ACTIVE MINISTERS

ROBERT CHRISTOPHER BARRETT

December 15, 1973 – February 24, 2016

The Reverend Robert Christopher Barrett was born on December 15, 1973 to the Reverend Doctor Charles David Barrett and Mrs. Sally Cross Barrett of Spartanburg, SC. A recent resident of New Palestine, IN, Reverend Barrett, whom most of his parishioners lovingly knew as “Pastor Chris,” lived most of his life in his native South Carolina, where he attended Boiling Springs High School and Wofford College. He received his Masters of Divinity from Duke Divinity School, where he met his wife, Elise Erikson Barrett. After graduating from Duke, Chris served United Methodist churches across the state, including St. John’s UMC, Blacksburg, Sardis UMC, Gaffney, Manning UMC, St. Andrews Parish UMC in Charleston, and St. James UMC, Spartanburg.

While at Wofford, Reverend Barrett was named the Presidential Scholar, an honor conferred to the student deemed Most Likely to Benefit Humankind. He used the opportunity to travel to fourteen countries to study the role of the church in the developing world. His passion for the church led him to serve creatively and faithfully in individual congregations, in the South Carolina United Methodist Conference, and in numerous international mission projects. His most treasured mission work occurred in Peru, where he traveled frequently to support the work of a local seminary. Reverend Barrett was a fourth generation United Methodist minister, and he enriched the lives of many with his warm pastoral caring.

During his 42 years, Reverend Barrett traveled to 38 countries and as many states. No matter where he was, he distinguished himself for his infectious laugh and joyful service to others. He participated in Salkehatchie regularly from the time he was a high schooler, and counted his experiences at those early camps as critical in his understanding of his call to serve. While still a student himself, he organized college students to spend spring break working on hurricane relief after Hugo.

Throughout his entire career, he built wheelchair ramps and roofed houses with equal enthusiasm, and with the hopes that God’s love would indeed be made visible in those acts of caring service.

Chris had a supple mind and loved discovering deep connections in his reading of scripture; at the same time, no one was fonder of a good, corny preacher joke to go along with the profound exegetical insights. He had a deep commitment to the lives of young people, working over a period of years to create a custom confirmation curriculum and accompanying many young saints on various retreats and trips. He was optimistic and creative in leadership, a good listener and mentor, and a caring shepherd. During his nearly four-year battle with lymphoma, he inspired hundreds of people by writing of his experience and sharing the lessons of faith that arose from his illness.

He was a devoted husband to his wife, Elise, of New Palestine, IN, and a loving father to his three children, Emma Ruth, Margaret Elisabeth, and Robert Erikson Barrett. He is survived by his parents, Charles David Barrett and Sally Cross Barrett of Spartanburg, SC; his mother- and father-in-law, Meg and Paul Niehaus; and his sister, Sandra Barrett Moore of Lexington, SC; brothers-in-law Thomas George Moore, Jr., James Erikson, and John Niehaus; and sisters-in-law Ashley Erikson and Taryn Niehaus. He will be dearly missed by his loved ones and friends, for he was a gift to all who knew him.

EDWINA JULIETTE WILLIAMS

May 25, 1949 – February 14, 2016

Life and Legacy

Edwina Juliette Williams was the elder daughter of the late Captain Edward Julius Williams (Tuskegee Air Force Pilot) and Mrs. Geneva B. Williams. In keeping with a family tradition of quiet social activism, she volunteered to be one of a very small group of African American students to integrate Orangeburg High School in the 1960’s. After graduating from OHS, she continued this peaceful resistance movement and helped to integrate Columbia College which at that time was an all-white women's institution of higher education. She followed in her Mother's footsteps and majored in music with an organ concentration at CC. As a staunch believer in life-long learning, she combined her interest in young people, social service and theology and received three post-graduate degrees: school counseling, Masters of Divinity and a Ph.D. in philosophy and theology.

Edwina was an avid reader of biographies/autobiographies, motivational/self-help, murder mysteries, period pieces and current events. She humorously boasted about reading more than two different genres simultaneously because she found the variety of material quite stimulating and challenging. She always had at least one book by her bedside, another book in the family den and still another in her purse. More importantly, Edwina used her passion for books and exploring the world through print to teach others, lead and participate in literacy classes with the Literacy Society. She spoke often of her volunteer work with the Orangeburg Public Library and felt very proud to be recognized for her commitment.

