christian service from the first day they arrive on campus. This unique approach ensures that our graduates are ready to serve wherever God leads.

52

One of 13 official seminaries of The United Methodist Church, Candler is grounded in the Christian faith and shaped by the Wesleyan tradition. We are one of seven graduate professional schools of Emory University, a top-tier research institution offering extensive resources and a rich context for study. Our location in the city of Atlanta offers a learning environment that reflects the highly diverse communities of the 21st century world. There is no better place for ministry preparation that addresses our major denominational priorities: developing leaders, starting and growing churches, providing ministry with the poor, and improving global health.

58

During the 2014-2015 academic year, Candler celebrated its Centennial, marking our 100th anniversary with a series of commemorative events highlighting memories of the past and visions for the future. The yearlong celebration began in the fall of 2014 with the dedication of the final phase of our new LEED-certified building and the premiere of Religion and Reason Joined: Candler at 100, a new book on our history. The commemoration continued through the spring of 2015 with guest lectures, exhibits, and “Prophetic Voices,” a major academic conference addressing the challenges and opportunities facing theology in the 21st century.

Not only has Candler expanded its physical space this year, but we have also expanded degree offerings as well. In response to the changing needs of the church, Candler introduced five new degrees to equip Christian leaders: the Doctor of Ministry, the Master of Religious Leadership, the Master of Religion and Public Life, and two dual degrees with social work and development practice.

Candler’s student body reflects the diversity and breadth of the Christian faithful. Our enrollment stands at 447, with 320 seeking the Master of Divinity, 43 the Master of Theological Studies, 14 the Master of Religious Life, 20 the Master of Theology, 29 the Doctor of Ministry, 10 the Doctor of Theology, and 11 non-degree students. The student body is 52% women, 35% people of color (U.S.). The median age of the entering class is 27. Students represent 42 denominations, with nearly half identifying as United Methodist.

Candler draws considerable strength and inspiration from its relationship with The United Methodist Church. Our ability to fulfill our mission of educating faithful and creative leaders for the church’s ministries in the world depends upon your support, gifts, and prayers. Thank you for the countless ways you advance this vital ministry in the life of our denomination. Visit us in person in Atlanta or online at candler.emory.edu to see firsthand how Candler prepares real people to make a real difference in the real world.

DUKE DIVINITY SCHOOL

The academic year 2014–2015 has been an exciting year as we continue to engage with the church, academy, and society on important ecclesiastical and cultural issues. The heart of our work remains the preparation of men and women for Christian ministry and leadership within the church. As part of that mission, our initiatives, centers, and programs continue to be a vital resource for us to extend the good news of God’s invitation into all spheres of a complex and hungry world. Far from being an ivory tower, Duke Divinity School is a place where faculty, students, and staff are eager to use the training for ministry in order to serve others and serve as a light to the world.

Duke Initiatives in Theology and the Arts (DITA) recognizes that the arts shape the imagination of a community and provide the forms through which many people most directly and compellingly encounter the message of the gospel. On Palm Sunday, Duke Chapel hosted the American premiere of the new St Luke Passion, written by the eminent Scottish composer James MacMillan. The work was commissioned by Duke Divinity School in conjunction with the Netherlands Radio Philharmonic Orchestra and the City of Birmingham (U.K.) Symphony Orchestra. During the process of composing the piece, MacMillan met several times with a group of theologians and biblical scholars from Duke Divinity School and the University of Cambridge to reflect on the shape and meaning of Luke’s narrative. In addition to this stunning choral work, DITA has sponsored lectures by visiting scholars and hosted the first artist-in-residence, Malcolm Guite.

The newest of our initiatives, Theology, Medicine, and Culture, builds on the extraordinary faculty resources offered by four physicians who hold joint faculty appointments in the Medical School and the Divinity School at Duke. Working together with other members of the faculty who share an interest in healthcare and medical ethics, they are developing a range of programs that seek to clarify and strengthen Christian witness and action in the complex world of healthcare. One program, Walking Together, sponsors conferences that address care of the mentally ill in faith communities. Another, Reimagining Medicine, will gather health professionals at a summer conference to consider proposals for the ways in which local communities might draw on Christian perspectives to shape the delivery of medical care.

The Center for Reconciliation (CFR) celebrated its 10th anniversary this year, and this year has been a time of transition for the center. Co-founder Chris Rice accepted a role with the Mennonite Central Committee in Korea, and he will retain his connection to Duke as senior fellow for Northeast Asia. In that role he will coordinate the emerging work of the Christian Forum for Reconciliation in Northeast Asia, which will be modeled on the successful development of the Great Lakes Initiative (GLI) in East Africa. Duke has helped to support the GLI for the past seven years, and this year full leadership transitioned to local African leaders. The Divinity School has received a major gift commitment to endow a faculty position that will also serve as director of the CFR, and a search has begun to fill that position. In the coming years we intend to strengthen our emphasis on issues of racial reconciliation in local contexts.

