

living the promise
through our connectional

GIVING

Campus Ministries

College isn't just about textbooks and exams.
It's a time when young adults ask big questions.

Questions about life, identity, purpose, and faith.
That's where Campus Ministries step in. On campus
and off, Wesley Foundations meet students where they are – building relationships, sharing Christ's love, and
walking alongside them in a season of deep discovery.

Campus ministries create space for students to grow
spiritually, emotionally, and in connection through weekly worship, small groups, service projects, and one-on-one mentoring.

living the
promise
through our connectional

GIVING

Campus Ministries

College isn't just about textbooks and exams.
It's a time when young adults ask big questions.

Questions about life, identity, purpose, and faith.
That's where Campus Ministries step in. On campus
and off, Wesley Foundations meet students where they are – building relationships, sharing Christ's love, and
walking alongside them in a season of deep discovery.

Campus ministries create space for students to grow
spiritually, emotionally, and in connection through
weekly worship, small groups, service projects, and
one-on-one mentoring.

But none of this connection happens without your support through apportionment giving.

Your prayers, your presence, your giving – through apportionments and direct giving – they help our Wesley Foundations and Fellowships stay rooted on campuses across the state.

When you give to campus ministries, you're investing in transformed lives, emerging leaders, and a stronger church for generations to come.

Learn more about how our apportionment giving connects us at umcsc.org/giving.

But none of this connection happens without your support through apportionment giving.

Your prayers, your presence, your giving – through apportionments and direct giving – they help our Wesley Foundations and Fellowships stay rooted on campuses across the state.

When you give to campus ministries, you're investing in transformed lives, emerging leaders, and a stronger church for generations to come.

Learn more about how our apportionment giving connects us at umcsc.org/giving.