Edwina also had a great appreciation for arts and culture, particularly cultural expressions from the African diaspora. Not only was she very knowledgeable about African American history, she was just shy of being an expert on contributions and accomplishments of noted and not so noted people who made advancements for and because of their race. She was able to travel to Africa visiting various villages and exchanging stories and images of black people's struggles in the USA. On her first trip, she joined a delegation of progressive women committed to changing the status and opportunities for women internationally. She actively participated in grass roots movements while in East Africa promoting education, health care, and better human rights for women and children. During her second trip to West Africa, she joined an organized group of musicians, artists and writers from New York City to provide a cultural exchange forum between the USA and West Africa.

Edwina was able to think globally but act locally. She participated in many voter registration events sponsored by the NAACP and many political gatherings in South Carolina promoting equal and civil rights. She was very active with the local VFW and was a charter member of the Purple Heart Association. She was ardent about civic and social responsibilities and wanted to show unwavering respect and admiration for veterans also. Edwina was appointed by the former SC Governor to serve as one of two Orangeburg individuals on a state wide task force tackling chronic kidney disease and its implications for the residents of the state. Edwina was recommended for her unique perspective as a woman of color and her struggles with renal failure prior to receiving a successful kidney transplant.

As a trained musician, she not only played the organ at her local church, Trinity United Methodist, but also was the musician at other local churches, events and activities. She loved to sing and sang in her church choir throughout her life: the children's choir, the youth choirs and the young adult ensemble. She molded her musical talent to assist other young people learn to play musical instruments and fondly became identified as "the piano teacher." Due to creative and business acumen, she began a modest entrepreneurial endeavor as a musician.

Edwina was very loquacious; she liked to talk, debate issues, and speak publicly. While in elementary school at Christ the King, the Catholic nuns frequently referred to her as "mouth almighty and tongue everlasting." This neither deterred Edwina, dampened her confidence nor curtailed her verbal tenacity. Instead she made up a musical jingle using the nuns' phrase initially but with more maturity, she made a more appropriate use of her spoken dexterity by becoming a lay speaker with the United Methodist Church. She also used her verbal skills teaching religious studies at Orangeburg Calhoun Technical College, providing leadership in the American Business Women's Association, the United Methodist Women and working on various committees and events with her beloved sorority, Delta Sigma Theta. She was also an ordained minister of the South Carolina United Methodist Conference.

Edwina enjoyed keeping up with her friends and associates from childhood, high school and throughout her young adult years. She genuinely felt close and connected to all of them, remembering very detailed information about their successes and their triumphs. She was also very supportive during times of disappointment and distress. Edwina was an optimistic person and wanted people to have joy in their lives.

Edwina loved and was loved by her family. She followed many traditions and became a member of the Eastern Star as her maternal grandmother and mother had done. She was a terrific "older sister," teaching her younger sibling, Cherryetta, to play various board and card games, read, and dance. She gave sisterly advice (solicited and unsolicited) on "matters of the heart," strategies to be more direct, organized and precise in daily living, and how to be spiritually grounded, financially secure and logical in thinking. Edwina enjoyed discussing current events and interrogated her brother-in law about Haiti and global affairs. She was always curious about situations and circumstances and found talking openly to be self-soothing and enlightening. She maintained her family connections with her many aunts, uncles and cousins, remembering and acknowledging birthdays, anniversaries as well as attending family gatherings and celebrations. Edwina was very close to her Mother and they shared many years of living together laughing, enjoying dinner outings, travel, entertaining visitors and friends in the family home, and attending social, civic and religious events. Edwina was giving and extremely generous to her Mother whom she admired, respected and adored. She will be missed physically, but her life and legacy of love, service, good works, talents and sense of humor will be remembered.

RETIRED MINISTERS

EUGENE HOLLAND BEDENBAUGH

June 4, 1935 – February 16, 2016

The Reverend Eugene "Gene" Holland Bedenbaugh who was born on June 4, 1935 in Newberry County passed peacefully in his home in Easley, South Carolina on February 16, 2016 with his family by his side. He and his wife of fifty-seven years, Mary Helen Jackson Bedenbaugh, had three children Debbie Dawkins, Nancy Hughes and Janet Keen.

After Gene graduated from Britton's Neck high school in 1953 he earned a degree from Columbia Commercial College. He continued his education at the University of South Carolina where he earned a BA degree. It was during his years in college that he met Mary Helen Jackson at Main Street United Methodist Church in Columbia. He married Mary Helen in 1958 and began his career in ministry at Grace United Methodist Church in North Augusta, SC. After several years, he decided to continue his education and moved to Atlanta to attend Emory University. He graduated from Emory with a Master's degree in Christian Education in 1961 and became an Elder in the United Methodist Church in 1970.