Leadership Education at Duke Divinity (LEADD) draws inspiration both from the Christian theological tradition and from the best recent studies and practices of leadership and entrepreneurship. In partnership with the Lake Institute, this year LEADD offered an executive certificate in religious fundraising. LEADD also offers a program for denominational and institutional leaders, Foundations in Christian Leadership. Faith & Leadership, the online magazine published by LEADD, continues to reach over 300,000 readers and provide a resource for theological reflection and “traditioned innovation” for all in ministry. This publication’s continued excellent work was recognized again this year with awards from the Associated Church Press “Best of the Christian Press” contest.

1 The Center for Studies in the Wesleyan Tradition (CSWT) has been a source of internationally acclaimed
2 research and support for Methodist and Wesleyan studies since 1979. This center offers courses for both
3 Course of Study and Divinity students, provides access to outstanding research resources for students and
4 scholars of the broad Wesleyan tradition, and supports the production of critical editions of the texts of John and
5 Charles Wesley in print and online formats. CSWT also sponsors the Summer Wesley Seminar, led by professors
6 Randy Maddox and Richard Heitzenrater, which invites application from scholars to spend an intensive residency
7 at the Divinity School to facilitate their study of Wesleyan heritage.

8 In addition to our major initiatives, Duke Divinity School has a number of other programs that extend the good
9 news of God's salvation to disparate parts of our society. Our program in prison ministry sends divinity students into 10 prisons in order to take classes alongside people who are incarcerated. The certificate in prison studies provides 11 students with the opportunity to engage specifically with people in prison and the system that imprisons them in 12 the context of theological education and formation for ministry. Thriving Rural Communities, a partnership among 13 Duke Divinity School, The Duke Endowment, and the North Carolina and Western North Carolina Conferences of 14 The United Methodist Church, helps divinity students, pastors, laity, districts, and conferences cultivate and 15 strengthen Christian leadership and United Methodist congregations in rural North Carolina. The Duke Youth
16 Academy for Christian Formation continues to offer high-school students an opportunity for intensive theological 17 engagement and practice.

18 Several of our faculty were recognized this year for their scholarship and interdisciplinary expertise. Willie
19 Jennings, associate professor of theology and black church studies, was given the prestigious 2015 Louisville
20 Grawemeyer Award in Religion for his book, The Christian Imagination: Theology and the Origins of Race. The

41 8 percent are Anglican or Episcopal, 3 percent are Roman Catholic, 7 percent are Presbyterian or Reformed, with the 42 remaining 9 percent from other denominations or nondenominational churches.

43 In addition to the ongoing excellent academic and field education work done by students each year, several 44 students had notable achievements. Two of the top three prizes in the Student Essays in Christian Wisdom
45 competition sponsored by The Living Church magazine were claimed by Divinity School students: Kevin Rose
46 M.Div.'16 won second place, and John Zambenini M.Div.'15 won third place. Second-year M.Div. student Jacob
47 Drake was selected to present a paper at the Oxford University Byzantine Society International Graduate 48 Conference held in Oxford, England. Michelle Wolfe M.Div.'14 was awarded a fellowship by FASPE (Fellowships 49 at Auschwitz for the Study of Professional Ethics) to participate in a two-week program in New York, Germany,
50 and Poland for an intensive study of contemporary ethics. Four divinity students, part of a research group in 51 American religious history, were among the winners of grants for research projects using the Religion in North
52 Carolina digital collection. Other students did exemplary work in organizing conferences for ministry to the 53 sexually abused and issues in pastoral care for military veterans.

54 We remain deeply grateful for the relationships among the United Methodist Church, this Annual Conference, 55 and Duke Divinity School. We look forward to working with you in the task of preparing men and women for

GARRETT-EVANGELICAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Greetings from Garrett-Evangelical!

Early in the calendar year, I met with various constituencies of Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary, including alums, faculty, staff, trustees, and students regarding their hopes and concerns for the school. As a result, we began the 2014-2015 academic year with the following priorities:

- to prepare and equip our graduates as public theologians,
- to nurture a more diverse community at Garrett-Evangelical so that the entire community develops cultural competency,
- to value and promote inclusivity at Garrett-Evangelical, and
- to construct a sustainable model for theological education.

