Native American Elder Baskets

To show our support for the work of the Conference Committee on Native American Ministries, each charge is asked to create one elder basket to bring to AC2019.

Elder baskets are plastic clothes baskets filled with non-perishable items, which are given to older Native Americans in need – many of whom live well below the poverty line – to help them through particularly trying times.

Items requested: Canned soup, vegetables and fruit; dried beans, laundry soap, paper towels, toilet paper, and a small treat, such as peppermint or butterscotch candy.

Want to do more? The people of a charge also may purchase gift cards (Walmart, Dollar General, etc.) with which CONAM will buy additional supplies for additional “Elder Baskets.”