Gene served at Main Street United Methodist in Greenwood, SC for four years before moving to Trinity United Methodist Church where he served for sixteen years as one of the only Ministers of Christian Education in South Carolina. During a time when Ministry of Education was groundbreaking, Gene embraced the challenge with enthusiasm for the Lord. Gene impacted lives of youth and adults by not only teaching them about Jesus but offering opportunities for Christian travels. He became well known throughout South Carolina for his yearly trips. It was his passion and joy to take those who couldn't travel on their own to see all of the U.S. and Canada concentrating on the natural world of God. On these trips, he started every day singing, "This is the Day that the Lord has made. Let us rejoice and be glad in it" followed by a devotional and prayer. Gene later served on staff at Berea UMC and Northside UMC in the Greenville area before settling in at Lauren's Road UMC as head pastor for seventeen years. When Gene retired from his beloved Lauren's Road UMC in 2000 they awarded him Pastor Emeritus.

Gene never sought accolades but left a different kind of legacy. Gene could have been a very successful businessman displaying a gift for finance and organization but he chose instead to love God's children and be a servant of the Lord. His offering was his mark on the lives of those he touched. He was a child of mercy and grace that reveled not in his own successes but gave God the glory at every opportunity. He was a self-effacing man who never put on airs; a man among men who related well to everyone as a brother and friend. As one pastoral friend put it upon Gene's passing, "I have lost a very special friend. He was unique in so many ways; a dedicated person of God and a jovial, loving, caring Christian, a sincere brother in the faith". Because of his gentle and free-loving nature, his kind of legacy is one that impacts the world. He truly spent his life making disciples of all men.

A service of worship and celebration of his life was held on February 20 at Lauren's Road United Methodist Church officiated by Reverend Laura Straton and Doctor John Miller. He was survived by his wife, three children and eight grandchildren who loved him dearly and miss the way he touched every moment with happiness and love for the Lord.

HARRY M. GOEWY

September 21, 1924 – June 15 2015

Dad was born in Ludlow, Massachusetts and actually left behind a "book of his life". In the book, were his thoughts and events that took place his entire life. It has been a blessing to experience life from his perspective. He married Betty Kellet from Fountain Inn, SC, and the ministry began. Dad was the preacher and mom (usually) the choir director.

As a small boy, I remember Dad taking in a family that needed food when he served in Florence SC and his acts of kindness were always abound for those he met. He served in the Conference in Greenville: Mountain View, Laurens Road, Berea Friendship; Florence: St Paul; Camden: Lyttleton Street; Columbia: Main Street; Lancaster: St. Luke and retiring in Whitmire SC.

Life was challenging moving "every four years" as a young adult, but both mom (Betty) and Dad worked very hard to make sure we were integrated into our new environment. I always looked at moving as a great adventure. You all know it is not easy being "the preacher's boy". Dad loved every congregation he served. After dad retired, he did a lot of wood working and we have several clocks and pieces of furniture that are now heirlooms to pass down generation to generation

In his teen years, Dad was drafted into the Army for WWII. I remember he told me it was his first time leaving home and he was scared to death. He was a true war hero as he served under Gen. Patton in the Normandy Invasion. In France he was a Corporal and was calling in artillery hits on German Tanks. He was hit by mortar fire and stayed the course through the evening. Because of his courage, the Army was successful at destroying the tank brigade and he received: The Bronze Star, Purple Heart, and Silver Star. After Dad passed, we found a book from his Army Division and his grandsons studied it intensely.

My mother, Betty, and Dad were so blessed to live together in the family home until he passed. Dad's heart was starting to fail, and mom cannot see, but together they made a great team. It was hard to believe that dad at 90 and mom at 94 were still enjoying life to the "nth degree". Mom called me that morning as she went to check on dad and he did not respond. I thank our Lord that Dad was at home and did not suffer as so many do.

Mom is doing extremely well for going on 96!! She is so full of energy. We have moved her into assisted living at The Springs in Simpsonville SC. She loves to talk about Dad and we have many pictures of him. I wanted to take the time to thank so many of you for being there for our family as Dad passed to eternity. We received so many cards and condolences from the entire Conference. A very special thanks to David Anderson of the Conference, who guided me through the entire process. Dad married David and his wife, and I never knew – again others that loved dad through his ministry. I know this is not your everyday Memoir but as his son, I wanted you to know he loved you ALL!!!