Public Theology

This year we launched a Public Theology Lecture Series to help the Garrett-Evangelical community understand more about the intersection of theological perspectives and shared values held in the public arena as persons in ministry work with others toward the common good and the wellbeing of all persons and creation. The lecture series included the following:

- October 15, 2014: Rev. Janet Wolf, Director of Haley Farm and Nonviolent Organizing for the Children's Defense Fund, lectured on various Children's Defense Fund programs including restorative justice, mass incarceration, cradle to prison pipeline, and freedom schools.
- December 3, 2014: Dr. Mark Lewis Taylor, Maxwell M. Upton Professor of Theology and Culture at Princeton Theological Seminary, considered structures of the global orders and everyday living which public theologians may claim to engage and where "the powers and principalities" are always in contestation in "public" life.

In the fall, we will offer a course, "Public Theology in the City," taught by Dr. David Frenchak, former president of Seminary Consortium for Urban Pastoral Education (SCUPE). The class will collaborate with the mayor's office in Evanston on an anti-violence initiative. Dr. Frenchak will also provide a public theology lecture this spring.

Cultural Competency and Inclusivity

As part of the commitment to nurturing a more diverse community, we welcomed a new Vice President for Academic Affairs, Dr. Luis R. Rivera, our first Latino Academic Dean. Our current ethnic/racial profile is as follows:

- 20% black; 6% Asian; 3% Hispanic/Latino; and 54% White; 14% International
- More than 33 religious traditions, four continents, 15 countries and 36 states are represented in the student body.
- 232 students are United Methodist with 25 additional students from other Pan-Methodist denominations
- 94 new students began their studies at Garrett-Evangelical this fall, raising total fall enrollment to 365 (FTE of 305)
- The average age of the entering Master of Divinity student is 31.
- The study body consists of 52% women.

Consistent attention to issues of inclusivity, justice, and grace within the seminary setting are critical for preparing future leaders to enter an increasingly diverse world. To respond to these concerns, Garrett-Evangelical will offer a number of Circle of Trust conversations this spring for trustees, faculty, staff, and students. Our goals are: (1) to provide safe space to discuss difficult topics; (2) to reduce any gap between stated values and actual behavior, both personally for participants and institutionally; and (3) to update our 1997 statements of inclusivity.

Sustainable Theological Education

Garrett-Evangelical is beginning work on a Sustainable Theological Education Model for the school. We are guided by a commitment to generational stewardship of our resources and to maintaining a thriving seminary for the future. We will attend to the areas of business, academic programs, and external programs.

Our priority continues to be making seminary education affordable. To this end, we award more than $2.5 million in scholarship aid to students each year, and we lead all United Methodist seminaries in the Dollars for Scholars program with 45 recipients. In October, the seminary publicly launched The Final Lap of its $100 million Forging Our Future campaign and announced that $88 million has been received to date. Much has already been accomplished, but more remains to be done, such as expanding the number of new leadership scholarships from 80 to 100, renovating Sherman apartments, endowing several more faculty positions, and continuing to grow the unrestricted endowment. Gifts for any of these goals are always welcome.

Thank you for your continued interest in our work. We are dedicated to serving The United Methodist Church and the church at large. For more information about Garrett-Evangelical and our work, I encourage you to visit our website, www.garrett.edu, and to visit us on campus.

Cordially,

Lallene J. Rector, President

1 About Us

2 Garrett-Evangelical is the result of the interweaving of three institutions:

- 3 • Garrett Biblical Institute, the first Methodist seminary in the Midwest, was established in 1853 by
- 4 largely the same church people who founded Northwestern University.
- 5 • Chicago Training School, established in 1885, was an important force for women in ministry and for
- 6 developing service agencies throughout Chicago. Chicago Training School merged with Garrett
- 7 Biblical Institute in 1934.
- 8 • Evangelical Theological Seminary, located in Naperville and founded as a seminary of the Evangelical
- 9 Church (later the Evangelical United Brethren) in 1873, joined with Garrett Theological Seminary in
- 10 1974 to form Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary.

13 ILIFF SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

15 Greetings from the Iliff School of Theology in Denver, Colorado. We wish you blessings as together we 16 continue the work of strengthening the Church and offering a compassionate presence to the world.

17 The Iliff School of Theology’s commitment to the Wesleyan tradition of providing intellectually alive and spirit-
18 ually grounded theological education for our students continues. From Tanzania to Texas, Denver to Delhi, 19 Missouri to Mexico, Iliff students and graduates are holding constructive tension with the human condition as it is 20 and courageously standing with those who seek justice.

