

BEST PRACTICES for in-person gatherings

Guidance for Responding to Attendee Reporting Positive COVID-19 Test

- 1) At every church event – including worship – announce that anyone present should notify the church immediately if they test positive for COVID-19 within the next five days.
- 2) Upon being notified of a positive test by an attendee, provide a courtesy notification to church members. That should include:
 - Advising that someone who attended has tested positive for COVID-19.
 - Recommending that each person monitor themselves for symptoms.
 - If symptoms occur, recommending testing and notifying the pastor of the test results.

Revised March 1, 2022

To keep up-to-date on the latest guidance, go to the CDC's COVID-19 webpage.