BETTY SUE GRIFFIN

August 22, 1932 – August 16, 2015

Betty Sue Griffin, the daughter of Dan and Tera Griffin was born in Barbour County, Alabama on August 22, 1932. She passed away peacefully in Spartanburg on August 16, 2015. She attended Troy State and received a Master's Degree in Christian Education from Emory University in 1956 and a Master's Degree in Education from the University of Oregon. Betty continued to pursue her love of learning with studies at Appalachian State, the Iliff School of Theology, Scarritt College and the Summer Institute on Christian-Marxist Dialogue in Graz, Austria. She became a Diaconal Minister and then was fully ordained as a deacon.

Betty started her ministry as a US-2 missionary at the Vashti School for Girls, served churches in Valdosta and Savannah and was Director of Christian Education for the South Georgia Conference. She was Chair of the Humanities Department at Andrew College before coming to Spartanburg Methodist College in 1977 where she served as Professor of Religion and in various other roles until her full retirement in 1998.

Betty helped her church, Central Methodist in Spartanburg, start a participatory worship group called Sacred Traditions and Rituals (STAR) that regularly brings together members of several denominations.

A friend once said "She has always stood up for the disenfranchised and the underdog. Betty may have been small in size but she would not back down if she believed in something or someone." She was an outspoken advocate of women, Native Americans and education among other causes.

In 2005 Betty received the Francis Asbury Award for Fostering Higher Education at the SC United Methodist Conference. In addition, she received numerous awards from the community and many professional organizations over the years.

She always delighted in the meaning of the Hindu greeting Namaste, "the light in me honors the light in you". Betty will be missed.

He received his Master of Divinity degree from Hood Theological Seminary in Salisbury, NC and was awarded the honorary Doctor of Divinity from School of Religion and Metaphysics in New York City.

Dr. Johnson was the recipient of numerous awards including Who's Who in South Carolina, Who's Who Outstanding Black Minister, and Phi Beta Sigma Man of the Year. WILLIAM RANDOLPH KINNETT

May 2, 1927 – August 14, 2015

The Reverend William Randolph "Bill" Kinnett joined the Church Triumphant on August 14, 2015. He was eighty-eight years old. "Bill" was born May 2, 1927, in Plum Branch, South Carolina, the son of Paul and Ollie Lee Powell Kinnett. He was a graduate of Spartanburg Methodist College and Furman University. His seminary training was at Emory University's Candler School of Theology receiving his Emory degree in 1951.

Bill was admitted On Trial in the South Carolina Conference in 1948 and received into Full Connection in 1952. His service as pastor to churches in the South Carolina Conference began as early as 1946. He served fourteen appointments in the South Carolina Conference among them, Mountain View-Few's Chapel; Bethany, Summerville; Clemson; Bethel, Chester; Cayce; Trinity, Greenville, and First Church, Lancaster. He served as Superintendent of the Marion District (1976-1982) under Bishops Edward L. Tullis and Roy C. Clark.

Bill was one of the prominent and outstanding leaders of the South Carolina Conference throughout a long career. He served on many conference boards and committees and had a keen insight into conference matters. Many sought out his counsel and advice. I had the privilege of succeeding him as Registrar of the Conference Board of Ordained Ministry in 1984 and always found him a helpful advisor and supportive colleague.

Bill was always very pensive and insightful. He would not be the first to speak on any matter; but when he did speak, generally everyone listened knowing the thought he had put into what he wanted to say. As a member of the Cabinet, he is credited with developing the "board" as a way to organize appointment-making in the conference. This was the beginning of the expression in the South Carolina Conference of "being on the board" which indicated a move.

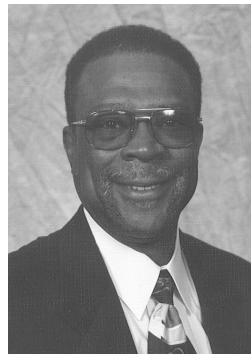

His last appointment was as Associate at Washington Street, Columbia. When hurricane Hugo swept into and through South Carolina in September, 1989, the conference asked Washington Street to allow him a leave from his duties there to serve as Coordinator of Disaster Relief for the Conference. He was considered one of the most knowledgeable persons in the conference for this task to which he gave effective leadership for many months. He retired in 1991 but continued to participate actively in Washington Street Church where his Memorial Service was held August 17, 2015, under the leadership of the Reverend Drs. William R. Childs and Paul W. Harmon.