21 This past year saw one of Iliff’s largest enrollments since its founding by the United Methodist Church in 22 1892 – 333 students, 60% female and 40% male, 35% Methodist – all actively engaged in both the classroom
23 and a host of ministry contexts. Some are leading congregations toward revitalization while others are doing
24 ministry by establishing new forms of community.

25 Interest in online and hybrid classes continues to grow from across the nation in our Journey MDIV Program,
26 one of the first to bring quality theological education online. As a concerted move by Iliff to reduce student debt
27 and grow the ability of students to lead financially sound, engaged communities, many MDIV students are also
28 participating in the Spiritually-Integrated Financial Resiliency Program, funded by a $250,000 grant from the Lilly
29 Endowment.

30 We welcomed participants to our first Spanish-Speaking Local Pastors Licensing School hosted in partnership
31 with the Rocky Mountain Conference and participated in healing events for commemoration of the Sand Creek
32 Massacre. In addition, Iliff students participated in an immersion trip to Africa University and are planning an 33 additional experience this year. We look forward to continuing these vital relationships.

34 Iliff created numerous events for area clergy and supporters. Via forums on leadership, policing, the role of 35 faith in world events, and more, campus speakers included Amy Goodman, Garry Kasparov, and the Rev. Dr.
36 Rebecca Chopp, this year’s Jameson Jones Preacher. Bridging theological education to new arenas was further 37 cultivated through Iliff’s Authentic Engagement™ Program with trainings for civic and non-profit groups. Our 38 efforts were duly noted by McCormick Theological Seminary’s Center for Faith and Service when we were 39 named as one of the nation’s “Seminaries That Change the World.”

40 We continue to look to the future with courageous theological imagination. We are grateful for our denomination-
41 al connection.

46 METHODIST THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL IN OHIO (MTSO)

47
48 Thank you for this opportunity to bring you an update from MTSO.

49
50 The care of creation

51 MTSO continues to seek opportunities to foster and encourage the care of creation. In January, we were the 52 primary host for a multi-site Climate Conversation, jointly presented by the Theological Commons at MTSO and 53 Ohio Interfaith Power and Light, a group offering a religious response to climate change. We also released a
54 recent video sharing the story of Seminary Hill Farm and the ways it fits within the school’s broader commitment
55 to ecotheology. You’ll find a link to the video at seminaryhillfarm.org. We invite you to download the high-
56 definition video from its Vimeo page and share it in any context you believe will be constructive. We also would 57 be happy to provide a speaker in person or via Skype to discuss this initiative.

58
59 Schooler Institute on Preaching

60 A hands-on 2015 Schooler Institute on Preaching was led by Jorge Lockward, director of global praise for 61 the General Board of Global Ministries of the United Methodist Church, and Valerie Bridgeman, recently appointed associate professor of homiletics and Hebrew Bible at MTSO. We were pleased to offer the wisdom of this dynamic duo to our students, alums, and other participants.

Conference Candidacy Summits

We were pleased to be the host site of the West Ohio Conference's Candidacy Summits for those exploring ordination. MTSO provided our campus facilities for these two-day events, held in August and January. Among other activities, candidates participated in worship, mentoring work, and coffee with district leaders.

MTSO prepares Christian leaders for lives of lasting significance in service to the church and the world. In addition to the Master of Divinity degree, we offer master's degrees in counseling ministries, theological studies, and practical theology, along with a Doctor of Ministry degree. We invite you to stay in touch with us at mtso.edu, on Facebook, and @MTSOedu on Twitter.

PERKINS SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY

Perkins School of Theology celebrates our connections with the South Carolina Annual Conference. We are pleased to report that total enrollment at Perkins exceeds 400 students, of which approximately two-thirds are United Methodist and more than one-third are ethnic minority students. Master's degree programs comprise approximately 51% female and 49% male students. The D.Min. program includes students from southern Asia taking classes in Singapore and Dallas. Our Ph.D. program comprises 30 active students, including two Latino Ph.D. students supported through a grant from the Luce Foundation to Perkins' Center for the Study of Latino/Christianity and Religions.

Dr. Jack Levison (Ph.D., Duke, 1985) joined the Perkins faculty as the third appointee to the W.J.A. Power Chair of Biblical Hebrew and Old Testament Interpretation. Dr. John Martin, new director of development, came to Perkins after serving as president of Roberts Wesleyan College in Rochester, New York. Following a nationwide search, a senior scholar and teacher eligible for appointment to the Lois Craddock Perkins Chair in Homiletics is expected to join the Perkins faculty in fall 2015.