He is survived by his wife of sixty-five years, Mary Alice McLaughlin Kinnett, and four children, Lee Frances Kinnett Newman, Paul McLaughlin Kinnett, Robert Forest Kinnett, and Mary Alice Kinnett Roberts. He was preceded in death by his parents and a son, William Randolph Kinnett, Jr.

GEORGE ALFRED MCCLENAN

June 22, 1947 – April 30, 2016

George Alfred McClenan was born in St. Stephen, South Carolina, June 22, 1947, to the Reverend Nathan McClenon and Mrs. Ethel Lee Warren McClenon. He was called to his Heavenly Home Saturday, April 30, 2016. George was preceded in death by both his parents, Reverend Nathan McClenon and Mrs. Ethel L. McClenon and his son, George Alfred II.

As a teenager, he often led prayers and devotions at church. He was a positive example and good role model for his peers at church, school, and in the community. George was joined in holy matrimony to Betty Middleton. In the mid 1970's he accepted God's calling to the ministry which challenged him to follow his heart on a spiritual journey. He did so with his wife and children by his side.

During the last 2½ years of his life, George dwelt with many medical issues but they did not deter him from mentoring to anyone. Whenever circumstances allowed him, his wife packed up his wheelchair and drove him to churches (far and near), District Meetings, the Annual South Carolina UM Annual Conference as well as family events.

George was a minister for over 40 years but pastored under the South Carolina Annual Conference for 36 years. In preparation for the ministry, he earned his Bachelor's degree from Claflin University, Orangeburg, South Carolina; he earned his Masters of Divinity from Gammon Theological Seminary, Atlanta, Georgia, and later his Doctor of Minister from Drew University in Madison, New Jersey.

Under the leadership of Bishop Edward Tullis, he was appointed to minister the following parishes: Edisto Fork Parish Orangeburg, SC; St James Parrish, York, SC; Bamberg Circuit, Bamberg, SC; and The Greer Circuit, Greer, SC. Under the leadership of Bishop Roy C. Clark, he was appointed to minister the Lake City Parish, Lake City, SC. Additionally, under the leadership of Bishop Joseph B. Bethea and Bishop Robert A. Spain, he was appointed to minister Edisto Fork Parish, Orangeburg, SC.

Finally under the appointment of Bishop J. Lawrence McCleskey, he was appointed to minister Cumberland United Methodist Church, Florence, SC, followed by his last appointment to Wesley United Methodist Church, Charleston, SC, where he retired in June 2012.

George has also served as mentor to young men and women who were striving to become ministers: Charles Wilson; Calvin Austin; Velma Heyward; Whitaker V. Middleton; Eddie Williams; and Ronald Lucas each of whom went on to become ministers of the SC United Methodist Conference.

During his ministry, George served on various Boards. Some of those included being the chairperson of the South Carolina Conference Board of Evangelism and chairperson of the South Carolina Annual Council of Ministry; each for a period of seven years. Until his passing he was serving on the Claflin University Board of Visitors, Orangeburg, SC and was a professor at the ITC Atlanta site in Florence, South Carolina.

George was also a proud member of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Inc. and St John Lodge #349, Prince Hall Free and Accepted Masons.

George was one of the most caring and compassionate persons you would have ever met. He will be remembered as one committed to serving the Lord; a loving son, a devoted husband; a wonderful father and grandfather; a dynamic brother; a person who was willing to give the shirt off his back; and a man of impeccable character that anyone who knew him sincerely call him a "Genuinely Fine Person". Even in adverse circumstances he was calm and serene. He will be remembered as the man with the "Big Smile".

EDWARD DONALD MCKINNEY

May 9, 1923 – December 4, 2015

The Reverend Edward Donald McKinney, son of Frank H. McKinney and Ruth Donald McKinney, was born in Donalds, South Carolina on May 9, 1923. He died at his home in Greenville, South Carolina on December 4, 2015, attended by all of his children.

Don was married to Juanita Abrams of Ware Shoals, South Carolina on August 18, 1946. She predeceased him in 1995. They had three children, Dr. Edward D. McKinney, Jr. of Rock Hill, Frank E. McKinney of Winnsboro and Donita McKinney Sims of Greenville.

His father was a rural school superintendent and it was always stressed that life is to be measured in what we can give to others. He volunteered for military service in World War II and served in 493rd Bomb Group of the 8th Air Force. He was honorably discharged in 1945.

He attended Spartanburg Methodist College and was graduated from Wofford College in 1961. He received additional education through Duke Divinity School.