Perkins restructured its Master of Divinity degree, effective spring 2015, enabling full-time students to complete the program in three years and reducing overall cost of the degree. The M.Div. now requires 73 term hours of academic credit, including the nine-hour internship.

A new "Master of Arts in Ministry" (MAM) degree has replaced the C.M.M. The MAM offers five tracks: two previously-existing tracks in Christian Education and Urban Ministry and new tracks in Theology and Social Justice, Christian Spirituality, and Evangelism and Mission.

A $2.5 million gift to SMU will establish the new Susanna Wesley Centennial Chair in Practical Theology at Perkins.

Perkins thanks our many colleagues, friends, and alumni/ae across the connection for generous support in many ways, including referrals of prospective students, as we continue our vital mission of preparing women and men for faithful leadership in Christian ministry.

Grace and Peace,

William B. Lawrence

We also partner with small and rural congregations in a vitality process, exploring congregational call, encouraging creative missional outreach, and sparking new life.

Together in 2014, we were able to accomplish the following:

- Host over 1400 volunteers who worked on campus, in our garden, and in our community to help those in need
- Deliver over 75 loads of firewood to families who could not otherwise afford to heat their homes

- Repair 123 homes, making them warmer, drier, and safer
- Provide financial counseling to 50 families, helping two families to secure loans to purchase homes
- Host 7 poverty simulations to help the community understand the challenges associated with those living in generational poverty
- Harvest fresh vegetables from our garden for our guests and donate excess vegetables to Clay County Food Pantry and Matt's Ministry, a weekend meal program for children in our rural community
- Lead 18 small and rural churches through Next Step Vitality Ministry
- Engage in 81 worship services with mission volunteers to reflect upon their service in this rural Appalachian community
- Increase Hinton's presence throughout the Southeastern Jurisdiction, with increased web presence moving from 6,000 website hits in 2010 to 60,909 website hits in 2014
- Increase connections through social media from 358 Facebook friends in 2012 to over 1200 in 2014
- Raise over $100,000, which is two-thirds of our way to our initial goal of $150,000 in our Capital Campaign

What can we do together in 2015?

- Foster Relationships
- Empower People
- Build Community

But we need your help:

- Pray for Hinton

ANTI-BULLYING RESOLUTION

Whereas, Many people are hurting from the effects of bullying in the forms of physical and verbal harassment, intimidation, oppression, and exclusion (meaning a gesture, an electronic communication, or a written, verbal, or physical act, that is perceived as harming the person, insulting/demeaning the person or placing a person in reasonable fear of personal harm or property damage); and

Whereas, the effects of bullying can halt the healthy development of all people socially, emotionally, and spiritually. According to a study by Iowa State University, "Individuals who are bullied experience severe emotional consequences such as anxiety, passivity, academic problems, social deficits, and low self-esteem." Bullying leads especially young people to isolation and depression which prevents them from creating healthy friendships with their peers. This isolation can lead to participation in high risk behaviors and suicide; and

Whereas, 33 youth ages 10-19 and 83 persons ages 15-24 within the bounds of the South Carolina Annual Conference committed suicide due to a mental illness (leading cause is depression which can be an aftermath of bullying) during 2013; and

Whereas, ¶162 of the Book of Discipline states:

"We affirm all persons as equally valuable in the sight of God. We therefore work toward societies in which each person's value is recognized, maintained, and strengthened. We support the basic rights of all persons to equal access to housing, education, communication, employment, medical care, legal redress for grievances, and physical protection. We deplore acts of hate or violence against groups or persons based on race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, religious affiliation, or economic status. Our respect for the inherent dignity of all persons leads us to call for the recognition, protection, and implementation of the principles of The Universal Declaration of Human Rights so that communities and individuals may claim and enjoy their universal, indivisible, and inalienable rights;" and

Whereas, Jesus taught, "you shall love your neighbor as yourself." (Matthew 22:39).

Therefore be it resolved, that the following resolution is adopted by the 2015 South Carolina Annual Conference:

That we vow, as churches and people of faith, we will no longer be silent about the value of each and every life.

To that end, we categorically oppose the practices of bullying in all its forms. We urge our SC UMC Conference, Churches, Committees, Campus Ministries and Camps and Retreats Ministry to create safe space for each and every child of God, without regard to religion, race, ethnicity, culture, citizenship, socio-economic status, gender identity, sexual orientation and physical or mental ability.

Further, in the spirit of advocating for safe sanctuary, we call upon every United Methodist to respond to acts of bullying with acts of compassion. We will take a public stand against speeches of hate, exclusion, harassment and acts of intimidation and violence filled with long-held prejudices against all persons.