Upon returning home from military service, he embarked on a successful career with Riegel Textile Corporation. However, a few years later, he received the call to full time Christian service and the ministry. He answered this call and never looked back. He began his ministerial service in Spartanburg and served churches in Hickory Grove, Lancaster, Winnsboro, Abbeville and Greenville. Throughout his ministry, he was known for his uplifting sermons and an attitude filled with optimism for life in general. He also developed and initiated programs for church youth throughout much of his ministry. Following his retirement, he continued to answer the call by serving numerous churches in various capacities. His former District Superintendent would jokingly remark that he served more churches after retirement than he did prior to 'ending' his career.

He served his community through numerous civic organizations and agencies. He strongly believed that these simply offered another avenue of service to others and another way to spread the love of God.

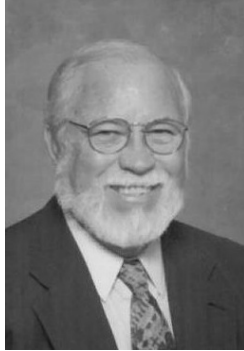

A Service of Celebration was conducted at Simpsonville United Methodist Church on December 8, 2015. Celebrants included Rev Joel Jones, Rev. George Riser and Rev. Gareth Scott. He is survived by his three children, their spouses, four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

His life and memory will always be cherished by those who loved him but we rejoice in knowing that he has heard the words, "Well done, good and faithful servant."

FRED M. REESE, JR.

September 18, 1927 – April 16, 2016

Rev. Fred M. Reese, Jr., was born in Tennessee, grew up in Atlanta and Columbia, served in the U.S. Navy, graduated from the University of South Carolina, earned a master's degree from Vanderbilt Divinity School, and was awarded an honorary doctorate from Claflin College. He was awarded fellowships to study at Harvard University in 1954 and 1970. For over four decades, he served as a pastor in the S.C. Conference and retired as a district superintendent in the Florence district. He was heavily involved with civil rights and social justice causes as well as church governance and ecumenical issues. Fred served four years as president of the S.C. Human Relations Council, an organization that focused on addressing racial inequity in the state. He moved from S.C. in 1998 with his wife Dorothy to Linville Falls, N.C., and served a local United Methodist parish for four years.

Bishop Jonathan Holston described Fred as a "trailblazer" who was "ahead of his time on issues of racial reconciliation and social justice." Indeed, his push for congregations to wrestle with the real issues in their communities sometimes put him at odds with parishioners who were all too comfortable with the status quo. He participated in numerous pulpit exchanges with African-American churches and cultivated connections with clergy from other denominations and faiths. His understanding of the social gospel compelled him to take political stands on racism, capital punishment, war, gender inequity, nuclear proliferation, and poverty.

According to Bishop Lawrence McCleskey, "Fred lived his entire life with an inquisitive and questioning theological mind, never content with over-simplistic and easy answers to the great questions of life and death." His questioning style made him a popular bible study leader and a thoughtful critic of the denomination's polity. He focused much of his critique on the politics of appointments and the perils of an inadequate consultation process.

"Fred had a career-long lover's quarrel with the church. He always expected more of the church than it demonstrated," McCleskey said. His frequent letters to the Advocate and appearances at Annual Conference underscored his commitment to strengthening the church and to examining evolving Methodist theology and organizational structure. "He kept at it – the task of reminding us that the church, at its best, is continually in the process of being formed – never complete, always in the process of becoming what God calls it to be," McCleskey said.

Fred cared deeply for his family, and for over a decade, he devoted himself to caring for his wife of 59 years, Dorothy, as she moved through her lengthy journey with Alzheimer's disease. He selflessly managed her medical and daily needs, kept her engaged in family gatherings and social outings, and made it possible for her to die peacefully at home in 2013.

Fred's style was marked by a "never met a stranger" warmth, a wide smile, and an easy laugh. He delighted in intimate one-on-one conversations and retained names, dates, and details of others' lives far longer than most.

Fred's final letter to the Advocate last month pushes leaders at this Annual Conference to avoid settling for easy, "non-controversial" actions and to engage in the challenging work of addressing institutional racism, supporting under-prioritized connectional ministries, addressing the need for equitable clergy compensation, and crafting a mission statement that articulates a socially-relevant direction for the conference. May those who want to honor Fred's life and ministry find the courage to act as visionaries, pioneers, coalition-builders, critics, caretakers, and ministers to all who live in need of advocacy, compassion and love.

– Jon Reese, Fred's youngest son

During his tenure at Duke, Smith served as Associate Dean of the Divinity School, as the Director of Graduate Studies in Religion, and in 1987, he was named the George Washington Ivey Professor of New Testament. Smith taught more than 2,000 divinity students and directed twenty-four Ph.D. dissertations. Among his former students are deans of theological schools, a college president, a bishop of the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church and a past president of the National Council of Churches.