Finally, we call upon all congregations of the South Carolina United Methodist Conference to intentionally validate, support, and empower persons being injured by bullying behavior in workplaces, in schools, and in all environments.

WHEREAS, RCRC opposes parental notification laws², in opposition to the Book of Discipline, which supports parental notification;

WHEREAS, RCRC lobbies the government and participates in legal action for the preservation of partial-birth abortion³, in opposition to the Book of Discipline, which opposes partial-birth abortion and calls for the end of such practice except when the physical life of the mother is in danger;

WHEREAS, the “members of our denomination are not of one mind over the precise conditions in which abortion can be supported”⁴ and therefore agencies of The United Methodist Church should not be permitted to join a political lobby for abortion, such as RCRC;

WHEREAS, the Book of Discipline calls us to “assist the ministry of crisis pregnancy centers and pregnancy resource centers that compassionately help women find feasible alternatives to abortion” and;

WHEREAS, other mainline denominations, with positions on abortion similar to that of The United Methodist Church, have either never chosen to be members of RCRC (e.g. the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America and the Disciples of Christ) or severed past ties with RCRC (American Baptist Churches USA and the Northern Province of the Moravian Church);

WHEREAS, at the 2012 General Conference, the Church and Society B Committee voted to recommend that Petition 20989 (withdraw UMC from RCRC) be adopted but although a week of voting remained, the petition was not allowed to be debated for plenary vote;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the 2016 General Conference of the United Methodist Church withdraw immediately the General Board of Church and Society and the General Board of Global Ministries/Women’s Division from membership in the Religious Coalition for Reproductive Choice (RCRC).

18 THE BOOK OF DISCIPLINE LANGUAGE CHANGE RESOLUTION

20 Whereas, from its adoption, the incompatibility statement found in ¶161F of The Book of Discipline has been

21 argued by biblical scholars and theologians as inaccurate and in conflict with what many Christian educators

22 indeed teach; and

23 Whereas, ¶161F contradicts ¶162 of The Book of Discipline which states: "We affirm all persons as equally

24 valuable in the sight of God. We therefore work toward societies in which each person's value is recognized,

25 maintained, and strengthened. We support the basic rights of all persons to equal access to housing, education,

26 communication, employment, medical care, legal redress for grievances, and physical protection. We deplore

27 acts of hate or violence against groups or persons based on race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, religious

28 affiliation, or economic status. Our respect for the inherent dignity of all persons leads us to call for the recogni-

29 tion, protection, and implementation of the principles of The Universal Declaration of Human Rights so that

30 communities and individuals may claim and enjoy their universal, indivisible, and inalienable rights"; and

31 Whereas, from its adoption, the statement has not fully represented all United Methodists; and

32 Whereas, in each subsequent year since adoption this statement is rejected by more and more United

33 Methodists as an insufficient way of communicating our most honest and forthright understanding of human

34 sexuality and human value; and

35 Whereas, the statement has been the source of tremendous harm to countless lesbian, gay, bisexual,

36 transgender (LGBT) persons, families and friends; and

37 Whereas, this harmful statement is used by many to justify the rejection, exclusion and discrimination

38 against LGBT persons in and outside of the church

39 Whereas, medical science has established that homosexuality is a state of being and not a personal choice

40 (See Amicus Brief filed by the American Medical Association, American Psychological Association, American

41 Academy of Pediatrics, and other widely respected and authoritative medical, psychological and psychiatric 42 associations in the recent case of Hollingsworth v. Perry before the United States Supreme Court) and therefore

43 homosexuals (LGBT) including their sexual orientation - are part of God's creation; and

44 Whereas, the previous understanding of homosexuality as treated in ¶161F of the Book of Discipline

45 presumed that it is a choice, and the current understanding is that it is a state of being which therefore can be

46 affirmed in a life-long, covenant relationship that embodies "celibacy in singleness and fidelity in marriage";

47 Therefore, be it resolved that the South Carolina Annual Conference petition the 2016 General Conference

48 of the United Methodist Church to remove the sentence found in ¶161F of the 2012 Book of Discipline that

50 practice incompatible with Christian teaching."

Guidelines for Participation in Parliamentary Process

Handling A Motion:

1. Member makes a motion.
2. Another member seconds the motion.
3. Chair states the question on the motion.*
4. Motion is pending and open for debate.
5. Assembly decides on the motion: adopts/rejects.
6. Chair announces results of vote.

*Until the chair states the question, the maker of the motion has the right to modify the motion or withdraw it entirely. i.e. with the agreement of the Second.