In 1990, Davidson College conferred upon Smith an honorary Doctor of Letters degree, and, in 1993, Duke University named him the Scholar/Teacher of the Year. In 1996, his friends and students presented him a Festschrift, Exploring the Gospel of John in Honor of D. Moody Smith, edited by R. Alan Culpepper and C. Clifton Black. In 1999, Smith served as President of the Society of Biblical Literature, an association of more than 8,000 members in the United States and abroad. He was also a member of the International Society for New Testament Studies and the American Theological Society.

He is also survived by his four children, Cynthia Smith and her husband, Frank Reiss; Catherine Smith Meynardie and her husband, Robert Meynardie; David B. Smith and his wife, Deborah Camp Smith; and Allen Smith and his partner, Andrew Wilson. Additionally, Smith leaves behind six granddaughters: Hannah Mary Reiss, Juliana Cornwell Avery, Elizabeth Grace Meynardie, Isabella Jane Reiss, Mary Margaret Meynardie and Eleanor Jane Meynardie. His family will remember him for his quick wit, his abidingly kind nature, his passion for tennis, his dedication to social justice and his devotion to his family.

ALICE PATRICIA PADGETT

December 25, 1940 – September 26, 2015

When she left us, she left a big hole in our spirits. The span of her life seemed so short but she filled it with meaning as she cared for her flowers, painting, sewing, art and decorating. She found her deeper meaning as she gleaned from her friends and loved ones. Further back, she joined her husband, Clarence, in college and put him through college with her part time secretarial work for the college president and typing term papers for other students who could afford $2.50 for each term paper, 12-16 typed pages.

After her husband graduated in 1962, they left California to attend Wesley Seminary at the American University in Washington DC.

As we started life in seminary, we also started our family.

Our son, Glen Dixon Padgett, graduated from Wofford College and has made his career as a teacher and head football coach. He will retire in 2016. Glen has 2 daughters: Lindsay Beatrice Padgett just graduated college and her sister, Eryn Raye, is a rising junior in college.

Our daughter, Pamela Denise Padgett-Floyd, attended USC-Columbia, and USC at Spartanburg. She worked with a doctors group until she became disabled by Ehlers-Danlos syndrome, a rare disease that attacks ones vital organs. She must feed herself with a tube attached to her stomach. Pamela's son, Andrew, is an army ranger. Her daughter, Cameron Leigh Floyd, is a senior in high school.

Patty was a gracious lady and a blessing to all who met her.

Hazel taught pre-school and children's Sunday School in most all of the churches they served. She faithfully supported David's ministry while raising 5 children, and enjoyed being able to travel everywhere with him after the children were grown and "on their own".

At the conclusion of their formal ministry, David and Hazel moved to their retirement home on Epworth Camp Road East in Ninety Six, SC. Being able to live in "their" home was the fulfillment of one of their dreams. Many wonderful memories were made there as they opened their home to our growing family and to the many friends they "found" along their journey. The door was always open, and a meal would most likely be served so that everyone could gather around the table and enjoy Christian fellowship. There were no strangers in the Templeton home, because Hazel and David both had a special talent for making everyone feel like family.

Hazel made her final move to her Heavenly home on Saturday, January 16, 2016, at the age of 85. Surviving in addition to her husband are her daughters, Gail (Ronnie) Hitchcock of Abbeville, Jane Calhoun of Greenwood, and Lynn (Buddy) Rush of Hodges; a son, Scott (Kathy) Templeton of Pelion; a sister, Judy (Charles) Taylor of Fountain Inn; a brother, Jim (Peggy Jo) Abercrombie of Pelzer; a daughter-in-law, Holly Templeton of Greer; thirteen grandchildren and nineteen great-grandchildren. She was predeceased by a son, John Templeton.

AGNES DAWSEY ROGERS

April 30, 1917 – April 17, 2016

Earlier this year, surrounded by family and friends in Greenwood, South Carolina, Agnes Dawsey Rogers passed away. She was the wife of the late Rev. Dr. William F. Rogers, Jr.

Agnes was born in Birigui, Brazil on April 30, 1917 to American missionaries Rev. Cyrus Bassett Dawsey, later Bishop of Brazil and Ethel Sanders Dawsey, writer and teacher.