P. 59-RR: Fundamental Principle of Parliamentary Law:
Only one question can be considered at a time; once a motion is before the assembly:

1. Adopts or rejects.
2. Or disposed in some other way.

SECONDARY MOTION:

1. Made and considered while the main motion is pending.
2. Must be acted upon or disposed of before direct consideration of the main question can be continued.

P. 62-65-RR: Subsidiary Motions can be amended except:
Motion to “Postpone indefinitely”, “Previous Question”, or “Lay on the Table”.

P. 54- RR: In cases where there seems to be no opposition in routine business, time is saved by procedure of example: “If there is no objection ...”. If there is objection, chair states the question and allows debate and vote.

P.135-RR: AN AMENDMENT of the THIRD degree is not permitted.

P.153-RR: It is possible to introduce a “Substitute for the substitute” which CANNOT be amended, since it is a Secondary Amendment.

PP.153-162-RR: TO SUBSTITUTE:
A substitute offered for a main motion or resolution (or paragraph), is a PRIMARY AMENDMENT and usually is in order ONLY when no other amendment is pending.
HOWEVER, superseding this is GENERAL CONFERENCE RULE OF ORDER NO. 26 – “PROCEDURE FOR CONSIDERATION OF SUBSTITUTES” AND “AMENDING BY SUBSTITUTION”:

(Rule of Order No. 26 used when substitutes are offered for ORIGINAL Conference Reports of Boards, Committees, or Resolutions “even if amendments thereto are pending, a substitute therefore may be offered by any member moving that the same be substituted for the report, resolution, or amendment under consideration. The substitute shall be an alternative to what is before the house.”

Steps For G.C. RULE 26:

1. Debate limited to merits of substitution only, no amendments allowed.
2. Vote on substitute, if prevails by majority vote, becomes main motion.
3. Debate, amendment moves forward on main motion.
4. MAIN MOTION is voted upon with minimum of two speeches on each side of question.

PP. 138-139-RR: IMPROPER AMENDMENTS ARE THOSE ...

1. not germane to the question.
2. merely making adoption of amended question equivalent to rejection of original motion.
3. making question identical, or contrary to, one previously decided during the same session.
4. proposing to change one of the forms of amendment (i.e. “to insert or add; to strike out and insert; to substitute”) into another form.
5. having the effect of converting one parliamentary motion into another.
6. that strike out the word “Resolved” or other enacting words.
7. frivolous or absurd.
8. having incoherent wording or no rational purpose.
9. converting a primary amendment into an improper form.

GENERAL CONFERENCE 2016 DELEGATES AND ELECTORS

January 7, 2015

This document is provided in order to serve as a guide for annual conferences as they decide the eligibility of delegates and electors for the 2016 General Conference.

These guidelines are based on the amended ¶35 and Judicial Council Decision No. 1181.

Amended ¶35, United Methodist Book of Discipline

¶35 – Article IV – The clergy delegates to the General Conference and to the jurisdictional or central conference shall be elected from the clergy members in full connection and shall be elected by the clergy members of the annual conference or provisional annual conference who are deacons and elders in full connection, associate members, and those provisional members who have completed all of their educational requirements and local pastors who have completed Course of Study or an M. Div. degree and have served a minimum of two consecutive years under appointment immediately preceding the election.

Judicial Council Decision No. 1181 (Feb. 12, 2011)

Digest of Case

The persons who are eligible to be elected as clergy delegates to the General Conference, the jurisdictional conference, or the central conference by the annual conference or the provisional annual conference are the full clergy members of the annual or provisional conference. Eligibility to be elected is conferred by full conference membership without regard to ordination or to years of service.

The persons who are eligible to cast ballots as electors in choosing the clergy delegates to the General Conference, the jurisdictional conference, or the central conference, are (a) the persons who are eligible for election, (b) the associate members, (c) the provisional members who have been judged by the annual conference to have completed the educational requirements and have been elected to provisional membership, and (d) the local pastors who have met two criteria: they have, by either of two options as determined by the annual conference, completed the constitutionally specified level of education; and they have been appointed by the bishop and served for two consecutive years, immediately preceding the election, during which time no withdrawal of the appointed status has occurred.

Any enabling legislation in 2008 Discipline that does not conform to ¶ 35 is unconstitutional.

LOCAL CHURCH MISSION FAIR:

HEAD + HEART + HANDS: Disciples Building Relationships

Local Church Mission Fair to Be Held at Annual Conference on Monday, June 8, 2015

The Lay Leadership Area of Connectional Ministries will celebrate the mission and ministries of local churches across South Carolina who are engaged in building relationships that reflect the use of our heads in telling God's story, the use of our hearts as we demonstrate the love of Jesus Christ, and the use of our hands as we humbly serve others. Local Church Mission Fair to be held on Monday, June 8, 2015, 12 noon-2 pm at the Florence Convention Civic Center in the Exhibit Hall.