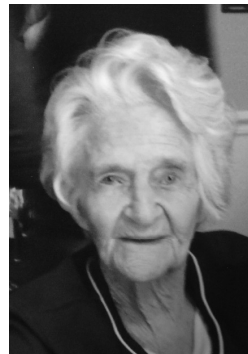

Agnes was educated at various schools in Brazil and at Peabody College in Nashville, Tennessee, where she would meet her future husband, Will.

In 1940, following a beautiful and relatively short courtship, Agnes and Will were married in Brazil, where they would serve as missionaries for over forty years. Together, Agnes and Will ministered to churches in Quarai, Carazinho, Santo Angelo, Cruz Alta, Fortaleza, Natal and Belem in Brazil; in Buffalo, Gilbert, Rehoboth and Dunean in the United States; and in Georgetown on the island of Saint Vincent, in the West Indies.

As a missionary, Agnes was the driving force in the founding of numerous medical clinics, churches, and schools. Aside from her work in the church, Agnes was an enthusiastic gardener and passionate cook. An avid reader in multiple languages, Agnes also loved storytelling and writing. She reared five sons and shared with them her deep appreciation for music and literature and especially her love of people. Her grandchildren and great-grandchildren were blessed to know her so well and to share in her abundant love.

Toward the end of her life, Agnes was lovingly cared for at the Brooks Howell Home in Asheville, at Wesley Commons in Greenwood, and during her final days, by the loving staff of the Hospice House of the Piedmont.

We are thankful to God for the life and witness of this wonderful lady. The positive influence she has had – and continues to have – on thousands of people, both in the United States and in South America, is a testament to her life and faith.

BERNICE MARTIN WRIGHT

January 17, 1931 – February 27, 2016

Bernice M. Wright was the wife of the late Rev. Harry E. Wright. Together they served in the Methodist church for over 40 years. Mrs. Wright was passionate about her faith in God and her Methodist Church roots. Through the years she served in many capacities at church, making lifelong friends and earning the respect and love of their congregants. She was a true example of God's love in action.

Another passion of Mrs. Wright's was her love of music, which she enjoyed sharing with countless people. Not only did she teach piano and organ lessons, but she also taught choir members to read music and learn harmony. Through the years she organized many recitals and choral cantatas.

Later in life Mrs. Wright pursued her dream of becoming a nurse. As a nurse, she was able to use her gifts of compassion and love as she worked with her patients. Later in her career, she found her true calling as a hospice nurse. She especially valued ministering to the needs of the patients and their families during this difficult time.

Mrs. Wright's family was perhaps her greatest love and passion. She and her husband were married for 53 years, and together, they raised three children – Brenda, Charles, and Connie. Her happiest times were those spent with their children and grandchildren, making family memories.

Her greatest gift to her family was leaving them with such a rich Christian legacy. Thanks for this blessing Mom!

Mary Jo Chreitzberg Reese Brodie, 96, died March 29 in Greenwood, S.C. She was married to the late Rev. David W. Reese Jr., with whom she had four children, and was later married to the late George H. Brodie. A lifelong Methodist, she was a pastor's wife for 47 years and loved talking about her faith and the history of Christianity.

Until recently, she was an avid reader and loved listening to classical music and watching baseball on television. Mrs. Brodie was born March 21, 1920, in Spartanburg, S.C., to the late Augustus M. Chreitzberg and Cerna Sitton Chreitzberg. She graduated from Spartanburg High School and Converse College in Spartanburg, where she was a member of the tennis team and studied English, history and Latin.

In 1942, she married Rev. Reese and, in her words, "began a longtime challenge of making a church- and home-life through many, many scene changes." The scenes included Navy postings in New York and Virginia as wife of a ship-based chaplain during World War II to ministerial postings in Greenville, Holly Hill, Rock Hill, Columbia and Lancaster, all in South Carolina. While raising their children, she was active in church work, Bible studies, garden clubs and as a community volunteer. The Reeses initially retired to Travelers Rest, later moving to Lake Junaluska, N.C., and in 1989 to Wesley Commons, a continuing care retirement community in Greenwood, S.C. Rev. Reese died there in 1990.

She married Mr. Brodie, also a Wesley Commons resident, in 1994. He died in 1998. Survivors include four children: Margaret (Peggy) Reese MacBean of Greenville; Anne Chreitzberg Reese Doyle of Easley, David A. (Gus) Reese of Falls Church, Virginia, and Mary Elizabeth (Beth) Reese Cravey of Orange Park, Florida; eight grandchildren; and ten great-grandchildren. A private graveside service was held at Few's Chapel United Methodist Church in Greer, S.C.