Local churches! Please submit your mission or ministry by going online to www.umcsc.org. The online form allows you to submit a description and a photo.

If you have any questions, please contact Lisa Livingston at LLivingston@AgapeSenior.com or Donald Love at del12345@aol.com.

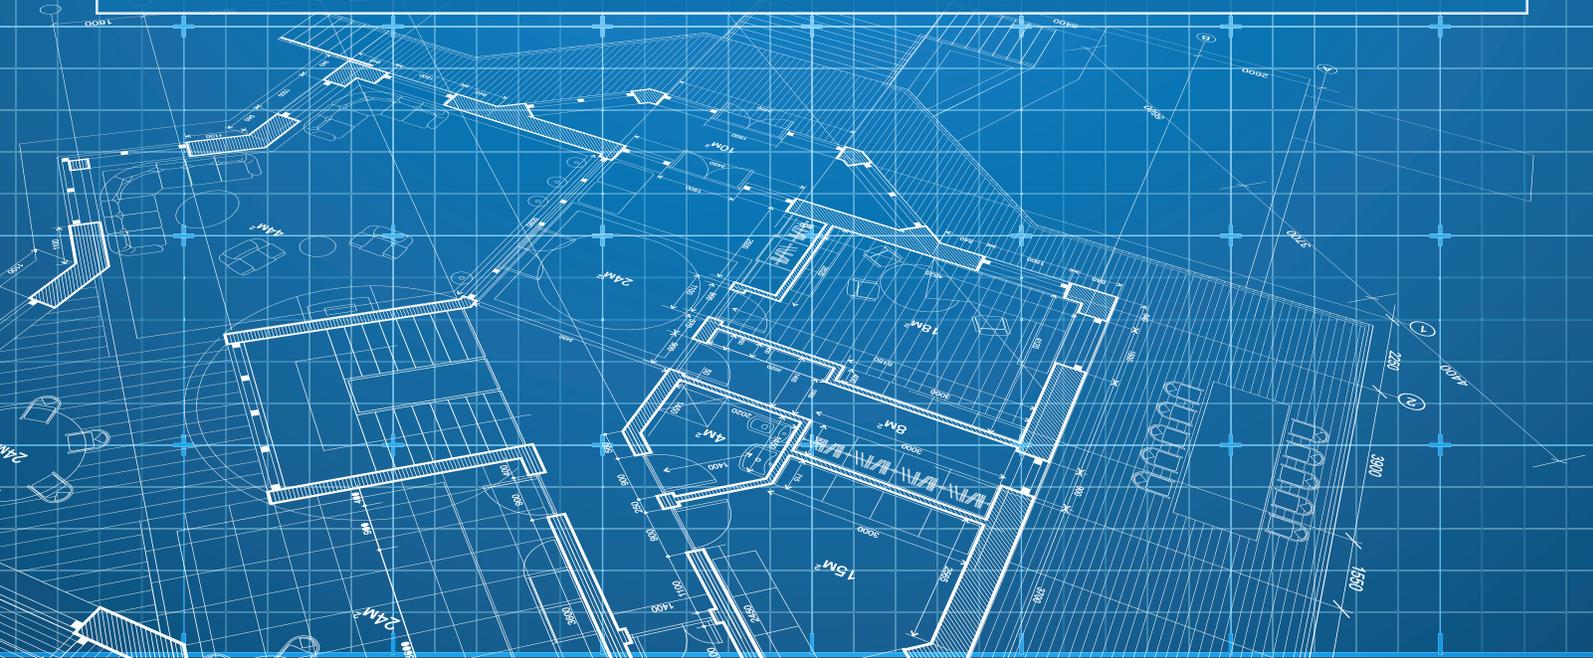

The churches that make submissions are also invited to set up an exhibit during the Mission Fair to share your project with fellow attendees at our Annual Conference.

Please prepare a visual presentation with handouts if possible. One or more representatives from your church should set up and be on hand to talk about the project. Detailed instructions will be sent to you once your mission/ministry has been submitted properly. All submissions will be highlighted in a video presentation to be shown during the Annual Conference.

The deadline for submissions is April 30, 2015.

Once received, submissions will be reviewed by the Lay Leadership Planning Committee and you will be notified of your selection by May 15, 2015.

Lunch will be available during the Mission Fair with several food stations set up around the ballroom. Tickets are $8 per person and will be available for purchase on Monday, June 8th.
